AUDITOR'S REPORT.

Hon Winfield T. Durbin, Governor of Indiana:

Sir—I have the honor to herewith submit for your examination the report of the Auditor of State for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1902, giving in detail the fiscal affairs of the State, with an elaborate showing of receipts and disbursements and exhaustive tabulations reviewing abstracts of county assessments and settlements; valuable data, associated with tax levies, duplicates; and all features associated with the assessment, collection and disposition of public revenues. I have also submitted extended reports of the insurance, land, building association, banking and trust bureaus, with suggestions as provided by statute, that in my judgment would be of benefit to the people in strengthening the law as to the efficiency of these agencies of public utility.

ACCOUNTING DEPARTMENT.

There is now levied for State purposes an aggregate tax of $29\frac{2}{3}$ cents on each \$100. Of this amount, nine cents is for the General Fund, and five cents for the Benevolent Institution Fund. From the levies in these funds combined come to the State all the taxes that are, or can be used for the general expense of the State, and said taxes amounted last year to \$2,018,748.50. The levy for school purposes is 11 cents on the \$100, and the taxes resulting are distributed pro rata among the different counties, according to the numeration of school children. This tax aggregated last year \$1,639,644.35. The specific levy of three cents on each \$100 for payment on the public debt amounted to \$405,413.35, and was immediately applied to the purposes of its collection. The Educational Institution tax of one and two-thirds cents on each \$100, amounted to \$225,346.02, and was distributed as the law provides:

40 per cent. to the Indiana University, 30 per cent. to the State Normal School, and 30 per cent. to Purdue University.

The tax duplicates of the State amount to $1,397,981,497. The amount of delinquent tax is $2,633,499.51. There can be no legitimate reason to justify such a large delinquency. In this season of universal prosperity, if taxes can not be collected, there must be some radical wrong, proceeding from local causes. It is manifestly a very grave injustice to the taxpayers who meet these contributions for the operating expenses of government, that such a large per cent. of their neighbors are permitted to either go scot-free, or do indifferently, and often inadequately, what should be the very first patriotic duty of good citizenship. Thousands of dollars are absolutely lost, by either going off the duplicates through insolvency, or the removal of delinquents to other locations. The Legislature recently endeavored to cure this wrong by increasing the treasurer's fees two per cent., but still the evil exists, and in my judgment, because of the lack of heroic enforcement of the present laws. Here and there over the State are instances of what can be done—notably in Marion county. The Treasurer of Fayette county in one township only had $75 in delinquency. I believe the State Tax Commissioners are delegated powers by the statute to supervise delinquent taxes in the different counties, but if additional legislation is necessary, it ought to be supplied, to the end that these omissions of public duty and omissions of tax payments should cease. The continued low aggregate of personal property values is again called to public attention. The bank statements of personal deposits in Indiana, when contrasted with the “amount of money on hand or deposit,” returned by the taxpayer is a forceful indictment of the truth of the assessment lists as a whole, and when the other property of this class is added, it can readily be seen that at least fifty per cent. of the personal values of the Commonwealth is untaxed. Since tithing and taxation have had a history, the effort has been to cure this evil, and yet the solution has not been reached. The yearly conference of County Assessors with the State Board of Tax Commissioners has introduced uniformity into the valuations of farm and other tangible personal values, but money, notes, bonds, bank deposits, while to a gratifying degree have been brought from hiding, still even with this united and earnest effort through misrepresentation, largely remain in seclusion. The exemption through perjury of such an aggregate of personal valuations, necessarily causes a higher levy on the property honestly returned, besides destroying the equality of taxation, which is the first principle of political economy. A more vigorous prosecution of the tax dodger for perjury might be at least a healthy sporadic remedy. The regular assessment of real estate next year should add very materially to the duplicate. The increase in values in some counties has been fifty per cent., and in every county and city there have been substantial advances. I should think $1,000,000 would be a conservative estimate of the added values that may be expected with next year's total assessment and equalization.

The maintenance cost of the State institutions, notwithstanding the increased prices of many articles entering into consumption, has been within the appropriations, and there will be no deficits for the Legislature to provide for. The cost of excess population above the basis fixed for the regular maintenance appropriations in the larger institutions was $43,302.11; the uniform accounting system of debits and credits from purchase to consumption, the competitive plan of buying with discounts for cash, the cultivation of the ground and the raising of stock where institutions have farm lands, has lessened the cost of vegetables, meats, potatoes and milk, quite perceptibly, and is manifest in the excellent comparison of per capita with the years past. I believe a very decided saving could be had by purchasing supplies for all the State institutions in one competitive bid, on the general plan adopted by the Government in the buying of army subsistence. The State is a cash customer, it is the largest concentrated consumer, and if all its wants in all its varied lines of maintenance supplies were combined, the competition would be contested more closely and the interest of dealers more general. The delivery of supplies would be a mere incident and the stock objection to a central system of purchase, because of the imagined troubles over delivery, would not be held worthy of serious consideration.

In making specific appropriations, I would respectfully suggest, especially in the erection of new buildings, that there be no room for doubt in framing the intention of the Legislature. I have endeavored to apply the same construction upon appropriations in this regard, as pertain to general usage in private business, but to avoid controversy and prevent imposition upon the State, exactness of detail should be used in all specific appropriations, especially.

THE STATE'S FINANCES.

The minutiae of detail in this report need not be repeated in this general statement of the State's finances. During the past year the General Government has paid $635,859.20, the amount due on account of interest and discounts growing out of the fiscal operations of the State in providing for the equipment and maintenance of our soldiers during the Civil War. Indiana is the only State that was at no expense, as the claim was prepared after weeks of research, detail and verification, by Geo. U. Bingham, Building Association Inspector of this office, and presented and prosecuted by Attorney-General Taylor and Mr. Bingham before the Treasury Department, to a successful conclusion. The Indiana delegation in Congress, and the Governor of Indiana are deserving of special commendation for their efforts in securing the payment of this war expenditure. This large amount was immediately applied on the $1,000,000 payment of the public debt that was made July 18th last. There is yet due from the Government, on account of the expense of the Spanish War, $21,966.46. This sum can not be collected without additional legislation by Congress. Every dollar of this amount was authorized by the Secretary of War, the immediate exigency was largely a proper care for the soldiers returning to be mustered out of service, yet the accounting department of the Government has refused reimbursement, for lack of specific law. The fidelity to proper accountings in conformity to the "Mull" law, and the statutes of 1901 specifically pertaining to the State's institutions, are strictly observed in all disbursements, and the integrity of all appropriations preserved.

Payments on the public debts have been made as follows:

January 3, 1901, 3 per cent. Refunding Bonds	$200,000 00
June 29, 1901, 3 per cent. Refunding Bonds.....	300,000 00
January 2, 1902, 3 per cent. Refunding Bonds.....	317,000 00
July 26, 1902, 3 per cent. Refunding Bonds	1,000,000 00
Total	$1,817,000 00

It is probable $200,000 additional can be applied January 1st. The amount of the public debt is as follows:

3 per cent. School Fund Refunding Bonds, with option clause, redeemable at the pleasure of the State	$1,313,000 00
3½ per cent. Temporary Fund Bonds, redeemable after 1910.	1,085,000 00
Purdue University, 5 per cent.....	340,000 00
Indiana University, 5 per cent.....	144,000 00
State Stock Certificate	5,615 12
Total.....	$2,887,615 12

It will be seen there is only $1,313,000 of debt bearing the option clause, and with no excessive appropriations, this can easily be paid during the term of the present Executive. It would be better to pay a slight premium if necessary, and take up the $1,085,000 not redeemable until 1910, permitting the option bonds to run, and thus wipe out all of the State debt within four years. The three per cent. specific debt levy realizes about $400,000 yearly, and this with the surplus from fees and taxes to the general fund will readily meet all of the State's obligations in four years if the 1910 bonds can be purchased. There should be no reduction of the State tax levy. The debt paying record has not been at the expense of a proper care of the State's needs in any direction. The growing demands of our institutions have been generally met. A continuance of the present tax levy will supply ample revenues for the necessities of a State increasing as is Indiana, and keep our institutions on their present level of excellence. The levy is one of the lowest of any State in the Union, and would not be ample were it not for the condensed system of government free as it is from cumbersome bureaus, and the salary basis of State officials, which this year turned near $50,000 of fees in the public treasury.

BUILDING ASSOCIATION DEPARTMENT.

The reports of the building associations of the State show that during the year their assets have increased $725,739.14. This is the first year since 1896 that there has not been a falling off in the volume of business. This gain means much more than figures indicate for it must be remembered that these reports include 112 less associations than the 1896 report when the high water mark in the history of these institutions was reached. In addition there is included the reports of 29 associations which are in liquidation and consequently are diminishing their business. There are also perhaps a dozen more associations which, while not in formal liquidation, are practically winding up their business.

In addition to this gain in volume of business, there has been an increase in loans of $1,100,748.04, and a decrease in real estate held of $256,198.59. The increase in dues, prepaid and paid-up stock and deposits has been $662,960.94.

A study of these reports will show that they are again becoming popular and regaining the confidence they enjoyed prior to the days of their promotion for the purpose of accumulating a large expense fund to be divided among managers at the cost of safe methods and careful investments.

In the past few years many of these associations have fast been growing away from the original plan and gradually assuming the nature of a banking business. It is true that stock is still issued but fixed payments of dues, as a rule, is no longer required.

Both investing and borrowing members are permitted to make payments, large and small, as they see fit and earnings are apportioned in the amount of their credits at dividend periods. Withdrawals of part or all of their deposits is permitted and the question of maturity of stock is seldom considered. The only evil result of these new methods is that the borrower grows careless in the amount of his payments and disappointment results after years of paying interest when he finds that his principal is so slightly reduced.

The practice of receiving deposits, in place of issuing stock, is also growing though it is believed without authority of law. If without authority then the status of depositor, in case of insolvency is in doubt. The law should either directly authorize these deposits and fix the conditions of their receipt and withdrawal, or prohibit the practice in positive language.

From the beginning these institutions have made a practice of borrowing money when the demand for loans made it necessary and profitable. The right to do this is not included in their corporate powers, and it is a question under the building and loan plan as originally practiced whether this is a necessary incident to the business so that the power might be implied.

In view of the changing conditions of this business and to enable these institutions to occupy their sphere as the people's savings bank, additional legislation for their guidance and protection should be had.

I suggest that laws be passed authorizing, first, the making of definite contracts with each individual borrower so that fixed payments at definite periods for a fixed time will cancel his loan. Second, that the power to receive deposits be given. But this should not be granted until the law is so changed that there is not only a moral but a financial responsibility on the part of the management. The savings bank law requires that a person competent to serve as a trustee shall own unincumbered real estate with at least $5,000 exclusive of perishable improvements. This much should be required of directors in building associations receiving deposits. And in addition their responsibility for mismanagement should be declared. The courts have recently held directors in banks responsible for their management, in addition to their responsibility as shareholders, and this theory should be incorporated in any change of law. The depositor should participate in the profits rather than permit fixed interest rates.

Third, the power to borrow money, if properly restricted should be given. It is at times a distinct advantage to these associations to borrow temporarily to meet the demands for loans. But it is only for such purposes that borrowing money should be permitted. This would under existing conditions be seldom necessary. There is a necessity in this State for institutions receiving small deposits and the making of loans in the building and loan plan. Trust companies and savings banks are filling the field so far as deposits are concerned, and they can not make the loans on the small margin of security that a building and loan association does. For this reason these associations should be encouraged but the law should not be so liberal as to offer inducements for the ignorant, incompetent or dishonest to engage in the business.

The Auditor of State should also be given authority to make periodical examinations of these associations. There can be no complete supervision without this power. No system of reports can be made so complete that it will tell the truth if it is the purpose to hide the truth. An inspection of the books and a knowledge of affairs that can only be gained by a personal visitation by competent accountants is necessary if it is the intention to give the broad protection to which the patrons are entitled. This authority is given in the case of banks and trust companies. Why should it be denied in these institutions?

Building associations in Indiana received a body blow in the failure and liquidation of several of the larger "State" organizations, that through mismanagement and excessive expenses, proved a serious source of disappointment and financial loss to the stockholders. The building association law has always needed safeguards for the investors and a Westinghouse brake on management, so far as associations that launched out into extended territory for clientage. The local associations, those that have the letter and spirit and self-help which are per se the all-in-all of these beneficent institutions, have almost universally been of very great advantage, many towns and cities of the State, being communities where the percentage of people owning their own homes is much above the average. If the present law could be broadened along lines indicated, with comprehensive provisions of safety plainly expressed, with a supervision and power to correct evils or excesses, I believe the revival of interest noted from the reports would continue and the great advantage of these institutions be more generally adopted by the many whose small savings are the dependence and hope for homes of their own.

LAND DEPARTMENT.

The very prosperous condition of the country reflected, as it has been by advancing prices for farm lands and desirable town lots, has resulted in the State being able to close out a very great deal of property that had accumulated through the foreclosure of College and Permanent Endowment Fund mortgages. There is but a very light holding of such property now in the possession of the State. The low interest rates have resulted in inability to make loans of the College Fund, so that a large per cent. of the fund is lying unused in the State Treasury. It is almost impossible with the current ruling rates for interest to loan this fund at 6 per cent., and at the increased amount of any one loan authorized by the Legislature of 1901. I believe it would be to the best interest of the Indiana University if a statute was passed authorizing the distribution of this fund as fast as collected to the different counties of the State, on the same basis as is now authorized in the distribution of the Permanent Endowment Fund. This method would give to the University a steady income from interest, and enable the money to be loaned in the different portions of Indiana.

During the past year, under authority conferred by the statute, the Governor has had surveyed the meander lands in the Kankakee region in Starke, Jasper and Porter counties. The survey was made under the direction of Hon. Geo. D. Parks, of Lafayette, and is most complete in every way, giving the lines of original Government survey with the tracings since the time of that survey, caused by the recession of the waters of the Kankakee. Maps and blueprints are on file in the Land Department of this office, and such have been furnished to the General Executive's office and the office of the Attorney-General. The further relation of the State to these lands as to titles and ultimate disposition is one that may require future legislation, and certainly will necessitate a great deal of care and thought on the part of the State authorities, to the end that the equities involved may be justly and properly guarded.

In the matter of foreclosure of mortgages, should any have to be made in the future, I would suggest the practice of having sales made by the Auditor and Treasurer of State be superseded by regular foreclosure in the county courts where the land may be located. I believe this step would be advisable in order that an additional personal judgment may be taken supplementary to that rendered with the closing of the mortgage.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

There are now one hundred and fourteen State banks. During the year there have been thirteen new banks organized, one retired from business and two reorganized. There are five savings banks, that number being the sum total from year to year for many years past. Our laws are not considered as liberal toward the organization of savings banks as most States, yet the banks of this class now doing business are very large ones, have substantial deposits, prosperous and universally are managed well. The trust companies are coming into gradual use as institutions for savings, the difference being that depositors get an agreed per cent. for a specified time, while in savings banks depositors share in profits. Five sworn statements are required from the State banks each year, and examinations are made by the State Bank Examiner at least once each year. The financial condition of the banks is most excellent; deposits are of large volume, probably the largest in the aggregate ever known, while the bills receivable show conservative judgment, but at a lessening rate of interest. I recommend that the law be so amended that the organization of collateral branch banks would not be possible. The present statute is silent on this subject. Latterly propositions have been considered looking to the formation of parent banks and then the establishment of branches collateral to it. I believe this would be unfortunate either as an experiment or settled purpose. It opens the door to a species of inflation that reaches out for business at the expense of those essential factors of safety, conservatism and public confidence. The statute should be more clear and definite as to the reduction of capital stock, and also as to the provision giving the Auditor of State power to sell stock of shareholders, when amounts are not paid, in that it is indefinite where accruing money should be applied. I renew my recommendation that private banks be required to regularly publish statements of condition, and be subject to supervision. I believe the law should also require each private bank to have a capital stock. There are at present thirty-seven trust companies, five new ones having been organized during the past year and one retired from business. Without exception the statements and the examinations of these corporations show a flourishing condition. They are acting as receivers and the executors and administrators of estates to an increasing extent, and will ultimately have all of these trusts for supervision. It is the business way to handle these responsibilities, and the courts usually are pleased to have them selected. The law should express itself clearly as to the right of trust companies to do a commercial or semi-banking business. Gradually some are crossing the deadline and are certainly getting beyond their powers. As a depository of savings they are supplying the frugal with a responsible agency to accumulate surplus earnings at a rate of interest that impresses habits of economy by object lessons expressive of the earning power of money.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

The wonderful growth of the insurance interests of the State can be read most profitably in the exhaustive reports and tabulations as to the business in all its details. There is no public utility that more intimately interests all the people than does insurance in some one of its varied forms. The recommendations urged two years ago are pertinent yet, and the Legislature should take action by the incorporation into law of at least a portion of the suggestions therein made.

The prosecution of irresponsible insurance companies has been steadily kept up, and so successfully that the State is practically free from "wild-cat" organizations. The business of irresponsible insurance in Indiana is now done by soliciting through the mails, or else dodging in and out of the State before the officers of the law can get service on the guerilla agents. The assessment law of 1883 affords a retreat for several life companies that do everything but an insurance business, the odious character of which is not creditable to Indiana. I suggest an affirmative statute be passed that will positively repeal the law altogether, and give supervisory powers to the Auditor of State over the life companies now unfortunately authorized. Since the last report the Reserve Loan Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis and the Liberal Life Insurance Company of Anderson have reincorporated under the provisions of the legal reserve compulsory deposit law of 1899. There are now six companies doing business under this most commendable statute, with an aggregate deposit of net cash values with this department amounting to $1,283,000.

The receipts of the Insurance Department for the fiscal year past are the largest of record, aggregating for licenses, taxes, examinations, certificates, etc., $294,103.65. I regret to report the legislative appropriation for an actuary is insufficient to secure a permanent appointee competent for the very important duties of the place. It will be necessary, in order to secure a skilled and experienced person to increase the salary to $2,500 per annum. The actuary guards the entry into the State of all companies, for the reason that his expert knowledge is essential in the examination of statements, literature, organization and valuation of policies. There never was a time when closer scrutiny was required, because of the ingenuity that veneers the many organizations in their subtle efforts to conceal real financial conditions or hedge contracts with clauses reeking with subterfuge and deception.

I recommend that the further organization of life assessment companies be prohibited. The system as applicable to regular life indemnity has been and must ever be a failure. The history of insurance in this State particularly, and every other State generally, is too largely one of persistent receiverships and bankruptcy for organizations based on this purely illusive scheme. A life insurance certificate is the most sacred contract that can be written. It is the provision for the future of family and loved ones; a portion of the treasury of hope and contentment. There should not be standing room in any statute for organizations of experiment, or a paragraph in any law permitting the slightest departure from the approved mathematics of actuarial skill reinforced by tables and loadings of experience. The losses and disappointments of assessmentism as applied to life indemnity have come home to so many thousands that its field narrows as the years come and go, its most serious impositions now being upon those who are deceived by misrepresentation or attracted by bargain-counter inducements.

The fraternal insurance laws of the State are framed in accordance with the suggestion of the National Fraternal Congress, and incorporate not only the safeguards of the minimum statute, but also the provisions of what is known as their uniform bill. The fraternities are furnishing the temporary indemnity that so many thousands of our people can only afford, and the very substantial benefits paid annually are practical object lessons of the beneficent mission they supply. Time and the unerring mortuary experience that is inherent to life indemnity has demonstrated the insufficiency of rates based on the theory "of a reserve in the pocket," and so there has been a recasting of charges in a number of the older organizations to remedy this defect. Fraternal insurance is so generally and so uniformly tentative in character that with our statutes and with proper supervision, the barnacles can be closely scraped off and the worthy organizations authorized year by year.

The fire insurance situation is better this year than last so far as relates to a lessening of losses. The ash-heap is not so large in Indiana nor in the country generally. The fires are, however, above normal, and, so long as this continues, there is not much daylight in prospect with which to view a reduction of tariffs. The companies have all had discouraging and costly experiences for three years, and, with the high rates, have barely made Saturday night reach over until Monday morning. A number of States are taking effective cognizance of this serious situation and are passing fire marshal laws modeled after the Massachusetts statute. The uniform result of these laws is to reduce the number of fires, curtail losses, build up more effective municipal protection, and penitentiary incendiaries and the practitioners of arson. I again recommend the enactment of a fire marshal bureau, and a provision in the general law requiring all property to be kept in an insurable condition; this latter suggestion would cure the causes of many fires that, from defective insulation of applied electricity, from spontaneous combustion, etc., are ascribed to "unknown causes."

During the past year the State has successfully placed in the hands of a receiver that vicious fraud, "The Lincoln Insurance and Banking Company of Hammond." It had a national reputation as a "wild-cat" and was a disgrace to Indiana. Although advertising attractive assets, the receiver so far has not been able to find a dollar. It was an alias for one of the old special charter organizations.

I recommend that all doubt as to the right of examination and supervision of special charter companies be removed by the enactment of a new statute, with no defect in title or body of the law, to defeat the right of every citizen of the State to officially know the financial standing of any company soliciting the business of the public. An insurance company that protests against departmental supervision or publicity of financial standing advertises a condition that should be prohibitory of any sort of public confidence or support.

I renew my recommendation of two years ago that all companies be required to make their financial statements annually, instead of semi-annually, and that agents' certificates be issued for the current calendar year. The statute passed embodying this recommendation was found to be unconstitutional after the adjournment of the Legislature of 1901, because of a legal defect associated with the character of the amendment it superseded.

During my term of four years I have collected and paid into the State Treasury fees and taxes from insurance companies under the law amounting to $1,003,932. I have, without fear or favor, enforced the law against irresponsible and illegal insurance and all other classes of corporations within the duty of the Auditor of State, to the end that the public should have, as far as possible, relief from the impositions that are continually sought to be practiced under guises of most attractive deception, and which only the heroic enforcement of law can prevent. I have sought not only to protect the public against corporations that can not or do not do a legal and solvent business, but also protect the authorized corporations that do comply with law, and fulfill obligations. There is a masterful talent continually employed in devising illusive and seductive schemes for the swindling of the public. At no time was there ever as many so-called "co-operative investment companies," "Home Buying Companies," "Tontine Investment Companies," and a thousand and one combinations of alleged insurance, savings and investment organizations, pregnant with loss and disappointment to those who are unfortunate investors as at present. Solicitation for these schemes is effected in Indiana through the mails, because of the vigorous prosecution of the law, but our present statutes should be amended to keep apace with the subterfuge employed by these corporations to evade present statutes.

I publicly thank the attaches of the office—Mr. Frank Martin, Deputy Auditor of State; Mr. Cyrus W. Neal, Chief Insurance Department; Mr. J. A. McEwen, Actuary; Mr. Léopold G. Rothschild, Chief Banking and Land Departments; Mr. George U. Bingham, Building Association Examiner and Expert; Mr. Oliver G. Parker, Chief Bookkeeper and Settlement Clerk; Mr. Thomas M. Milliken, Bank Examiner; Miss Nellie Moore, Assistant Clerk Insurance Department; Miss Nellie Johnson, Stenographer, for their faithful and efficient services in the discharge of duty well done. Most of the above persons have served with me during my four years' term, and each has filled the full measure of requirement in efficiency, faithfulness and industry.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS FOR YEARS 1904 AND 1905.

In accordance with law, the following estimate is made of the probable receipts to the State Treasury, and the disbursements therefrom, for the years 1904 and 1905:

RECEIPTS.

In estimating the receipts for these years, I assume that the amount of the duplicate, the rate of the tax levy, the percentage of delinquent taxes, and the aggregate of fees collected by the different State officers, together with the earnings and income of the various State institutions, will remain about as at the present time. It is altogether probable that the duplicate will be largely increased next year, and, if so, the estimate below made for the year 1905 will fall below the receipts to the State Treasury. I have undertaken to be conservative in every item, and feel assured that the receipts will exceed the estimate.

The total taxable property of the State for the year 1902, and upon which the taxes for the year 1903 will be extended, is $1,436,305,524; the amount of the mortgage deductions claimed for the year is $41,088,884, which leaves a net tax duplicate, upon which taxes will be assessed, of $1,395,216,640. Assuming this to be the duplicate for the years 1904 and 1905, the tax levied for the General Fund of the State Treasury, at the rate of 9 cents on every $100 of property, would be $1,255,694. Assuming that 5 per cent. of these taxes can not be collected, the total amount accruing to the fund would be $1,191,909. The total number of persons in the State subject to poll tax for the year is 438,198. Taking this as a basis, the amount of poll tax placed upon the duplicate for the General Fund would be $219,099. Assuming that 65 per cent. of this tax is collected, we have $142,414 accruing to the fund. In addition to these amounts, there will probably be $50,000 delinquent tax carried over from the old duplicate and collected during the year. Adding the amounts $1,191,909, $142,414 and $50,000, we have a total income to the General Fund of $1,384,323.

In addition to this, this fund will receive the tax accruing from the levy of 5 cents on every $100 for the Benevolent Institutions of the State. Taking the taxable property, $1,395,216,640, and making calculations at the rate of 5 cents on every $100, we have a total levy for this fund of $697,608. Assuming that 95 per cent. will be collected, we have an income of $663,027. To this should be added $17,000 of probable delinquency that is carried from the old duplicate, and which can be collected during the year, which makes a total of $680,027, probable receipts to the fund. This added to the $1,384,323, makes a total of $2,064,350 receipts from taxation.

Adding to this amount the following probable receipts:

- $410,000—Collections by Officers.
- 120,000—Earnings of Institutions.
- 60,000—Receipts from counties on account of clothing on inmates in State Institutions.
- 40,000—On account of Government Aid, State Soldiers' Home.
- 10,000—Miscellaneous Collections.

Or a total—$640,000

we have a grand total of $2,704,350 probable receipts to the General Treasury of the State.

DISBURSEMENTS.

It is understood that the following estimate of disbursements does not include any specific appropriations to be made by the present Legislature, but is based solely upon the running expenses of the State Government, as shown by the appropriation acts now in force. It is also to be noticed that no estimate for repairs in the various Institutions is made. This is omitted in view of the fact that the statute now provides for the appointment of a committee to visit the various State Institutions, in connection with the Governor, to ascertain the necessities of the Institutions, and report the same, with recommendations, to the Legislature.

Building and Loan Association

.. 1902 ..

W. H. HART,

Auditor of State.

L. G. ROTHSCHILD, Chief Clerk.

BUILDING ASSOCIATION DEPARTMENT.

The reports of the building associations of the State show that during the year their assets have increased $725,739.14. This is the first year since 1896 that there has not been a falling off in the volume of business. This gain means much more than figures indicate, for it must be remembered that these reports include 112 less associations than the 1896 report, when the high water mark in the history of these institutions was reached. In addition there is included the reports of 29 associations which are in liquidation and consequently are diminishing their business. There are also perhaps a dozen more associations which, while not in formal liquidation, are practically winding up their business.

In addition to this gain in volume of business, there has been an increase in loans of $1,100,748.04, and a decrease in real estate held of $256,198.59. The increase in dues, prepaid and paid-up stock and deposits has been $662,960.94.

A study of these reports will show that they are again becoming popular and regaining the confidence they enjoyed prior to the days of their promotion for the purpose of accumulating a large expense fund to be divided among managers at the cost of safe methods and careful investments.

In the past few years many of these associations have fast been growing away from the original plan and gradually assuming the nature of a banking business. It is true that stock is still issued but fixed payments of dues, as a rule, is no longer required.

Both investing and borrowing members are permitted to make payments, large and small, as they see fit and earnings are apportioned in the amount of their credits at dividend periods. Withdrawals of part or all of their deposits is permitted and the question of maturity of stock is seldom considered. The only evil result of these new methods is that the borrower grows careless in the amount of his payments and disappointment results after years of paying interest when he finds that his principal is so slightly reduced.

The practice of receiving deposits, in place of issuing stock, is also growing, though it is believed without authority of law. If without authority, then the status of depositor, in case of insolvency, is in doubt. The law should either directly authorize these deposits and fix the conditions of their receipt and withdrawal, or prohibit the practice in positive language.

From the beginning these institutions have made a practice of borrowing money when the demand for loans made it necessary and profitable. The right to do this is not included in their corporate powers, and it is a question under the building and loan plan as originally practiced whether this is a necessary incident to the business so that the power might be implied.

In view of the changing conditions of this business and to enable these institutions to occupy their sphere as the people's savings bank, additional legislation for their guidance and protection should be had.

I suggest that laws be passed authorizing, first, the making of definite contracts with each individual borrower so that fixed payments at definite periods for a fixed time will cancel his loan. Second, that the power to receive deposits be given. But this should not be granted until the law is so changed that there is not only a moral but a financial responsibility on the part of the management. The savings bank law requires that a person competent to serve as a trustee shall own unincumbered real estate with at least $5,000 exclusive of perishable improvements. This much should be required of directors in building associations receiving deposits. And in addition their responsibility for mismanagement should be declared. The courts have recently held directors in banks responsible for their management, in addition to their responsibility as shareholders, and this theory should be incorporated in any change of law. The depositor should participate in the profits rather than permit fixed interest rates.

Third, the power to borrow money, if properly restricted, should be given. It is at times a distinct advantage to these associations to borrow temporarily to meet the demands for loans. But it is only for such purposes that borrowing money should be permitted. This would under existing conditions be seldom necessary. There is a necessity in this State for institutions receiving small deposits and the making of loans on the building and loan plan. Trust companies and savings banks are filling the field so far as deposits are concerned, but they can not make the loans on the small margin of security that a building and loan association does. For this reason these associations should be encouraged, but the law should not be so liberal as to offer inducements for the ignorant, incompetent or dishonest to engage in the business.

The Auditor of State should also be given authority to make periodical examinations of these associations. There can be no complete supervision without this power. No system of reports can be made so complete that it will tell the truth if it is the purpose to hide the truth. An inspection of the books and a knowledge of affairs that can only be gained by a personal visitation by competent accountants is necessary if it is the intention to give the broad protection to which the patrons are entitled. This authority is given in the case of banks and trust companies. Why should it be denied in these institutions?

Building associations in Indiana received a body blow in the failure and liquidation of several of the larger "State" organizations, that, through mismanagement and excessive expenses, proved a serious source of disappointment and financial loss to the stockholders. The building association law has always needed safeguards for the investors and a Westinghouse brake on management, so far as associations that launched out into extended territory for clientage. The local associations, those that have the letter and spirit and self-help which are per se the all-in-all of these beneficent institutions, have almost universally been of very great advantage, many towns and cities of the State, being communities where the percentage of people owning their own homes is much above the average. If the present law could be broadened along lines indicated, with comprehensive provisions of safety plainly expressed, with a supervision and power to correct evils or excesses, I believe the revival of interest noted from the reports would continue and the great advantage of these institutions be more generally adopted by the many whose small savings are the dependence and hope for homes of their own.

INDIANA

BANK DEPARTMENT

1902

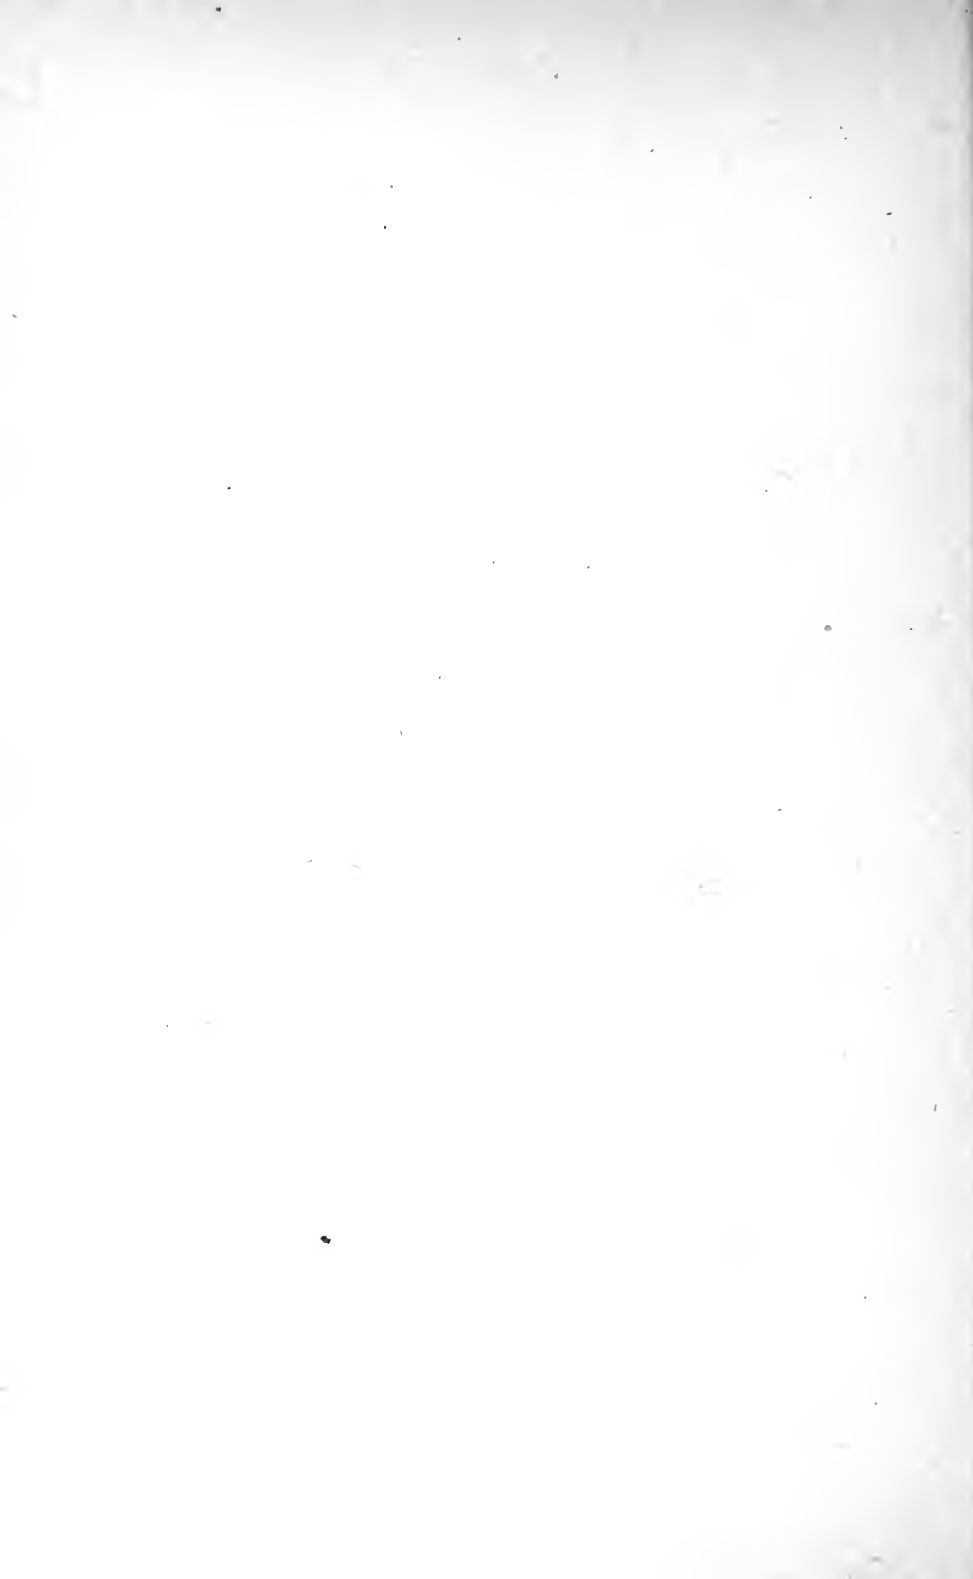

W. H. HART, Auditor of State
L. G. ROTHSCHILD, Chief Clerk

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

There are now one hundred and fourteen State banks. During the year there have been thirteen new banks organized, one retired from business and two reorganized. There are five savings banks, that number being the sum total from year to year for many years past. Our laws are not considered as liberal toward the organization of savings banks as most States, yet the banks of this class now doing business are very large ones, have substantial deposits, prosperous and universally are managed well. The trust companies are coming into gradual use as institutions for savings, the difference being that depositors get an agreed per cent. for a specified time, while in savings banks depositors share in profits. Five sworn statements are required from the State banks each year, and examinations are made by the State Bank Examiner at least once each year. The financial condition of the banks is most excellent; deposits are of large volume, probably the largest in the aggregate ever known, while the bills receivable show conservative judgment, but at a lessening rate of interest. I recommend that the law be so amended that the organization of collateral branch banks would not be possible. The present statute is silent on this subject. Latterly propositions have been considered looking to the formation of parent banks and then the establishment of branches collateral to them. I believe this would be unfortunate either as an experiment or settled purpose. It opens the door to a species of inflation that reaches out for business at the expense of those essential factors of safety, conservatism and public confidence. The statute should be more clear and definite as to the reduction of capital stock, and also as to the provision giving the Auditor of State power to sell stock of shareholders, when amounts are not paid, in that it is indefinite where accruing money should be applied. I renew my recommendation that private banks be required to regularly publish statements of condition, and be subject to supervision. I believe the law should also require each private bank to have a capital stock. There are at present thirty-seven trust companies, five new ones having been organized during the past year and one retired from business. Without exception the statements and the examinations of these corporations show a flourishing condition. They are acting as receivers and the executors and administrators of estates to an increasing extent, and will ultimately have all of these trusts for supervision. It is the business way to handle these responsibilities, and the courts usually are pleased to have them selected. The law should express itself clearly as to the right of trust companies to do a commercial or semi-banking business. Gradually some are crossing the deadline and are certainly getting beyond their powers. As a depository of savings they are supplying the frugal with a responsible agency to accumulate surplus earnings at a rate of interest that impresses habits of economy by object lessons expressive of the earning power of money.

STATE BANKS.

NEW BANKS.

The following banks incorporated and have begun business during the year:

Bloomfield—Citizens' State Bank.
Bourbon—First State Bank.
Brownstown—Brownstown State Bank.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

OF THE

STATE OF INDIANA

YEAR ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1902

LAND DEPARTMENT

INDIANAPOLIS:

WM. B. BURFORD, CONTRACTOR FOR STATE PRINTING AND BINDING.

LAND DEPARTMENT.

The very prosperous condition of the country reflected, as it has been by advancing prices for farm lands and desirable town lots, has resulted in the State being able to close out a very great deal of property that has accrued through the foreclosure of College and Permanent Endowment Fund loans. There is but a very light holding of such property now in the possession of the State. The low interest rates have resulted in inability to make loans of the College Fund, so that a large per cent. of the fund is lying unused in the State Treasury. It is almost impossible with the current ruling rates for interest to loan this fund at 6 per cent., and at the increased amount of any one loan authorized by the Legislature of 1901. I believe it would be to the best interest of the Indiana University if a statute was passed authorizing the distribution of this fund as fast as collected to the different counties of the State, on the same basis as is now authorized in the distribution of the Permanent Endowment Fund. This method would give to the University a steady income from interest, and enable the money to be loaned in the different portions of Indiana. During the past year, under authority conferred by the statute, the Governor has had surveyed the meander lands in the Kankakee region in Starke, Jasper and Porter counties. The survey was made under the direction of Hon. Geo. D. Parks, of Lafayette, and is most complete in every way, giving the lines of original Government survey with the tracings since the time of that survey, caused by the recession of the waters of the Kankakee. Maps and blue-prints are on file in the Land Department of this office, and such have been furnished to the General Executive's office and the office of the Attorney-General. The further relation of the State to these lands as to titles and ultimate disposition is one that may require future legislation, and certainly will necessitate a great deal of care and thought on the part of the State authorities, to the end that the equities involved may be justly and properly guarded.

In the matter of foreclosure of mortgages, should any have to be made in the future, I would suggest the practice of having sales made by the Auditor and Treasurer of State be superseded by regular foreclosure in the county courts where the land may be located. I believe this step would be advisable in order that an additional personal judgment may be taken supplementary to that rendered with the closing of the mortgage.

The principal work of this department is confined to answering letters of inquiry relating to land entries and original surveys. Hundreds of such letters are received annually, and the investigations required consume much time and labor.

There still remains in this office a large number of patents, conveying Wabash and Erie Canal lands. The law directs that these be recorded in the county where the land is situate, and until this is done there will be a defect in the title to these lands. Patents, some issued by the State as early as 1832, and others by the trustees of the canal as late as 1876, are here for lands in Allen, Benton, Carroll, Cass, Clay, Crawford, Daviess, Dubois, Fulton, Gibson, Greene, Huntington, Jasper, Knox, Kosciusko, Lake, Lawrence, Marshall, Martin, Miami, Monroe, Newton, Noble, Orange, Owen, Parke, Perry, Pike, Posey, Pulaski, Putnam, Spencer, Sullivan, Vanderburgh, Vermillion, Wabash, Warrick, White and Whitley counties. It is hoped that the owners of canal lands in the counties named, who have not yet obtained their patents and had them recorded, will do so at once in order that their titles may be made perfect.

The records in this office show that no patents have been issued for several hundred tracts of Swamp and University lands. Most of these tracts have undoubtedly been sold, but purchasers have neglected to obtain patents for same. This failure leads to trouble when the present owners desire to sell or mortgage their lands. Such owners should send to this office their certificates of purchase and obtain patents.

*The Auditor and Treasurer of this county declined to appoint appraisers for these lands, as the law directs, because they are worthless, and not enough money could be realized from their sale to pay expenses.

In addition to the above the State still holds 234 lots in Tell City, Perry county, forfeited for taxes under the act of March 2, 1883. These lots are of little value, most of them being appraised at $1 each. Also 26 lots in Cambridge City, Wayne county, forfeited under provisions of the same act, and 7 lots in Ft. Wayne, Allen county, and one tract in said county containing 12.25 acres.

LANDS HELD BY THE STATE BY DEEDS.

MARION COUNTY.

The east half of the strip of land lying south of the cross-cut of the Central Canal, in the city of Indianapolis, more particularly described as follows, to wit: Commencing at the junction of Market and West streets and running thence west on the line of Market street to the western boundary of the land known on the plat of the city of Indianapolis as "the reservation"; thence north to the southern base of the embankment of said canal; thence east along said canal embankment to West street; thence south to Market street, the place of beginning. The title to this tract of land was held to be in the State in the suit of the State of Indiana vs. the Water Works Company of Indianapolis, by a decree of the Hendricks Circuit Court, rendered at the January term, 1879.

This tract is held by the Indianapolis Benevolent Society, under a lease executed by M. D. Manson, Auditor of State, April 1, 1880,

All that portion of the southeast quarter of section one (1), in township fifteen (15) north, range two (2) east, contained in the following boundaries: Beginning in the Rockville road, at the southwest quarter of said quarter section, running thence north forty (40) chains and twenty-five (25) links to the center of said section; thence east along the north line of said quarter section twenty-one (21) chains and forty-five (45) links; thence south twenty (20) chains; thence east six (6) chains and seventy-five (75) links; thence south twenty (20) chains and twenty-five (25) links to the south line of said section; thence west along said south line in said Rockville road twenty-eight (28) chains and twenty (20) links to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres, more or less.

This tract was originally purchased as the site of the House of Refuge. When the location of that institution was removed to near Plainfield the land was sold to William J. McCaslin, who failed to make payment therefor, and the title to the same was in continuous litigation until affirmed to be in the State by decision of the Supreme Court, rendered at the November term, 1884.

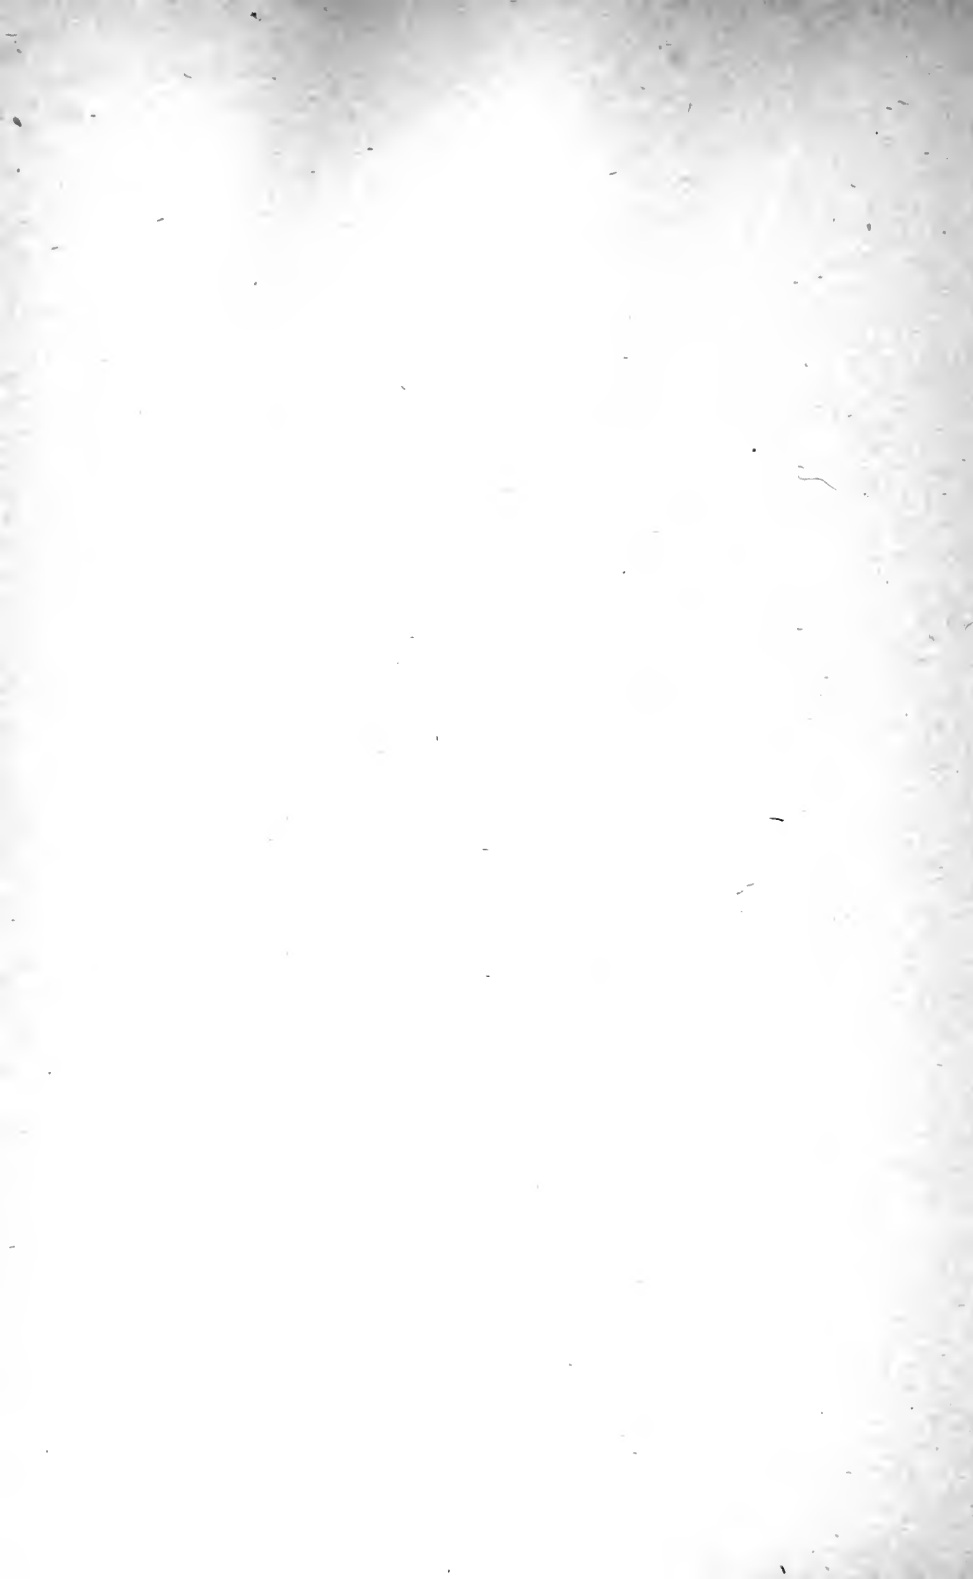

The act of 1889 authorized the sale of this land, and it was sold, but in a suit for possession the Marion Circuit Court set the sale aside on the ground of irregularity in sale.

In addition to the foregoing the State holds title to the following described premises, which have not been appraised or offered for sale:

Lots 242 and 243, in E. J. Peck's subdivision of the south part of outlet 134, in the city of Indianapolis. Conveyed to the State by E. J. Peck and wife in consideration of $40, and with this provision: - "Said lots to be used as a place of burial for the dead, and for no other use whatever, and if otherwise used then to be forfeited to the original proprietors, their heirs or assigns."

BIENNIAL REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

STATE OF INDIANA, }
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE. }

HON. WINFIELD T. DURBIN, Governor:

Sir—In compliance with the statute requiring biennial reports from the Secretary of State, I have the honor to submit herewith the biennial report of this office for the two years beginning November 1, 1900, and ending October 31, 1902. The duties of the office have been greatly increased during the last four years, and there has also been a very material increase in the revenues of the office without any additional cost to the State.

The following is a statement of fees received for the fiscal term ending October 31, 1902:

Domestic corporations.....	$144,812 49
Miscellaneous fees.....	9,478 25
Foreign corporations (from April 3, 1901, to October 31, 1902).....	32,885 57
Total.	$187,176 31
Total fees received for two years ending October 31, 1900	137,154 85
Making a total for the four years ending October 31, 1902	$324,331 16
As against.....	115,451 75
for the preceding four years, an increase of.....	208,789 41

This increase has been largely due to the prosperous condition of the country and the consequent development of the natural resources of the State, but it has been partially due to the law enacted by the Legislature in 1901 concerning foreign corporations. In recommending the enactment of this law in my report for 1899-1900, I predicted that it would increase the State's revenues fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars per annum at an additional cost to the State of not to exceed twenty-five hundred ($2,500) dollars. But as the law was passed late in the session, so late that the Governor did not have time to consider it until after the Legislature adjourned, this office was not in position to ask an appropriation for its enforcement, and the money derived from this source from April, 1901, to October, 1902, amounts to $32,885.57, which has been collected without additional expense to the State. I am still of the opinion, however, that a much larger sum could have been collected had a sufficient appropriation been made for a thorough investigation as to foreign corporations doing business in Indiana. The State of Illinois appropriates five thousand ($5,000) dollars annually for the enforcement of a similar law. I do not believe any such amount necessary for the enforcement of the Indiana law, but I do not think the Legislature could make a better investment than to appropriate at least two thousand ($2,000) dollars per annum for this purpose. Excessive appropriations should not be made, but it is certainly false economy in the management of the affairs of the State, or individual, to refuse to invest one dollar when it is certain to bring at least five dollars in return. I believe that the minimum fee for filing articles of association of foreign corporations, with necessary certificates, etc., should be at least twenty-five ($25) dollars instead of ten ($10) dollars, as now fixed by statute. In fact, I doubt the advisability of permitting any corporation, either foreign or domestic, formed for pecuniary profit, to file articles of association for a less fee than the amount named above. An increase in the minimum fee and a proper supervision by some department of State government of corporations doing business in Indiana would, in my judgment, go far towards eliminating two classes of corporations, one of which is formed as experiments only and the other for absolutely dishonest purposes.

The law governing foreign corporations should be amended so as to provide for the increase of capital stock, and for the filing of notice in this office by a corporation organized under the laws of another State and doing business in this State when said corporation ceases to transact business in Indiana. Better provision should also be made for winding up the affairs of domestic corporations, and when a corporation desires to terminate its corporate existence, notice to that effect should be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

There should also be a statute enabling all corporations organized under the laws of this State to amend their articles of incorporation, whenever necessary to the proper transaction of the business of such corporations.

The Voluntary Association Act of 1901 should be so amended as to merge Sections 11, 18 and 22 into one section, thus permitting a single corporation to carry on the business enumerated in the three sections mentioned.

The fees mentioned in the beginning of this report do not include the money received from the sales of Supreme and Appellate Court Reports, which for the fiscal term beginning November 1, 1900, and ending October 31, 1902, amounted to $16,185.

In addition to the usual matter contained in the report of the Secretary of State, this report contains a complete list of members of the Indiana Senate and House of Representatives, and the counties represented by them from the first session, which met at Corydon, November 4, 1816, up to and including the 63d session, which meets in Indianapolis, January 8, 1903.

The report of Thomas J. Carter, Clerk of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, is also included herein, and affords another evidence of Mr. Carter's business ability and peculiar fitness for this important position.

I now desire to call the attention of your Excellency to a few of the needs of this office: The increase of the last few years in the business of the office of Secretary of State has made it necessary to provide the office with additional file boxes, shelves and cases for filing and preserving documents and records. Valuable papers are now being placed in temporary file boxes made of pasteboard, which we are compelled to stack upon tables and upon the floor. Corporation and other records, House and Senate Journals, and Enrolled Acts of the General Assembly are without receptacles for their proper and necessary protection, and must therefore be piled upon the floor and be exposed to dust and dirt.

When adequate provision is made for these necessities, all available space in the upper office rooms of this department will have been utilized. A part of this space is now occupied by a small supply of each volume of Supreme and Appellate Court Reports to meet the daily demands therefor. When this change is made the work of storing, sale and shipment of these reports must of necessity be done entirely in the basement-room belonging to this department. This room is underneath room number three, which is used jointly by the Secretary of State and the Board of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery. At present the only way of reaching this basement-room is long and inconvenient. When the fact is taken into consideration that a number of trips to and from this room are made each day in the sale of these reports, it is apparent that a stairway should be cut from room number three into this room below. This basement room should also be equipped with shelves—or rather, with book cases with doors—in which to keep the court reports and protect them from dust and dirt.

In closing this my second and last biennial report, I desire to thank the State officials with whom I have been associated for the kind and courteous treatment accorded me by them at all times. Our relations have been most pleasant.

I desire also in this public manner to thank my efficient assistant, Mr. Richard T. Burrell, who has at all times been a careful and painstaking official, and who has discharged the responsible duties of his position faithfully, honestly, and to the best interest of the State. Respectfully submitted,

UNION B. HUNT,
Secretary of State.

Statement Showing Proceedings of the Board of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery in Awarding the Present State Printing Contract.

At a meeting of the Board of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, held on the 23d day of September, 1901, the specifications and notice asking for bids on the State printing, etc., for two years, was approved.

The following is the notice, which was ordered sent at once for publication (two insertions) to the Indianapolis Journal, Sentinel, News and Sun :

NOTICE.

BUREAU OF PUBLIC PRINTING, BINDING AND STATIONERY, }
INDIANAPOLIS, September 23, 1901. }

To Printers, Bookbinders and Stationers:

The Board of Commissioners of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery will, in accordance with an act of the General Assembly, approved April 13, 1885, receive sealed proposals on the 28th day of October, 1901, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, for doing the public printing and binding and furnishing the stationery for the use of the State of Indiana, for a term of two years, commencing on the 12th day of November, 1901.

At the same time and in the same manner the Board will also receive separate bids for the printing and binding of the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports, in accordance with the law authorizing the publication of same.

All bids must be signed by parties proposing to do the work, and securely sealed. Bidders, or their representatives, must accompany same with such certified checks and samples as are hereinafter named. Bidders must bid on all items in the proposals, and make extensions of prices, and place the totals at the bottom of each of the classes. In no case will bids be considered unless these requirements are complied with.

Upon receipt of sealed proposals they will be opened, and as soon thereafter as the bids and samples can be properly examined, the competing bidders will be notified to be present and the contracts will be awarded to the lowest and best bidder, or bidders, according to law, the Board, however, reserving the right to reject any or all bids submitted.

The work on the general printing, binding and stationery will be let as a whole to the lowest and best bidder in the aggregate, no division of classes being allowed, divided into three classes, as specified by law, as follows:

The first class shall comprise the laws, journals, reports of officers and public institutions, and all book and pamphlet work to be printed on book paper.

The second class shall comprise all legislative bills, commissions, letter heads, circulars, blanks and other work usually executed on writing paper, and all articles of stationery.

The second class shall also include the printing and blocking of all the State election ballots provided by the general election law, passed by the Fifty-second Session and subsequent sessions of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, and all printing and stationery that may be required in the preparation and sending out of the State election ballots. All of which shall be prescribed and subject to the approval of the State Board of Election Commissioners.

The third class shall comprise the folding, stitching, covering and binding, and all work belonging to the binding business.

The contract for printing and binding the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports will be let as a whole to the lowest and best bidder, according to law, the Board reserving the right to reject any or all bids submitted.

Each bidder, at the time of submitting his bid, shall also submit and deposit with the Board, payable to the order of the Governor, a certified check, in some bank approved by the Board, in the sum of $5,000 with the general printing, binding and stationery contract, and $1,000 with the bid for the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports contract, as a guarantee that such bidder will enter into a contract pursuant to such bid and notice, and the specifications referred to herein, and will submit a bond as herein provided, to the approval of such Board, and if any such bidder shall fail to carry out the terms of this notice and such bid, and enter into such contract, and file such bond, in that event the Governor shall deliver the check, or the proceeds thereof, to the Treasurer of State, to be collected by him as such Treasurer as liquidated damages for the failure of such bidder to carry out the terms of this notice and his bid, and the specifications referred to herein, and enter into such contract and file such bond.

The successful bidder or bidders will be required to furnish separate bonds, to be approved by the Board, in the sum of $50,000 for the general printing, binding and stationery, and $15,000 for the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports, at the time said contract, or contracts, is awarded to said bidder, or bidders, for the faithful performance of all work in accordance with the specifications herein-after named, and that in every instance the paper and material furnished shall be in weight, color and quality the same as called for in the specifications.

The contractor or contractors shall maintain an office in the city of Indianapolis for the transaction of all business under said contracts, and must agree to maintain an office of sufficient capacity, upon the taking effect of the contract, to do the work of the State speedily and without unnecessary delay, and all work under said contracts shall be performed within the State of Indiana.

Any bidder or bidders who shall be awarded these contracts shall not assign or sub-let the same, or any portion thereof, without the written consent of the Board of Public Printing.

The Board has made a basis upon which bids are asked solely for the purpose of securing uniformity of bids, but will not be governed by this basis alone in awarding the contracts. Given in the specifications is a statement from the Clerk of the Board showing approximately the quantity of articles used the past two years on which bids are asked, which will assist the Board in determining which, if any, of the bids submitted, are the best for the State.

Thos. J. Carter, Clerk of the Board, will furnish, upon application, specifications and full particulars regarding the work.

On the 28th day of October, in response to the above notice, sealed bids were received from the following firms:

Wm. B. Burford, Sentinel Printing Company, Baker & Thornton, Levey Bros. & Co., and Wilson & Humphreys.

Upon receipt of above bids the Board took a recess until 2 p. m., same date, when bids were opened. The bidders having complied with the specifications in bidding on all items, and having filed the required bond, they were approved and the bids signed by the members of the Board.

The bidders present were then notified that the Board would make a careful examination of the bids and samples submitted, and would notify them to be present when such examination had been completed and the Board was ready to award the contracts.

The bids were then turned over to the Clerk of the Board with instructions to make a careful examination of samples submitted and extend the prices bid on items upon the basis of the quantity actually used the previous two years as given in the specifications.

At a meeting of the Board, held on the 9th day of November, the Clerk reported that he had carefully gone over the several bids and had carried out the extensions as instructed by the Board, with the following result:

The Clerk further reported that while the bids of Baker & Thornton were the lowest submitted, both for the general printing, binding and stationery, and Supreme and Appellate Court Reports, the samples of paper submitted by this firm as the quality they proposed to furnish at the prices bid, were of an inferior quality to that used by the State.

After making a careful examination, and being convinced the samples of paper submitted by this firm were of such a quality the State could not use, the Board unanimously decided to reject the bids of said firm for both the general printing, binding and stationery and Supreme and Appellate Court Reports.

The bids of Wm. B. Burford being the next lowest for both the general printing and Supreme and Appellate Court Reports, and the samples of paper submitted by him being of the quality desired, the Board unanimously accepted these bids as the lowest and best for the State.

At a meeting held on the 18th day of November, 1901, the several bidders having been previously notified, the Board announced that both contracts had been awarded to Wm. B. Burford for two years from date, and that bidders were now at liberty to examine the bids and samples, together with the Board's extensions, at any time they desired.

The following contracts were then entered into by the State of Indiana, through the Board of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, and Wm. B. Burford, the successful bidder for both the general printing, binding and stationery and Supreme and Appellate Court Reports:

The said party of the first part, in consideration of the faithful execution of the foregoing stipulations by the said party of the second part, and the rendering of full and detailed bills, for the work done, and the material and articles furnished, when completed and delivered, agree that they will cause the amount thereof to be audited and paid out of the treasury of the State of Indiana, in the manner provided by the law; and that they will not audit any bills for purchases of blank books, printing, binding, lithographing or stationery made by any other person or persons other than the said contractor; and should the party of the second part neglect or refuse to carry out any of the provisions of this contract, the party of the first part shall have the privilege, in connection with their other rights, immediately to cancel their contract.

The work to be done above named will be divided into three classes, as follows:

FIRST CLASS.

All the book and cover paper used in printing the reports, acts, journals, and all classes of pamphlet or book printing that may be required for the use of the State, shall be the best on the market, of the quality named in the specifications, and the contract shall be per pound for the amount used, no allowance being made for waste, handling, freight or otherwise. The weight of book and cover paper will be determined by comparison with samples furnished, on basis of 25 x 38 book and 20 x 25 cover, and all weights must be furnished at the same price per pound as that bid on in specifications.

In the printing of reports and all classes of printing requiring the use of book or cover paper, contractor will be required to consult the Board or its Clerk as to the size and weight of paper to be used.

The composition shall be bid for by the 1,000 ems, actual measure in the book, no blank pages or other unreal charge to be allowed, divided into two classes, as follows: Plain matter, and rule and figure work. Rule and figure work shall consist of three or more justifications of words or figures with rules, or four or more justifications of words or figures without rules, to be measured as plain matter, one measure, as bid on per 1,000 ems, rule and figure work, in accordance with sizes of type used. All composition not classified as rule and figure work, including institutional vouchers, shall be measured as plain matter, one measure, as bid on per 1,000 ems, plain matter, in accordance with sizes of type used.

The price bid on per 1,000 ems shall include the cost of making up pages, locking up forms, and delivering the same to press.

The type used in printing the reports, acts, journals and all classes of pamphlet or book printing, shall be modern face, unless otherwise ordered, and make a clear, neat appearance, and the spacing between words, etc., shall be the same as is done on all first-class book work.

In spacing between the lines in all book composition, only six-to-pica leads will be allowed, unless otherwise ordered. In no case will contractor be allowed extra pay for setting matter "solid."

In making up type pages only such spacing as is necessary to make neat appearance of page will be allowed, and under no circumstances will contractor be allowed to use wide spacing in order to increase the number of pages.

The press work shall be bid for at so much for the first 100 impressions and so much for each additional 100 impressions, 16 pages to form, including make-ready and ink. All forms of a less number of impressions to be paid for as a full 100. Press work as bid on in this class applies only to book work.

The price bid for press work shall be to do first-class work and furnish the best quality of ink.

SECOND CLASS.

This class will include the furnishing of all blanks, both printed and ruled and printed, including legislative bills, to be bid for at so much for the first 100 and so much for each additional 100 copies, of the weights and sizes of paper specified; the manufacturing of all blank books, both plain and printed, at so much per quire, including paging, indexing and binding, of the kind of binding and weights and sizes of paper specified; all description of lithographic work; embossed letter heads and envelopes; printed letter and note heads; miscellaneous printing, paper, etc., and the furnishing of all description of stationery, such as inks, inkstands, lead pencils, pens, penholders, etc.

All propositions in this class call for first-class work and material on all description of printing and lithographic work, and the best quality of paper, of the kind, size and weight specified. The stationery calls for the best in use, and must be of the kind and quality specified.

In the furnishing of all description of blanks, blank books, and all kinds of writing and other paper named, the contractor must conform to the sizes and weights mentioned in specifications, unless otherwise ordered.

THIRD CLASS.

This class will include the binding of books in leather, cloth and pasteboard, and pamphlets, etc., with paper covers, and the tipping in of signatures, plates and maps, as follows:

All books bound in leather, cloth or pasteboard shall be bid for at so much per one hundred signatures, of sixteen pages each for folding, gathering and sewing, complete, and so much apiece for covers, including the cost of all material used, lettering of title in any style, and all work necessary to complete book. Binding to be of best material and first-class workmanship; and to be counted by the number of copies actually delivered. All books bound in pasteboard shall be sheep backs and pasteboard sides. In no case will wire stitching be allowed on books bound in cloth, sheep or boards.

All pamphlets, etc., with paper covers, shall be bid for by the 100 signatures, including all handling, assorting, folding, wire stitching or sewing, trimming and putting on cover, in good workmanlike manner. All signatures of a less number will be paid for as a full hundred signatures.

The tipping in of signatures, plates or maps shall be bid for by the 100 signatures, plates or maps, including folding, stitching and trimming.

Specifications call for best binding and most approved material now in general use.

The Board reserves the right to reduce or increase the number of copies of all publications, and to order any report or pamphlet bound in any manner specified in this class.

Samples of binding and full information will be furnished upon application to the Clerk of the Board.

LEGISLATIVE WORK.

All bids shall be to include all the printing, binding and stationery of the General Assembly at the same prices and under the same conditions as supplies named in the specifications.

All orders for supplies for the General Assembly must be made upon the Board in the same manner as required in ordering for the State offices and institutions, and all requisitions made out by the Clerk of the Board, and all bills shall be by him certified as correct according to contract.

All supplies for the General Assembly shall first pass the inspection of the Clerk of the Board before the same is delivered to the House and Senate, and by him certified as proper and correct according to order.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS.

All work bid on shall be to deliver the same to the State House free of charge in all cases.

All articles furnished under this contract must be of the most approved material now in use in every respect.

All articles furnished or work done, not enumerated in specifications, must be furnished in the most economical manner practicable, and at prices not to exceed the regular market prices for articles furnished or work done.

The contractor must at all times be able to furnish the exact quality of supplies named in specifications, but if by mutual agreement between party ordering and contractor any different kind is substituted, the quality and price shall not exceed that named for similar articles or articles in specifications.

In accepting the contract for general printing, binding and stationery, the contractor will be required to do the work promptly and without unnecessary delay, in a good, workmanlike manner. If at any time the said contractor fails to do the work authorized by the State within a reasonable length of time, the Board reserves the right to order the work done elsewhere and have the bill sent to the contractor, who shall make out his bill to the State for the work done at the contract price and no more.

Proofs and revises of all descriptions of printing shall be furnished and delivered without charge to the State.

All charges for changes from original copy, after type is set, shall be certified to as having been ordered by the officers making such changes, and must be accompanied by an affidavit from the contractor, or his agent, certifying that such charge is just and proper.

All bids shall be to furnish the exact amount of printing, stationery and binding ordered, and at prices bid on in the specifications. In no case will contractor be allowed to charge for more than the exact amount of any article ordered.

All orders for supplies must be made upon the Board, whereupon the Clerk of the Board will make out requisitions for supplies required to be furnished through the contractor; and in no case will the contractor be allowed to fill an order for supplies for the State without having first obtained a requisition for the same from this Board.

All requisitions and bills shall contain the size, name and quality of paper used, and full name and number of article of stationery ordered. In no case will the Board entertain any requisition or bill made out with lead pencil.

The printed copies of the session law of the General Assembly required by law must be delivered to the Secretary of State within forty days from the date on which last copy shall be furnished the contractor by the Secretary of State.

CLERK'S STATEMENT TO BOARD.

BUREAU OF PUBLIC PRINTING, BINDING AND STATIONERY, }
 INDIANAPOLIS, September, 23, 1901. }

To the Board of Commissioners of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith submit a statement showing, approximately, the principal transactions of the State with the contractors for the general printing, binding and stationery for State offices, institutions and General Assembly, and Supreme and Appellate Court Reports, from November 12, 1899, to August 3, 1901, as shown by the records of bills.

In submitting this statement I have endeavored to give a list as nearly accurate as possible, showing the quantity of the articles ordered during the time indicated on which the Board is asking for bids. There are a few items given in this statement which do not appear on the records in such quantities as given in this statement, but are likely to be ordered during the next two years, and should be included in this statement.

I have made no list showing the number of miscellaneous pamphlets, etc., printed, as they vary so much in size and quantity, and would probably be of little or no assistance to bidders. I have samples of practically all the printing done for the State the past two years, which can be seen by bidders at any time.

There will be printed annually, as provided by law, the reports of the Auditor of State, State Horticultural Society, Indiana Academy of Science, State Board of Agriculture, State Geologist, State Board of Health, State Board of Medical Registration and Examination, State Board of Tax Commissioners, Board of State Charities and Quarterly Bulletins, Treasurer of State, Hospitals for Insane, Institute for Blind, Institute for Deaf, Indiana State Prison, Indiana Reformatory, Reform School for Boys, Industrial School for Girls and Womans' Prison, School for Feeble-Minded Youth, Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, State Soldiers' Home, Documentary Journal (containing annual and biennial reports), and the catalogues of Indiana University, Purdue University and State Normal School.

There will be printed biennially, as provided by law, the reports of the Adjutant General, Attorney-General, Bureau of Statistics, Custodian of Public Buildings, Secretary of State, Department of Inspection, Labor Commission, Commissioner of Fisheries and Game, State Librarian, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Purdue University, Indiana University and State Normal School.

In the preparation of the above specifications the Board has endeavored to fully explain and classify items in such a way that bids may be made intelligently and with equal fairness to the State and bidders.

WINFIELD T. DURBIN,
UNION B. HUNT,
WILLIAM H. HART,

Board of Commissioners of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery.

THOS. J. CARTER,
Clerk of Board.

Taking these contracts as a whole, they are from 20 to 25 per cent. lower than any contract the State has ever received for its printing.

The present contract for the general printing, binding and stationery is more than 25 per cent. lower than the former contract, and the contract for Supreme and Appellate Court reports is about 10 per cent. lower.

The State's very satisfactory printing contracts the past few years are due largely to the fact that the Board furnishes bidders with a correct list of articles used the previous two years, which is used as a basis for the succeeding two years in extending prices in order to ascertain the lowest bid. By this method it not only leaves no doubt as to the lowest bid, but prevents bidding very high on articles extensively used and very low on others, as the exact quantity used is figured against the prices bid and would increase the totals in the same proportion.

While it would be difficult to give a correct estimate as to the difference in the cost of the State's printing since the present method of bidding has been in operation, it is safe to say there has been a saving of several thousand dollars.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

THOS. J. CARTER,
Clerk of Bureau of Public Printing.

OF
WILLIAM L. TAYLOR,
Attorney-General of Indiana.

NOVEMBER 1, 1900, TO OCTOBER 31, 1902.

HON. WINFIELD T. DURBIN, Governor of Indiana :

Sir—I have the honor to submit to you, pursuant to law, a biennial report of the work of this office from the 1st day of November, 1900, to the 31st day of October, 1902, inclusive.

The duties of this office are constantly increasing. The amount of litigation not only has grown in volume, but has broadened out very greatly in the last few years. The law requires the Attorney-General to represent the state in every criminal case in the supreme or appellate court of this state. It also requires him to represent the state in all civil cases, both in the state courts and in the courts of the United States.

The number of criminal cases is increasing. Within the last two years appeals have been filed or heard in one hundred and one criminal cases of major crimes. Of this number fifteen have been for murder, all of which have been decided in favor of the state, except two, not yet decided; in four of these murder cases the death penalty was imposed by the trial jury and all have been affirmed by the supreme court and all of the condemned have been executed, viz.: Joseph D. Keith, John Rinkard, Willis B. Wheeler and Lewis Russell. Ora Copenhaver, from Marion county, has likewise been condemned, and is awaiting execution in the state prison. It is not known whether an appeal will be taken in this case. But one murder case has been reversed during my four years of office.

Of the one hundred and one cases appealed, eighty-seven have been decided, and of these sixty-four have been decided in favor of the state and twenty-three against the state, in the supreme court.

The result of this litigation speaks for itself. I have appended to this report a list of all the cases decided or pending in the supreme court, with the title, the county, the character of crime, the decision and where the report can be found of such decision, and have marked it exhibit A.

This office has also had a very considerable amount of litigation in the appellate court of Indiana. Thirty-three cases have been filed and all of the thirty-three, except two, have been disposed of. I have appended to this report and marked as exhibit B a table showing the number, title, county, crime, decision and report of each case.

Believing that a number of these cases are of such general interest to the people of the state as to warrant a further statement thereof than the schedule would show, I have digested the leading cases, showing the point decided in each of them and where the case can be found. Some of these cases will hereafter be leading cases on points covered therein. I therefore have appended as a part of this report a list of such leading cases, with the points decided and reports wherein same can be found, and marked it exhibit C.

In addition to such large amount of criminal litigation, there is also pending civil cases of the trial courts of the state, principally in the court of claims. The court of claims, it will be remembered, is composed of the three superior judges of Marion county. I append hereto as a part of this report a statement of the civil cases pending for trial, with the questions involved, and mark the same exhibit D. Most all of these cases will be disposed of before the close of this year.

I further make a part of this report the opinions rendered within the last two years to various state offices on a large number of subjects. The law requires that the Attorney-General answer interrogatories propounded by state officers and boards in charge of the state institutions. The custom, however, has grown up and during my terms has become general, to answer not only inquiries from state officers and boards in control of state institutions, but also inquiries from district, county and township officers as well. Within the last two years I have answered fully eight thousand inquiries upon a great variety of subjects affecting district, county or township officers. I make a part of this report as exhibit G, a copy of the opinions given within the last two years to state officers, which I have caused to be indexed for ready reference.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

During the last two years I have collected and paid over to the state and county treasuries of Indiana, from local sources, the sum of $96,510.06, all of which will in detail be shown in the financial statement of the office, which I make a part of this report and mark the same as exhibit F.

I deem it proper, however, at the close of four years of administration of this office, to make a summary of the results of the litigation conducted by this office.

During the last four years very large sums due the state and various counties of the state have been paid into the state and county treasuries of Indiana at the end of such litigation.

All of said large sum of $1,515,256.17 has been collected and paid over to the respective state and county treasuries, without a dollar of expense to the state other than the costs of the trials. No fees have come to me from such litigation.

As I view the law, no fees can legally be paid to or retained by the Attorney-General for services rendered by him. I have not profited one dollar, either directly or indirectly, as the result of this litigation, or from the collection of these large sums.

CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS.

During the last two years many important constitutional questions have been before the courts, in which it became my duty to defend the constitutionality of acts of the general assembly.

TAXATION.

Those in reference to taxation are perhaps most important to the state, and of these I shall refer, first, to Gallup v. Schmidt, in relation to omitted taxables, referred to in my last report as having been decided in favor of the state's contention in 154 Ind. 196. This case went to the supreme court of the United States and the opinion affirming the judgment of the supreme court of Indiana is reported in 183 U. S. 300. This case was argued by me before the supreme court of the United States, the Gallup estate being there represented in argument by two former attorneys-general of the United States. In the opinion by Justice Shiras every contention of the state was sustained. The entire judgment with interest, amounting to $63,181.70, was collected and paid over to the treasurer of Marion county for distribution.

Several years ago the American Express Company brought suit in the circuit court of the United States for the district of Indiana to enjoin the certification of taxes assessed against their property in the state of Indiana on the mileage basis, basing its contention that the assessment was unlawful upon two grounds: (1) That some $15,000,000 of the property entering into the value of its capital stock consisted of stocks and bonds of the company, kept by the company in a safety deposit vault in New York city, which could not be considered as a part of the property to be taxed in Indiana, for the reason that it was taxable locally in New York; (2) Because of an alleged increase in the total mileage of the company from 34,957 in the year 1897 to 163,063 in the year 1898, it being contended, on behalf of the company, that in estimating the value per mile of its plant on the mileage system of taxation, 128,106 miles of ocean mileage not in any taxing district, being that of ships carrying express matter for the company around the world, should be taken into consideration. After taking much evidence for the express company and for the state in New York, Boston and elsewhere, the case was tried before Judge Baker at Indianapolis and judgment rendered in favor of the state.

During the last ten years numerous street improvements had been made upon streets abutting the property held by the United States for postoffice purposes in the city of Indianapolis. It was the contention of the state that these improvements should be paid for by the federal government, but lest loss accrue to the street contractors, successive legislatures had made appropriations for paying the street contractors, the state taking an assignment of the improvement liens and holding it as against the federal government. Suit was brought by the United States in the circuit court of the United States against the state of Indiana to quiet title as against the street improvement liens. The state filed a plea to the jurisdiction, which was sustained and judgment rendered in the United States court in favor of the state and against the United States.

In the case of Co-Operative Building and Loan Association v. State, 156 Ind. 463, it was contended that the statutory provision giving taxing officers the right to examine books and papers of tax payers for the purpose of listing property for taxation, was in violation of the constitutional provision against unreasonable searches and seizures, and that consequently an action of mandamus would not lie to require a building association to permit a county assessor to examine its books and records for the purpose of determining whether any of its stock had been omitted from taxation. This case was briefed by me and the court held that the tax law was not in violation of the constitutional prohibition referred to, and that such an action would lie. In Hubbard v. Goss, 157 Ind. 485, it was contended that that part of the tax law which permits the valuation of divisions of a township to be increased by the county board of review without notice other than that given by the law itself, was unconstitutional, as taking property without due process of law. In this case the contention of the state was in every respect sustained by the supreme court.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

At the general election in Indiana in 1900 655,965 votes were cast for various candidates for the office of governor. At the same election two proposed amendments to the constitution were submitted to the people for ratification; the first, providing for an increase in the supreme court, received 314,710 votes as against 178,960; the second, providing that the legislature shall prescribe what qualifications shall be necessary to admission to practice law in all courts of justice, received 240,031 votes, as against 144,072. In my opinion it became the duty of the Attorney-General to sustain in the courts the action of the general assembly, which had been approved by a vast majority of the people voting upon the proposition, and I accordingly appeared in the supreme court and argued that the amendment had been adopted. A majority of the court, however, held in the case entitled in re Denny, 156 Ind. 104, that the constitutional provision, with regard to amendments providing that "If a majority of said electors shall ratify the same, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of this constitution," meant not a majority of those voting upon the subject of the amendments, but a majority of those voting at the election at which the amendments were submitted regardless of the proposition or person for whom such votes were cast.

THE POLICE POWER.

The constitutionality of the laws for the protection of the people from ignorant pretenders in the other learned professions has been before the court repeatedly, and in every instance during my tenure of the office of Attorney-General such laws have been sustained.

PHARMACY LAW.

In the case of State v. Indiana Board of Pharmacy, 155 Ind. 414, which arose under the pharmacy law of 1899, the supreme court held that mandate would not lie to compel the board of pharmacy to issue to a licensed physician, who had purchased a drug store after the pharmacy law took effect, a certificate entitling him to a druggist's license without examination or diploma.

DENTAL LAW.

Notwithstanding the fact that the supreme court in Wilkins v. State, 113 Ind. 514, and again in Ferner v. State, 151 Ind. 247, had held the dentistry law constitutional, it was again attacked in Overshiner v. State, 156 Ind. 187, upon the ground that the privilege accorded to the State Dental Association of selecting three of the five members of the dental board was an unconstitutional grant of authority, it being claimed that the legislature might leave the appointment of state officers in the hands of the governor, or refer their election to the people, but could not delegate it to a private corporation, but the supreme court, following the authority of Chief Justice Marshall in McCulloch v. Maryland, 4 Wheat. 316, and the supreme court in the slaughter house cases, 16 Wallace 36, and accepting the legislative construction, by which for many years state officers, or officers performing state functions, have been chosen by private corporations under legislative authority, held the dentistry law was constitutional.

MEDICAL LAW.

The medical law, which had been adopted and sustained in Eastman v. State, 109 Ind. 528, and again in State v. Webster, 151 Ind. 607, was again attacked, it being contended that the amendments of 1901 rendered it unconstitutional, as applied to a magnetic healer. In Parks v. State, 64 N. E. 862, decided October 7, 1902, the supreme court sustained the validity of the medical law as a proper exercise of the police power and held that the definition of the practice of medicine in the amendment of 1901 is proper, as is also the exception from the law of opticians and nurses, and the issuing of licenses for the practice of osteopathy as a branch of medicine, and that it was within the power of the legislature to prohibit one not licensed to practice medicine from styling himself as doctor, professor or M. D., or by other similar title.

DOWIEISM.

The case of State v. Chenoweth, No. 19,162, is now pending in the supreme court and it will probably be decided before the expiration of my term of office. The contention of the state in that case is that it is a parent's legal duty to furnish medicine and medical care to his sick child, notwithstanding the alleged disbelief of the parent in the value of medicines and medical care, as taught by believers in Dowieism.

VACCINATION.

In State v. Beil, 157 Ind. 25, the supreme court reaffirmed the decision rendered during my previous term of office in Blue v. Beach, 155 Ind. 121, sustaining the power of boards of health during epidemics of smallpox to enforce the vaccination of school children.

PURE FOOD LAW.

In Isenhour v. State, 157 Ind. 517, it was contended that the pure food law of 1899 was unconstitutional, as a delegation of legislative authority to the state board of health, that the title was insufficient under the constitution, that under the law no prosecutions could be instituted except by the state board of health, and that it provided for searches and seizures without due process of law. It was held by the supreme court that the pure food law was constitutional and that it was enforceable precisely as are all other penal laws of the state.

GAME LAW.

In Smith v. State, 155 Ind. 611, it was contended that the game law, forbidding any person from having in his possession any quail during the closed season, violated the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution by depriving persons of property without due process of law, and that section of the state constitution which provides that no man's property shall be taken by law without just compensation. The court sustained the law, holding that quails are game birds, and as such belong to the state in its sovereign capacity as the trustee of the citizens in common; that such game is a valuable and wholesome article of food, diffused and accessible to all, and its preservation a matter of general interest to the people.

FRAUDULENT MARRIAGE ACT.

In Latshaw v. State, 156 Ind. 194, the supreme court held that the fraudulent marriage act of 1895 did not impair the privileges and immunities clause of the constitution, nor that which forbids excessive fines and cruel and unusual punishment, nor the further provision to the effect that no person shall be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

The last general assembly passed two laws in relation to the government of the city of Fort Wayne. The one undertook to place the fire and police forces in charge of a board of metropolitan police, to be appointed by the governor; and the other provided that the governor should appoint the first incumbent of the office of municipal judge, to be filled thereafter by election. The constitutionality of both of these laws was bitterly contested in the courts. In the case of State v. Fox, 63 N. E. 19, the supreme court held that the act placing the fire and police force in charge of metropolitan police commissioners was unconstitutional because it took away from the city the control of its firemen, and that provision was inseparable from the one in regard to the police, which, if standing alone, would have been valid. In the case of State v. Berghoff, 63 N. E. 717, the supreme court held the statute providing for the appointment of a municipal judge constitutional.

TOWN CLERK LAW.

In Town of Fredericksburg v. Wilcoxon, 63 N. E. 566, the Washington circuit court held the town clerk law of 1901 unconstitutional. On appeal to the supreme court, the constitutionality of this law was discussed by counsel, but the court declined to pass upon the question because of a defective record.

LABOR AND WAGES.

In Bell v. Town of Sullivan, 63 N. E. 209, the constitutionality of the minimum wage law of 1899 was before the court, but the court declined to pass upon the question for the reason that the appellant could not lawfully claim the benefit of the provisions of the law after having contracted for and received a lower rate of wages.

In Chicago & Southeastern Railway Company v. Glover, 62 N. E. 11, the monthly wage law was before the supreme court and its constitutionality was elaborately briefed. This question, however, was not passed upon by the supreme court, because it held that it could not be considered in view of the fact that that law provided for a demand by the employe, and in the case under consideration the demand was not made by the employe, but by an assignee of his wages.

The validity of the weekly wage law of 1899 is now under consideration by the supreme court in the case of The Republic Iron & Steel Company v. State of Indiana, No. 19,785, which has been elaborately briefed and is ready for decision. It seems probable that this serious and important question will be decided by the supreme court in the near future. The constitutionality of section 4 of this law forbidding the assignment of future wages was sustained in the case of International Text Book Company v. Assignee, No. 19,822, decided November 25, 1902.

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY ACT.

The constitutionality of the employers' liability act of 1897 was sustained in the case of Indianapolis Union Railway Company v. Houlihan, 157 Ind. 494, the court, following a similar decision, rendered during my previous term of office, in Pittsburgh, etc., Railway Company v. Montgomery, 152 Ind. 1, a decision which was followed by the supreme court of the United States in Tullis v. Lake Erie & Western Railroad Company, 175 U. S. 348.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

In State v. Bailey, 157 Ind. 324, the supreme court sustained the constitutionality of the truancy act of 1899, holding that compulsory education was not an unauthorized invasion of the natural right of the parent to the custody and control of his child.

VOTE SELLING.

In Baum v. State, 157 Ind. 282, it was earnestly contended that the disfranchisement law of 1899, fixing the penalty of disfranchisement for vote selling, was unconstitutional, under the provision of the constitution, to the effect that the general assembly shall have power to deprive of the right of suffrage any person convicted of an infamous crime, but the act was held constitutional.

GAMBLING.

In State v. O'Leary, 155 Ind. 526, an attempt was made by the Attorney-General to enjoin pool and gambling rooms at Roby as a public nuisance, but the supreme court declined to reverse the decree of the Porter circuit court refusing an injunction, holding the evidence of annoyance, disturbance or injury to property to be insufficient to justify an injunction.

OHIO RIVER JURISDICTION.

On the 24th of November, 1899, the court of appeals of Kentucky reversed the case of Meyler v. Wedding, 53 S. W. 809. A judgment had been obtained in the superior court of Vanderburgh county against a steamboat captain who had been served by the sheriff on his boat on the Ohio river, opposite Evansville.

Judgment was taken by default in the Indiana court, and suit on the Indiana judgment was instituted in the Warren circuit court of Kentucky. It was contended in the circuit court that Indiana had no jurisdiction whatever over the Ohio river below low water mark on the north bank, notwithstanding the Virginia compact of 1789 provided that "the use and navigation of the River Ohio, so far as the territory of the proposed state (Kentucky), or the territory which shall remain within the limits of this commonwealth (Virginia) lies thereon shall be free and common to the citizens of the United States and the respective jurisdictions of this commonwealth, and of the proposed state on the river aforesaid, shall be concurrent only with the states which may possess the opposite shores of the said river," and the further fact that from the beginning the two states had exercised concurrent jurisdiction over the river.

The circuit court sustained the jurisdiction of Indiana, and rendered judgment on the Indiana judgment.

On an appeal to the court of appeals of Kentucky this judgment was reversed, November 24, 1899, that court holding that Indiana had no jurisdiction over the Ohio river below the boundary line.

I had no knowledge of this litigation until several weeks after the decision of the Kentucky court of appeals. I at once prepared a petition for rehearing, on which, by the courtesy of that court (although contrary to its rules), I was accorded an oral argument in June, 1900.

On December 22, 1900, the Kentucky court of appeals overruled the petition for rehearing, two judges dissenting. The opinions on the petition for rehearing are reported in 60 S. W. 20.

Later I appeared in the Warren circuit court, when, pursuant to the order of the court of appeals, judgment was rendered against the Indiana plaintiffs, and obtained a writ of error from the supreme court of the United States to the Warren circuit court.

The general assembly of 1901 appropriated $2,000.00 for the expenses of this litigation, and the case is now pending in the supreme court of the United States, entitled Wedding and Ahlering v. Meyler, No. 429, October term, 1902.

This case is one of very great importance to the state of Indiana for the reason that the boundary line between Indiana and Kentucky, instead of being, as is usual, the middle of the stream, is at low water mark on the Indiana bank, and, if it should be held that Indiana has no jurisdiction on the surface of the river, the large cities along the river on the Indiana side could be given no adequate police protection on the water front.

The proper protection upon the water front absolutely requires the right to pursue and recapture thieves and other criminals on the surface of the river.

ESCHEAT CASES.

George Donaldson, of Glasgow, Scotland, came to the United States about 1860. In 1865 he bought two parcels of land in Lawrence county, Indiana, and in 1876 a third, which he still owned at the time of his death in Scotland, September 17, 1898.

He had, at that time, been living in Scotland for two years, and had been a British subject all of his life, never having even declared his intention of becoming an American citizen. He left about two hundred acres of land, two and a half miles east of Mitchell, in Lawrence county. On this land is a magnificent growth of timber, which has been there from the beginning, and there are also several extensive caves.

I brought suit in the Lawrence circuit court to declare this property escheated to the state upon the theory that Donaldson, being an alien, had no heritable blood and could not transmit property by descent.

At common law aliens could neither transmit nor inherit property. In the act of 1885 removing disabilities of aliens, they are given the right to inherit, but not to transmit property.

George Donaldson's next of kin are aliens, but, under our law, they could inherit if he possessed the right to transmit. The Lawrence circuit court sustained the contention of the state and escheated the land to the state, because of Donaldson's inability to transmit by descent.

The Scottish heirs have taken the case to the supreme court, where it is pending as James Donaldson v. The State of Indiana, ex rel. William L. Taylor, Attorney-General, No. 19,798.

During the last two years I have recovered for the state, as escheated property of Jacob Douglas, a small farm in Marion county, and also some $1,900.00 in money. Jacob Douglas was an Englishman residing near Indianapolis, who died intestate, leaving this money and the small farm, which escheated to the state.

In April, 1881, Joachim Annes Kat died in Lake county, leaving a farm of about fifty acres and no heirs, so far as is known. An administrator was appointed, who turned over the proceeds of the personal property to the school fund, but whose wife purchased the property for taxes and is now occupying the farm.

The state has been litigating the question of ownership with her for several years, and I have no doubt of its ultimate success in obtaining possession of the property.

INSURANCE COMPANIES.

During the last two years it has been necessary for me to wind up a number of insurance companies which were either insolvent or unlawfully engaged in business.

Among these I may mention the Lincoln Insurance and Banking Company, which was engaged in doing business in Hammond and at Chicago, under a special charter which had expired, and for which I have obtained a receiver in the courts of Illinois, as well as of Indiana, who is now engaged in winding up its affairs.

LITIGATION IN THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

During my term of office the state has had much litigation before the supreme court of the United States, in which it has been uniformly successful.

In Holt v. Indiana Manufacturing Company, 176 U. S. 68, the Indiana Manufacturing Company, long before my term of office commenced, had obtained, in the United States circuit court at Indianapolis, an injunction against the treasurer of Marion county, restraining him from collecting taxes upon the capital stock of the company, on the theory that the capital stock had been issued wholly in exchange for patents, which it is contended are exempt from taxation.

An appeal had been taken to the circuit court of appeals, which dismissed the appeal for want of jurisdiction, 80 Fed. 1; 46 U. S. App. 717; 25 C. C. A. 301. An appeal was then taken from the original judgment direct to the supreme court of the United States, which I argued December 19, 1899. The judgment was reversed for want of jurisdiction in the circuit court, which was directed to dismiss the bill. A new bill was brought by the company against Armin C. Koelme, Mr. Holt's successor as county treasurer, including in it all the taxes sought to be enjoined in the Holt case. In this case Judge Baker refused an injunction and rendered judgment for the defendant. An appeal to the supreme court of the United States promptly followed, and the case was argued by me in that court October 24, 1902, and a decision may be expected in the near future.

At the same time the Holt case was argued I also presented to the same court the contentions of the state in the three cases entitled Ohio Oil Company v. Indiana, 177 U. S. 190, 212, 213, which were pending on writs of error to the supreme court of Indiana, in the cases of State v. Ohio Oil Company, 150 Ind. 21, and Ohio Oil Company v. State, 150 Ind. 694 and 698.

In these cases the state was successful, the supreme court of the United States sustaining the right of the state to enjoin the unlawful waste of natural gas.

The case of Gallup v. Schmidt, 183 U. S. 300, to which I have already referred, I argued in the supreme court of the United States on November 1, 1901, and in this case the state was wholly successful, and collected the full sum, principal, interest and costs, the principal and interest amounting to $63,181.70.

In the matter of the application of the Bank of Commerce for change of name, 153 Ind. 460, in which the supreme court of Indiana held that, since the constitution of 1851, the general assembly can not extend the life of corporations created by special act under the old constitution, a writ of error has been taken, and the questions involved are now before the supreme court of the United States, where the case is pending on motion of the state to dismiss for want of jurisdiction. If this motion is sustained it will end the case. If not, the case will have to be briefed and argued.

MORTGAGE DEDUCTION CASES.

In the case of State, ex rel. Martha Lewis, v. Smith, Auditor of Marion County, application for writ of mandate was issued to compel the auditor to allow a deduction of $500 from the assessed value of the plaintiff's property on account of an existing mortgage. Pursuant to the mortgage deduction law of 1899, the trial court denied the application and Lewis appealed to the supreme court of Indiana, where the constitutionality of the mortgage deduction law was assailed. The supreme court reversed the trial court and upheld the law. By writ of error the case has gone to the supreme court of the United States, where it is now pending on a motion to advance.

There are about eighty thousand tax payers in Indiana who have claimed these deductions. The total amount claimed by such tax payers aggregates about $40,000,000 each year.

There are also deductions claimed and allowed from credits on account of indebtedness of the sum of about $40,000,000, so that if we add the total of deductions from credits on account of debts to the total deductions claimed on account of mortgage indebtedness, we will have a grand total of about $80,000,000 of deductions claimed and allowed from the total assessments of the state. I am defending the constitutionality of this law. I have defended it all the way through, and shall continue so until it has been decided by the supreme court of the United States.

To summarize: During my terms of office eleven cases have reached the supreme court of the United States, in which I have appeared for the state. Of these eleven cases six have already been decided in favor of the state and none against it, and five are now pending. Of these five one, the case of Indiana Manufacturing Company v. Koehne, Treasurer, has been argued and is ready for decision. The other four are pending, as shown in the above report. I have no reason to doubt but that the state will eventually win in all of the other cases.

By an examination of the foregoing part of this report, some idea may be gotten of the enormous amount of litigation that drifts through this office each year. The business of the office covers almost every form of litigation, from murder in the first degree to a case of simple ejectment from state lands.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

I have thought it proper at the close of my terms of office to make some recommendations.

THE SALE AND CARRYING OF PISTOLS.

The carrying of deadly weapons by utterly irresponsible and lawless characters is a most fruitful source of crime. There is no possible excuse for any of these reckless characters carrying a pistol. Men in the heat of passion, or crazed with drink, commit murder because a pistol is at hand and ready for use. In the case of the highwayman, the use of the revolver is a deliberate one. Many are accidentally shot by the careless use of pistols in the hands of indifferent or reckless persons. The result to the poor victims is the same.

The indiscriminate carrying of pistols should be stopped by a stringent law. Punishing one for carrying concealed weapons will not right the offense, when in the shop windows along the streets of every city, town and village in the state are exposed for sale pistols, gaudy in appearance and cheap in price, which every man and boy is urged to buy and to carry. The concealed weapon law of Indiana has been a practical nullity for years. The restriction ought to be upon the sale of pistols, as well as upon the carrying and use thereof. The law should regulate the sale of pistols, giving to certain designated officers the right to purchase and carry small arms. There is no constitutional objection to such a law. It would save the lives of hundreds of victims of carelessness or of criminal intent. Some radical step must be taken. Outlaws, sandbaggers and highwaymen meet the unwary in all of the cities and towns and on the highways, pushing a revolver into the faces of their victims and demanding money or property as the price of life. Why should any such be allowed to carry a deadly weapon? Why keep up the travesty of prosecuting accused for carrying concealed weapons, when everybody is urged to buy these weapons in the open market?

There is but one safety for society, and that is the vigorous enforcement of law. Not only must the law be vigorously enforced, but punishment must follow swiftly upon the heels of crime. This is the essence of the constitution respecting the punishment of offenses.

Therefore, upon this subject I recommend proper legislation regulating not only the carrying of pistols, but also the sale thereof.

Hundreds of boys carry pistols in their pockets, which have been sold to them in the open market. For years it has been a crime in Indiana for any one to sell or barter to a minor any pistol or deadly weapon.

It is true in Indiana that deadly weapons are not carried to anything like the extent they are in some states near by, but the whole subject of the sale of pistols and weapons that can be concealed ought to be regulated by law.

COLLATERAL INHERITANCE LAW.

Another matter that has consumed a great deal of the time of this office has been the litigation respecting taxation. I have become thoroughly convinced that the most just and equitable tax, and the one that rests easiest upon those who have to pay such taxes, is a collateral inheritance tax. Such taxes are by no means new. Laws providing for them have existed in Pennsylvania for three-quarters of a century, and have been enacted and sustained by the courts in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Louisiana, Maine, Missouri, Montana, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and the revenue laws of the United States. They exist in five of the Canadian provinces, in England and in most, if not all, European countries.

Since 1850 the supreme court of the United States has, in ten different decisions, sustained the constitutionality of succession tax law, and have never yet held one unconstitutional. That court has held that "The right to take property by devise or descent is a creature of the law and not a natural right and privilege, and therefore the authority which confers it may impose conditions upon it," and that "The states may tax the privilege, discriminate between relatives and between these and strangers and grant exemptions; and are not precluded from this power by the provisions of the respective state constitutions requiring uniformity and equality of taxation," and it has also been held that a graduated scale of taxation by which a larger rate of taxation is levied upon larger estates is not unconstitutional.

There are two kinds of inheritance tax laws, both of which have been sustained by all the courts that have passed upon the question; one is a direct inheritance tax law, and the other is the collateral. By collateral inheritance tax law is generally meant a tax upon the right to take either by devise or descent from some collateral heir. If a person dies, leaving no widow or widower and no children or their descendants, then a certain portion of the property of such decedent, above a stated sum, shall go to the state as a tax upon the right to take such property. Such taxes are levied upon estates above say $20,000 or $30,000 in value. These taxes may be progressive, increasing with the value of the estate.

It ought not to be the purpose of such a law to increase the gross amount of taxes collected. As a general rule taxes are already too high. It costs too much to conduct the government. Instead of studying methods of increasing levies and raising taxes to be expended largely by those who pay little or none of such taxes, the purpose of legislation ought to be to find ways and means to reduce taxes. A well graduated inheritance tax law ought in some degree to result in such reduction.

The rate of taxation, when compared with the earning power of money, is very high. It is a startling fact that while United States bonds, which represent unhazarded money, bear less than two per cent. interest, the taxes in very many communities in Indiana runs about two per cent. In some states the tax rate aggregates six, eight, ten and twelve per cent. upon the assessed value of the property. Where, therefore, can taxes fall lightest upon those who have to pay? Certainly no place better than upon those who have in no wise or way assisted in accumulating a fortune, yet who at the end of the life of the decedent stand ready to take a fortune without having assisted in the slightest degree in creating same.

There is no natural right of inheritance. It is all artificial and statutory. The devolution of property is always under statutory control. A collateral inheritance tax is a most just and equitable tax and falls more lightly upon beneficiaries than any tax known to our law. Frequently property devolutes to a far removed collateral heir, who not only has not assisted in the acquisition, but who is surprised at the unexpected benefaction.

These laws, where passed, have not only been universally approved, but, so far as I can ascertain, not one has ever been repealed. I therefore recommend the passage of the collateral inheritance tax law on all estates above $20,000, and that such tax be progressive in character.

Certainly the state, which has given constant protection to the decedent, and has guarded the rights of property in all the years during the accumulation of an estate, ought in a small way to be repaid for such care and protection, when otherwise all of the decedent's estate may go not only to strangers from the state, but strangers in blood or aliens in citizenship. No more just law could be passed.

SALARIES FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS.

Another matter of importance, the consideration of which has pressed upon me, is that of the salary of prosecuting attorneys. Under the law as it now stands, prosecuting attorneys profit by the infliction of penalties upon the accused. This law is indefensible and is not of the choosing of prosecuting attorneys. They do not want such a law, nor should the state permit such a law to stand.

No prosecuting officer, representing the state, should profit financially by the imprisonment of or the infliction of the death penalty upon the accused. Prosecuting officers ought to be on a salary. Under such a system the accused could not charge the prosecution against him to be for mercenary motives, and the prosecuting attorney would feel a greater freedom in prosecuting offenses.

Under the present system many persons are practically imprisoned for debt. They accidentally commit some trivial offense, and being unable to pay the fines, costs and fees, work out the judgment in prison. By the present law the state not only loses their services as wage earners, but is compelled at the same time to take care of them in idleness, while the accused is made worse by imprisonment.

Nearly every county officer is now on a salary. There is no just reason why the prosecuting attorney should not likewise be put on a salary. I recommend that prosecuting attorneys in Indiana be put on annual salaries, graded according to the work done and the population of the districts in which the work is done by them, just as the salaries of other offices are fixed under the constitution. I advise that the law shall not apply to those prosecuting attorneys in office at the time of the taking effect of the law.

TRUSTS.

No trust has been incorporated in Indiana under our law during the last four years. Foreign corporations have purchased individual plants in this state and are operating them in connection with their other plants, purchased elsewhere. The federal authorities are now engaged in a prosecution which will test to the limit the necessity of further legislation by congress, or the necessity for a constitutional amendment which will enable congress to adequately regulate, or totally destroy, every form of trust or combination.

It is apparent that control of combinations should be general in character, for, while one state might drive manufacturing concerns from its borders, it would only result in closing down all domestic factories and the furnishing of the products thereof to the people of such state by the factories of a foreign state, where legislation was friendly to such combinations, as it now is in more than a half-dozen states of the Union.

General laws and regulations for concerns that do a general business throughout the United States has come to be, by common consent, the only effective remedy available.

For centuries it has been the common law of England—inherited by us—that any combination of capital that stifles competition is against public policy and public good. I believe this tenet is as binding today as ever. The question is: How can this regulation be best effected?

I look with confidence to the results of the pending litigation in the federal courts, and to the general control of the entire subject by congress, and the enactment of such legislation as shall be found necessary.

During my term more than two hundred co-operative and home building schemes have been concocted in, or have been brought into the state of Indiana for the purpose of selling stocks, bonds, debentures, shares or contracts to the unwary.

They have been for various purposes and designs, ostensibly, of course, for the purpose of benefiting the victim who was foolish enough to invest his money in them. In reality they were organized for the purpose of fleecing the laboring classes and those who were not schooled in the art of finance, and solely for the benefit of the promoters.

I have relentlessly pursued them, and shall continue to do so while I am in office. This state now is practically clear of these adventurers and fake concerns.

There ought to be a statute making it a criminal offense to deal in the class of contracts, bonds, stocks and debentures that these financial highwaymen deal in. All over Indiana can be found the victims of these rascals, who have paid money into the treasuries of these concerns, and who never will recover a dollar therefrom.

DONALDSON FARM.

In the former part of this report is told the story of the escheat case of the lands formerly owned by George Donaldson. This case is now in the supreme court and if it should be affirmed it will bring to the state about two hundred acres of well timbered and well watered land, excellently suited to the propagation and preservation of game and for a botanic garden. It is well located, being near the intersection of the Monon and the B. & O. South-western railroads, in Lawrence county, Indiana, near Mitchell.

This land possesses natural advantages, having several caves, one of which is very extensive.

I recommend that if this cause should be affirmed that the state of Indiana keep this property as a state park and preserve for the purposes above indicated, as other states are keeping and have kept preserves in their boundaries.

ASSISTANTS.

To have accomplished all of the enormous work of this office that has been completed during the last four years would have been utterly impossible with any other than the most capable assistants.

Mr. Merrill Moores, as Assistant Attorney-General, and Mr. Cassius C. Hadley, as Deputy Attorney-General, have worked without limit of time or energy, not only during the hours of the day, but at night and sometimes until the early hours of the morning. They have conscientiously and with marked ability assisted in the work of the office. I am within the limits of moderation in saying that never in the history of this office has any Attorney-General been surrounded with assistants who have been more capable or who have more willingly performed the duties of their respective places than these assistants. They are two of the best lawyers in Indiana, and are entitled to their full share of whatever praise may be due this office for its work during the last four years.

The traveling deputy, Mr. Charles B. Lockhart, is a thoroughly capable official and has performed well the duties devolving upon the traveling deputy. His treatment of county officials, while of a strictly business and expert character, has nevertheless been courteous.

Mr. Frost King, the chief clerk, and Mrs. Minnie C. Morgan, stenographer, who are experts in their line, have in no small degree lightened the burdens of the office by the rapid, accurate and thoroughly capable way in which they have performed their duties. None could have done better.

WILLIAM L. TAYLOR,
Attorney-General.

OPINIONS.

DEATH OF JUDGE—ELECTION OF SUCCESSOR.

November 10, 1900.

His Excellency James A. Mount, Governor of Indiana:

Sir—In answer to your inquiry respecting the election of Mr. John H. Akin, as successor to Judge William J. Vesey, of the superior court of Allen county, Indiana, I have the honor to report that the question of the election of a successor to one appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the judge of the superior court of Allen county was distinctly decided by the supreme court of Indiana in the case of The State, ex rel. Hench, v. Chapin, 110 Ind. 272; in which case the court held that a person elected to succeed one appointed to fill a vacancy caused by death was elected to fill out the unexpired term of the deceased, the superior court of Allen county being created pursuant to a statute, not pursuant to the constitution of the State.

Therefore Mr. Akin would be commissioned as judge for the unexpired term of Judge Dawson, deceased.

WITHDRAWAL OF RESIGNATION AFTER FILING WITH THE GOVERNOR.

December 18, 1900.

Hon. James A. Mount, Governor of Indiana:

Sir—You ask:

“Has any officer or member of any of the boards of trustees of this state the right to withdraw a resignation after having filed the same in this office?”

This question has been decided by the supreme court of Indiana in the case of State v. Hauss, 43 Ind. 105, where they hold that “a written resignation of an office to take immediate effect, when transmitted by the officer to and received by the officer or authority appointed to receive it, can not be withdrawn, and there is then a vacancy in the office."

In that case, one Lockhart, who was sheriff of Gibson county, forwarded his resignation to the governor by mail, June 16, 1871, and also informed the auditor that he had forwarded his resignation to the governor to take immediate effect. On the same day the auditor issued notice to the commissioners to meet in special session on the 19th of June. Before the commissioners met, under the call, Lockhart determined to retain the office and not resign, and before his notice to the board had been presented to or laid before them he informed the auditor and one of the commissioners that he had withdrawn his resignation, and on the same day telegraphed the governor to withdraw the resignation; in which withdrawal Governor Baker concurred.

The commissioners met and appointed Hauss sheriff, who qualified and entered upon the discharge of his office. After fully considering the question, the supreme court say:

"The statute has designated the governor as the officer to whom a sheriff shall transmit the resignation of his office. It nowhere confers upon him the power of permitting a withdrawal. He is appointed by law to receive the resignation; that, in the absence of any other authority or direction, implies a direction to retain and keep it. Our conclusion is that when an officer has transmitted his written resignation of an office to, and it has been received by an officer or authority appointed by law to receive it, to take immediate effect, he can not withdraw it, and that there is a vacancy to be filled by the proper authority."

RIGHT OF GOVERNOR TO COMMUTE SENTENCE.

To the Governor:

Sir—You ask if you have the right as governor to commute sentences administered under the reformatory and indeterminate sentence laws to a shorter time than the minimum fixed in the statute.

The reformatory law provides that in sentences inflicted under it the convict be directed to "be confined therein for a term not less than the minimum time prescribed by the statutes of this state as a punishment for such offense, and not more than the maximum time prescribed by such statutes therefor." (Acts of 1897, p. 73.)

The indeterminate sentence law contains substantially the same provision. (Acts of 1897, p. 219.)

Article 5, §17 of the constitution, speaking of the authority of the governor, says:

"He shall have the power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons, after conviction, for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment, subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by law."

It has been decided that the governor has an unqualified authority to grant pardons, which may be absolute or conditional in his discretion as he may deem wise.

The word "commute" is well understood, and has been frequently defined by the courts. In the case of Rich v. Chamberlain, 107 Mich., p. 383, the supreme court of Michigan say:

"To commute is defined: To exchange one penalty or punishment for another less severe. The change of punishment to which a person has been condemned into a less severe one. The substitution of a less for a greater penalty or punishment."

If a person has been sentenced to prison for a period of not less than two nor more than fourteen years, it is evident that a reduction of the minimum to a period shorter than two years is the exchanging of one penalty or punishment for another less severe, or a substitution of a less for a greater penalty or punishment, as in the definition quoted.

I am, consequently, of opinion that you have undoubted authority to commute the minimum sentence of a convict under the indeterminate sentence or reformatory law to any period of time less than that given in the original sentence, and that such commutation will not operate an absolute pardon, but will simply operate to give the proper board authority, under the restrictions provided by law, to parole the prisoner at the expiration of the period fixed in your commutation, instead of being compelled to wait for a term of the minimum sentence before they are at liberty to act.

JURISDICTION OF METROPOLITAN POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

August 12, 1901.

To the Governor:

Sir—You ask as to the right of metropolitan police commissioners and officers to enforce the laws of the state beyond the corporation lines of the cities within and for which they are appointed.

The general law provides (R. S. 1894, §1771) that “All judicial officers, sheriffs * * * police officers

* * * may arrest and detain any person found violating any law of this state until a legal warrant can be obtained.”

The metropolitan police law provides by section 6 (Acts 1897, p. 90):

“The officers and members of said metropolitan police force shall possess all the common law and statutory powers of a constable, except for the service of civil process.”

It is to be noted that no words whatever are used limiting these powers to the corporate territory. The general law with regard to constables (R. S. 1894, §8054) provides as follows:

“Constables, in the discharge of their duties, shall have power to act throughout their respective counties, unless specially restrained by law.”

It is, therefore, my opinion that metropolitan police officers have authority to enforce the laws of the state in any part of the counties in which the cities for which they are appointed are located.

QUARTERLY REPORT AND ACCOUNTING OF BOARD OF MANAGERS OF INDIANA REFORMATORY.

December 13, 1901.

Hon. Winfield T. Durbin, Governor of Indiana:

Sir:—In answer to your request for an opinion as to the duty of the board of managers of the Indiana Reformatory to make a quarterly report and accounting for the receipts and expenditures of the reformatory, I have to say that by section 17 of the act establishing the reformatory (Acts of 1897, page 69), it is provided:

"That the board of managers of said reformatory shall cause an accurate account to be kept of all receipts and expenditures of said reformatory, and the business transactions thereof; that out of the money received from the earnings of the prisoners therein confined, and the sale of products of the labor of said prisoners, the said board shall have authority to pay the salaries of all officers and employes of such reformatory, and such portion thereof as shall not be required for the payment of such salaries shall be converted quarterly into the state treasury and receipted for by the treasurer of state: Provided, however, That before making the payments in this section referred to, said board shall receive the consent of the governor of the state so to do."

Two years later an act was passed (Acts 1899, page 187), which provides as follows:

"The respective boards of trustees, boards of control and boards of managers of the benevolent, penal and reformatory institutions of the state, including the Indiana State Soldiers' Home, shall, on the 30th day of April, and the 31st day of October of each year, make a report in detail to the governor of the state, of all earnings, receipts from the sale of products or labor, and from all sources whatever, except appropriations from the state for the semi-annual period ending on such 30th day of April, and the 31st day of October of each year.

"2. At the time of filing the report required by section one of this act, such board of trustees, board of control, or board of managers shall pay into the state treasury all moneys received by them, or either of them, during such semi-annual periods, as shown by such report."

In 1901 a proviso was added to this section which applies only to the State Soldiers' Home, and is not pertinent to this inquiry.

It will be perceived that the act creating the Indiana Reformatory requires quarterly report and accounting, from the board of managers of that institution, and that the later act, which is a general law, applicable to all the benevolent, penal and reformatory institutions of the state, requires a semi-annual reporting and accounting.

It is a well settled rule of law that where an apparent inconsistency exists in two acts passed at different sessions of the general assembly, the later act will not be held to repeal the earlier act, by implication, if they can be reasonably construed together, and the courts do not favor repeals by implication.

These acts can very readily be construed together, and so construing them, it is my opinion that the board of managers of the Indiana Reformatory is absolutely bound by the act of 1897 and must make a quarterly accounting to the proper officers for all receipts and expenditures, and all business transactions of the institution of which they have control, and must turn over quarterly to the state treasurer the moneys shown to be due by such report, as required by the law of 1897.

The proviso of the act of 1897 obviously means that the board have authority to pay the salaries of officers and employes, with the consent of the governor, and only with such consent.

PAY PATIENTS AT INSTITUTION FOR FEEBLE MINDED AT FORT WAYNE.

Governor Winfield T. Durbin, Indianapolis, Indiana:

Sir—I am in receipt of your inquiry respecting the right to accept and care for “pay patients” at the state institution for the feeble minded at Ft. Wayne.

Section 3117, Burns’ R. S. 1901, makes express provision for receiving pay patients at such institution. This section reads as follows:

“Any persons who wish to enter a child into said institution for treatment, training, culture or improvement, and pay all the expenses and furnish attendant, may do so under agreement, rules and regulations prescribed by the superintendent and approved by the trustees. Under this section adults may be admitted under rules adopted by the trustees.

if their entire support and maintenance is provided for by some friend or other person."

By this section two things appear: First, that children may be accepted as pay patients, and, second, adults may be accepted as pay patients pursuant to said statute, which is plain and explicit.

GLOVE CONTEST AND PRIZE FIGHT.

December 21, 1901.

Hon. Winfield T. Durbin, Governor:

Sir—In your communication of the 20th you ask me to point out the distinction between a glove contest and a prize fight.

The only statute we have upon the question of prize fighting is section 2062, Burns R. S. 1901, which is as follows:

"Whoever engages as principal in any prize fight, or attends any such fight as a backer, trainer, second, umpire, assistant or reporter, shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months."

Neither the legislature nor our supreme court has defined what is meant by the term "prize fight" as used in the statute above quoted. But the decisions of other states are to the effect that a prize fight is a pugilistic encounter or boxing match between two persons for a prize or wager where it is the intent of either party to inflict some degree of bodily harm upon his opponent, and includes all fights of this character, however conducted.

The statute of Michigan, upon the crime of prize fighting, is as follows:

"Any person who shall hereafter be a party to or engage in a prize fight * * * shall be punished," etc.

Under this statute, in the case of People v. Taylor, 96 Mich. 576, the court say:

"Prize fighting is prohibited by the statute, and there is no species of prize fighting which is innocent while this statute is in force."

A glove contest is not mentioned or defined by our statutes, and is unknown to our laws. If a contest were had between two persons, with soft gloves where no prize or wager was at stake, and where there was no intent upon the part of either contestant to inflict any degree of bodily harm upon his opponent, such a contest, in my opinion, would not be a violation of any statute.

But it is my opinion that any contest between two persons, with their fists, with or without gloves, for a prize or reward, either for points or to a finish, where there is an intent upon the part of either contestant to inflict any degree of bodily harm upon his opponent, is unlawful under the laws of this state.

You also ask:

“Can the mayor issue a permit that will supersede the authority of the police board controlling such matters?”

The crime of prize fighting is a crime against the laws of the state. No mayor has any power to license crime; it is his duty to prevent crime. And any permit issued by any mayor of any city which would authorize the giving of any exhibition in violation of any law of the state would be absolutely null and void; and it would be the duty of the police board to give no heed whatever to any such permit.

Note.—Since the above opinion was written the supreme court, in the case of State v. Patton, has decided what constitutes a prize fight in harmony with this opinion.

PRINTING ANNUAL REPORTS.

Hon. Winfield T. Durbin, Governor:

Sir—The general law requires that the auditor, secretary and treasurer of state, the superintendent of public instruction, the trustees and superintendents of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane and the asylums for the deaf and dumb and blind, shall annually report to the governor, with the proviso that in making out these reports the superintendents of the benevolent institutions shall set forth each item of expenditure on account of said institutions separately.

Different provisions with regard to the reports are made by the different statutes for the several institutions. For convenience, the statutes with regard to these reports are referred to, each reference being to Burns' Revision of 1901.

Blind institution, §§3074, 3053;
 Bureau of statistics, §§7760, 7761;
 Deaf and dumb, §3068;
 Factory inspector, §7087;
 Feeble-minded school, §§3115, 3122, 3134;
 Female reformatory, §§8265, 8296;
 Insane hospitals, §§3041, 3042, 3044; 3208;
 Labor commissioners, §7050-o;
 Librarian, §7737-t;
 Library boards, §7737-k;
 Orphans' homes, §§3146, 3161, 3162;
 State prison and reformatory, §§8245, 8253-g;
 Reform school for boys, §8307;
 University, §§6081, 6084, 6085.

With regard to the printing of these reports, the law provides that the board of public printing, consisting of the governor, the secretary and auditor of state,

“may eliminate from any report such matters as they may deem unnecessary to be published.”

This authority to eliminate in its discretion, by the board of public printing, is clear, positive and can not be questioned.

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF STATE BOARD OF EMBALMERS.

To the Governor:

Dear Sir—At your request I have examined the first annual report of the state board of embalmers, filed November 4, 1901, and in answer to your question as to whether the requirements and restrictions of the law have been fully complied with in the form of report, I have to say that the embalming act of 1901 provides that

“It shall be the duty of said state board on or before the first Monday of November of each and every year to make report in writing to the governor of this state, containing a detailed statement of the nature of receipts and the manner of expenditures."

(R. S. 1901, §6350-h.)

The general law with regard to the disbursement of state funds requires that the disbursement

"shall be by vouchers specifically itemizing in every particular the different purposes for which the treasury warrant is authorized. That these vouchers shall not be approved by any officer or officers authorized to approve the same, unless so itemized, giving minutæ of detail."

In view of these provisions of the law, it is my opinion that the report is incomplete and that, for instance, in item 31 of the report, the cost of the respective items should be specifically set out as to each item of the account.

As to your second question, whether the law provides remuneration for services to members of the state board of embalmers, I have to say that there is absolutely no provision whatever in the act creating that board, or elsewhere, providing any compensation for any member of the board, except an annual salary of $100 for the secretary.

The law provides, as to the other members of the board, that they shall receive no salary, "but the actual traveling and necessary expenses of the board and its members shall be paid out of the receipts as hereinafter directed."

The law provides neither fees, salary nor per diem for the members of the board other than the secretary's salary, and the per diem not being allowed by law, any charge for per diem is illegal and moneys so paid must be refunded.

In answer to your question as to what are the proper steps to be taken to secure the return of money so distributed, I have to say that the members of the board are individually liable to the state for moneys so improperly drawn, and are also civilly liable for the amount so obtained, with damages to the amount of not less than ten dollars nor more than thirty dollars, under R. S. 1901, §6549.

The act is also made a felony, under R. S. 1901, §2353, punishable by imprisonment in the state's prison not more than fourteen nor less than two years, and by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, nor less than ten dollars.

If the money should not be repaid it can be recovered from the treasurer of the board, on his official bond of five hundred dollars, provided by the act creating the board.

BOND OF ADJUTANT OF INDIANA STATE SOLDIERS' HOME.

To his Excellency Hon. Winfield T. Durbin, Governor:

Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of the 3d inst., transmitting the communication of General James R. Carnahan, president board of trustees of the I. S. S. H., relative to the bond of the adjutant of said home.

Section 4 of the act of February 23, 1895, as amended by the act of 1897 (being §8373-d, Burns' R. S. 1901), provides that the bond of the adjutant of such a home shall be in the penal sum of two thousand dollars, with freehold sureties or indemnity insurance.

This is the limit of the bond required by statute and no additional bond would be valid and binding on the sureties, because there is no law providing for it; nor is there any law authorizing any other bond to be executed other than that provided by the statute.

BOND OF MEMBERS OF BOARDS OF TRUSTEES HAVING MANAGEMENT OF STATE INSTITUTIONS.

February 18, 1902.

Hon. Winfield T. Durbin, Governor of Indiana:

Sir—Yours of the 18th, with the request for opinion whether the members of the boards of trustees having the management of the state institutions are required to give bond as a part of the necessary qualification before entering upon the discharge of their duties, received.

The act of March 5, 1897 (Acts 1897, p. 157), does not provide for a bond either for the treasurer of the boards or the members thereof. This act covers but a part of the provisions of the law of 1889, and in effect is largely a supplemental law.

Section 8 of this law, which is the repealing clause, distinctly provides:

“But this act shall not be construed to repeal any of the acts creating or governing such institutions, except the same be in conflict herewith.”

The latter part of section 4 of the act of 1897 provides:

“Such members of said boards of trustees so selected shall on the acceptance of such office qualify the same as the law now requires of the trustees of said several institutions.”

This section, together with the above quoted portion of section 8, clearly shows that all parts of the law of 1899 remain in force, except the parts necessarily repealed by implication by the act of March 5, 1897.

Section 1 of the act of March 5, 1889, among other things, provides for the qualification of members of the various boards therein named, to wit: The giving of a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, with sureties to be approved by the governor.

Since there is no provision for the method of qualification in the act of 1897, this method of qualification provided for in the act of 1889 must be the method to be adopted in qualifying as members of said boards, and this provision of the act of 1889 is in full force and effect.

AUTHORITY OF MAYOR OVER METROPOLITAN POLICE.

May 15, 1902.

Hon. Winfield T. Durbin, Governor of Indiana:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of the 9th inst., accompanied by the letter of the mayor of Jeffersonville. Your letter contains two questions:

(1) The right of an existing member of the city council to serve where the election of a successor has resulted in a tie.

(2) The authority of the mayor of a city over the police force organized under the metropolitan police law.

In answer to the first question, let me say that the old law, as well as the present law, provides that existing members of the common council hold until successors are elected and qualified; while this is true, the statute provides, in case of a tie, that a new election shall be held in such ward.

The law provides that two councilmen are to be elected from each ward; therefore, if one councilman is elected from a ward at the last election, and there is a tie between another candidate for council and a fourth candidate, I do not know how it is to be determined which of the old members of the council has the right to continue as a member from that ward. In other words, how can the claimant in the case to which you refer, say that he, and not the other member of the council from that ward, is the hold-over?

As to the second question: Section 6 of the metropolitan police law, which is applicable to the city of Jeffersonville, provides that the officers and members of such metropolitan police force shall possess all the common law and statutory powers of constables, except for the service of civil process, and section 8 (being §3724 R. S. 1901) covers the powers of the mayor over such police. The latter part of this section provides:

“It shall be the duty of the police force hereby created, when directed by the mayor of such city, to carry out all orders and resolutions of the board of aldermen and common council of such city as shall have two boards, and of the common council of such city when but one of such boards exists, which pertain to the enforcement of the ordinances of such city.”

It will furthermore be observed that the police officers and members are under the control, primarily, of the board of metropolitan police commissioners and not the mayor, and these commissioners are appointed by the governor. The board, and not the mayor, therefore, is in control of the police force, and the mayor's authority over the force is stated in the above language, namely: To carry out the ordinances of the city.

The very object of the metropolitan police system was to remove the police force from local control. The mayor, therefore, of the city has not the right to order the police force to arrest a member of the council for the violation of a state law.

POWER OF GOVERNOR TO PARDON OR PAROLE INMATE OF INDIANA INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS AND THE REFORM SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

August 18, 1902.

Col. Charles E. Wilson, Secretary to the Governor:

Dear Sir—You ask for the information of the governor if, under the constitution and the law creating the Indiana Industrial School for Girls, and the Reform School for Boys, the governor has authority to pardon or parole an inmate of either institution.

The constitution (Article V, section 17) provides that the governor

“shall have the power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons after conviction for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law.”

The industrial school for girls is now what was formerly the reformatory department of the reform school for girls and woman's prison, and, under the law, girls who commit felonies are committed to the woman's prison, which was formerly the penal department. As to the industrial school, the law provides that it shall receive girls not under eight nor over fifteen years of age,

(1) On complaint and proof by the parent or guardian that by reason of incorrigible or vicious conduct, she has rendered her control beyond the power of such parent or guardian.

(2) On complaint by any citizen and proof that she is a proper subject for guardianship, in consequence of her vagrancy, or incorrigible or vicious conduct, and from moral depravity, or otherwise, the parent or guardian is incapable or unwilling to exercise proper care or discipline.

(3) On complaint and proof by the township trustee that she is destitute of a suitable home and of adequate means of obtaining an honest living, or is in danger of being brought up to lead an idle and immoral life.

Girls received under the terms of this statute are received simply for guardianship and not "after conviction for" any offense, and as to their confinement, it not being an offense but a guardianship, the governor has no power to pardon.

The discretion to release such girls after the age of eighteen is wholly in the board of managers. The law, however, provides (R. S. 1901, §8277) that where a girl under the age of sixteen has been tried by a court for a criminal offense for which she might on conviction be sentenced to the county jail, it shall be competent for the court or jury, at their discretion, on conviction, to substitute confinement in the reformatory department—otherwise, the industrial school—for imprisonment in the county jail. Such inmates of the industrial school may unquestionably be pardoned by the governor, precisely as may any inmate of the woman's prison.

Technically, the governor has no power to parole. The constitutional power of the governor is to pardon, and this pardon may be either absolute or conditional. It is the common practice to call a conditional pardon by the governor a parole, but this is an erroneous usage of the word, which is to be applied only, legally, to a conditional release, under the authority of law, by the board in control of the institution, or otherwise authorized to grant such releases.

It is provided by section 8289 that whenever an inmate of the penal department, by continuous good conduct, gives evidence of permanent reformation, she may be transferred to the reformatory department on probation. Such transfer of course would not forfeit her right to a pardon, but she can be pardoned by the governor, either absolutely or conditionally, precisely as can persons sent to the industrial school, for crime.

Boys are received at the reform school on very nearly the same terms as girls at the industrial school. Those who are sent there for guardianship, under section 8308, can not be pardoned by the governor; but boys who are sent there under section 8310, for crime, are within the authority of the governor to pardon.

A rule which is easily remembered, and is applicable to both institutions, is that persons committed for crime may be pardoned, while those committed merely for guardianship are not within the reach of the governor's pardoning power.

LIBRARIES—ESTABLISHED BY PRIVATE DONATION.

February 18, 1901.

Hon. Newton W. Gilbert, Lieutenant-Governor of Indiana:

Dear Sir—At your request I have examined Senate Bill No. 113, being a bill authorizing township advisory boards to levy a tax for the increase and maintenance of libraries established by private donation.

It will be observed that section 1 of this bill provides that in any township in this state in which there has been, or may be hereafter established by private donation, a library of the value of a thousand dollars or more, the township advisory board of said township shall annually levy not less than one cent nor more than six cents on the hundred dollars upon the taxable property within the limits of such township, including the taxable property within municipal corporations within such township; which tax shall be paid when collected to the managing officers of such library.

It is very apparent from an examination of this bill that it is a bill for raising revenue, within the meaning of article IV, section 17, of the Indiana constitution, and being such it must originate, if at all, in the house of representatives.

The fact that the money is to be paid by the treasurer directly to the library trustees makes no difference. See Succession of Sala, 50 La. Ann.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR AS SPECIAL JUDGE.

August 27, 1901.

Hon. Newton W. Gilbert, Angola, Ind.:

Dear Sir—You ask if, being lieutenant-governor of Indiana, you are eligible to discharge the duties of a special judge, under R. S. 1881, §1381; R. S. 1894, §1444?

The constitution of the state provides, by section 9 of article II, as follows:

“Nor shall any person hold more than one lucrative office at the same time, except as by this constitution expressly permitted.”

And by section 24 of article V, it provides:

“Neither the governor nor lieutenant-governor shall be eligible to any other office during the term for which he shall have been elected.”

The statute for the appointment of special judges provides that:

(R. S. 1894, §1444.)

It will be observed that the constitution forbids the holding of more than one lucrative office, and that it provides that the lieutenant-governor shall not be eligible to another office.

The question then arises whether a person charged with the duty of serving in the place of a judge in one case, or temporarily, during the period while he discharges such duty, holds an office or is an officer within the meaning of the constitution.

The supreme court of the United States, in the case of United States v. Hartwell, 6 Wall., 393, defines an office as follows:

“An office is a public station, or employment, conferred by the appointment of government. The term embraces the ideas of tenure, duration, emolument and duties.”

In the case of Sheboygan v. Parker, 3 Wall., 96, the supreme court of the United States say, of persons appointed to discharge a special duty for a county, that they “are in no proper sense ‘county officers.’” “They do not exercise ‘continuously, and as a part of the regular and permanent administration of the government, any important public powers, trusts or duties.’”

We have, however, the benefit of the opinion of the supreme court of this state upon the bearing of the constitutional provisions quoted on this statute.

In Dukes v. State, 11 Ind. 557, the competency of the circuit judge having been excepted to, he named a common pleas judge to preside at a murder trial. The supreme court say, on page 563:

“The objection is that the common pleas judge was thus holding two offices, in contravention of the constitution. We do not think the case fully within the constitutional prohibition. The permission given to the common pleas judge to sit for a circuit judge, in a particular case in which the latter is incompetent, does not, in our opinion, vest in the former the two offices of judge of the circuit court and of the common pleas. The office of circuit judge was not vacant, and, of course, the person presiding at this trial did not and could not, by such mode, get into it.”

In the matter of Hathaway, 71 N. Y. 238, the court of appeals of New York say:

“A referee, for the trial and decision of actions, is an officer exercising judicial powers under public authority. So receivers appointed by the courts, and commissioners for the appraisal of damages for lands taken for public use, are officers; and strictly and technically exercise the functions of an office. But they are not ‘public officers’ within the inhibition of the constitution * * *. While the duties of the class of officers last named, referees, etc., were of a public nature, and in a sense concerned the public and the administration of justice, and were exercised under authority derived from the state directly, and not from individuals, still they related especially to particular individuals and a specific litigation; and their authority is restricted to specific matters, and no general powers are conferred upon them authorizing to act in respect to all like cases, or in any case or matter other than specified and named in their appointment. They owed no duty to the public, and could perform no service for the public. The trust they exercise and the duties they perform are 'transient and occasional.'

* * * Judge Platt defines the legal meaning of the term 'office' to be 'an employment on behalf of the government in any station or public trust, not merely transient, occasional or incidental.' (In re Attorneys, etc., 20 Johns. (N. Y.), 492.) * * * 'Public office,' as used in the constitution, has respect to a permanent trust to be exercised in behalf of the government, or of all citizens who may need the intervention of a public functionary or officer, and in all matters within the range of the duties pertaining to the character of the trust. It means a right to exercise generally, and in all proper cases, the functions of a public trust or employment, and to receive the fees and emoluments belonging to it, and to hold the place and perform the duty for the term and by the tenure prescribed by law."

In the case of Bunn v. People, 45 Ill. 397, the supreme court of Illinois, in brief, say:

"A person employed for a special and single object, in whose employment there is no enduring element, nor designed to be, and whose duties, when completed, although years may be required for their performance, ipso facto terminate the employment, is not an officer, in the sense in which that term is used in the constitution."

I am, therefore, of opinion that the lieutenant-governor is eligible to discharge the duties of judge pro tem. or special judge, under the statute above quoted, and that his acts as such special judge are valid and binding, and that discharge by him of the duties of judge do not have the effect of vacating or in any way impairing his right to continue in the office of lieutenant-governor.

FRATERNAL CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION.

November 28, 1900.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—Answering your communication regarding the Fraternal Co-Operative Association, of this city, in which you ask if this association is not exceeding the powers conferred upon it under the voluntary association act; and, further, if it is not violating the building and loan association laws of Indiana by substantially attempting to do the business contemplated by the building and loan association laws of the state.

From the papers submitted to me, I find this association assumes to be organized under the ninth subdivision of section 1 of the voluntary association act, in force March 5, 1895. This subdivision is as follows:

“Ninth. To organize associations for the purpose of buying, holding and selling real estate.”

The prudential concerns of said association are managed, directed and under the control of a board of trustees. The president's term is unlimited. The terms of the other officers shall be for one year, and the terms of the trustees shall be for five years. There is no capital stock.

The plan of doing business is substantially as follows:

A person who desires to become a member shall make an application to the association and pay to the association the sum of $3.00 as a membership fee and subscribe for a certain number of shares in such association and agree to pay to the treasurer of such association the sum of seventy-five cents per month per share, of which twenty-five cents goes to the officers as expense fund and fifty cents is placed in the benefit fund for the benefit of the member until such time as such member shall be entitled to take possession of a piece of real estate purchased by such association, or, as the term is used, until such time as his share matures.

There are no restrictions upon the length of time that such member may be compelled to remain on the waiting list. There is nothing in the by-laws or articles of association which prescribes when it shall be the duty of the association to purchase a home for the member. Under the by-laws the association may keep a member waiting for any length of time.

In a pamphlet put out by this association for advertising purposes, I find this paragraph:

“The question most frequently asked is: ‘How long will it take for me to be benefited?’ This is a question we can not definitely answer, as it depends to a large extent on the increase of membership. The speed with which we benefit shares depends on every member, for every application for new membership will bring you nearer your home. Therefore, you see it is to your interest to secure new members.”

When the member is informed that such association is ready to purchase him a home, he selects property, finds out the price and submits the same to the association, and if the title and price be satisfactory the association may purchase the same for such member. Such member then enters into another contract with such association by which contract he agrees to pay $2.75 per month per share, twenty-five cents of which each month goes to the expense fund and $2.50 to the benefit fund, until the sum paid into the benefit fund by such member equals the purchase price of said real estate, such payments not to exceed two hundred months, or more than sixteen years.

WITHDRAWAL.

Section 15 provides that if a share is kept in good standing for two years or more, and has not matured, the association will, upon surrender of such share, pay to its legal holder all money to its credit in the benefit fund, and receive said share and cancel the same on sixty days' notice. There is no provision for withdrawal prior to the two years after admission into the association.

FORFEITURE.

Section 17 provides that after such member is placed in possession of the property purchased for him, if he should fail to pay any of the installments agreed upon, he shall vacate the premises without controversy or cost to the association, having received ten days' notice so to do, unless the time is extended by the board of trustees.

Section 18 provides that before entering upon the property such member must agree to and sign a contract expressly waiving any title or apparent title to the property purchased for him by said association. The home contract agreement which he signs when entering upon the possession of the property contains the following stipulation:

"In the event that the stipulations and conditions assumed by the said are not complied with and .. he .. makes default in any one, or all, of them, and fails to perform his agreement in whole or in part, then this contract shall be absolutely void and all payments whatsoever made to said association on account of said agreement shall be forfeited to it, and said payments shall be considered as rent for use and occupation of said premises between the times when said payments were made, and this contract shall then be construed as a mere lease of said premises; and upon such default the said agrees to vacate the premises without previous notice, the same being waived, and give up possession of said real estate without process of law."

Section 25 provides that should any member's arrearages of installments remain unpaid for ten days after his share has matured, then said share, together with all payments to and interest in the association, shall be forfeited.

I have quoted largely from the by-laws and contracts of this association upon this question of forfeiture, it being, to my mind, one of the pernicious features of its plan. There is no provision anywhere that these forfeitures shall accrue to the benefit of the members of the association.

From all of the foregoing these facts appear:

First. There is no fixed period within which a member may receive property or his stock mature.

Second. There is no provision requiring the association to purchase property for members or permit members to select property at any fixed period or under any express condition.

Third. The association agrees that the shares shall mature in consecutive order; but there is no stipulation that the association shall, at such maturity, buy the property the member may select.

Fourth. If a member fails to pay an installment at any time within two years from his entrance into the association he forfeits all he has paid in, unless he complies with all of the conditions in section 25 of the by-laws; and even in that case he must pay, for the succeeding months after such default, twice the sum of the regular monthly installments for a number of months equal to the defaulted period. In other words, no member can cease paying voluntarily and withdraw anything he has paid in without the payment of all installments up to the period of two years from his entrance into the association.

Fifth. After a period of two years, if the member has not been supplied with real estate and desires to withdraw, he may do so, but he loses one-third of all he has paid in, together with interest on the same, said third having gone into the expense fund.

Sixth. If, after the stock matures and the member has received real estate, he defaults in any condition, stipulation or payment, he forfeits all he has paid into the association during all the years he has been a member, no matter for how long a period it may have been, and must at once surrender the property.

From the foregoing I conclude, as a matter of law:

First. There is no provision in the voluntary association laws of this state permitting the organization of an association to do business of the character hereinabove stated.

Second. The only law of this state which permits any association to do the general character of business conducted by this association is the building and loan association laws of the state.

Third. The building and loan association laws of this state do not permit either the expense fund or the forfeitures provided for in the by-laws of this association.

HOME CO-OPERATIVE UNION OF LIMA, OHIO.

December 5, 1900.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have carefully examined the constitution and by-laws, the form of application for membership and the literature of the Home Co-Operative Union, of Lima, Ohio.

This concern is attempting to do a business similar to that of the Fraternal Co-Operative Association of this city, concerning which I have already given you an opinion.

A member in the "Home Co-Operative Union" pays twenty cents a month on each share, five cents of which goes into the expense fund and fifteen cents to the so-called investment fund. The same vicious withdrawal and forfeiture features are found in this concern as appear in the by-laws of the Fraternal Co-Operative Association. There is no provision for withdrawing prior to two years without losing all the member has paid in. After two years, if he desires to withdraw, he may do so by giving thirty days' notice, and at the end of that time he receives back only the benefit fund, or seventy-five per cent. of the principal of his investments, without interest or profits.

If sickness or misfortune assails a member, the trustees may then grant such terms of further extension as may be deemed best, whatever that means.

FORFEITURE.

If the member fails to make any payment within ten days after such payment is due, he forfeits all he has paid theretofore, unless within twenty days from date of notice he pays up all unpaid dues; otherwise all money paid on his subscriptions, no matter for how long a period he may have been a member, or however much money he may have paid on his subscriptions, is all forfeited to the union.

I conclude as follows:

First. That the Home Co-Operative Union is attempting to do a building association business under the guise of a corporation to buy and sell real estate.

Second. That, if it does business in Indiana, it must be under the foreign building association act in force May 18, 1893 (Acts 1893, p. 274).

Third. The withdrawal and forfeiture features are wholly obnoxious to both the spirit and letter of the Indiana statutes governing the organization of building and loan associations and investment companies.

Fourth. As an investment company you have the undoubted authority, under said act of 1893, to examine and license same to do business within this state, and until so licensed this concern has no right to do business within this state of any kind or character; and if any person or persons solicit subscriptions to the capital stock of such concern without first procuring your certificate of authority, as provided for in section 6 of the above mentioned act, the party so soliciting subscriptions shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction may be fined in any sum not exceeding $500.00, to which may be added imprisonment, all as provided in section 12 of that law.

SECURITY REQUIRED FOR RESERVE ON INSURANCE POLICIES.

December 26, 1900.
Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter asking whether lien notes or loan certificates upon the reserve value of any policy issued by a life insurance company organized in Indiana pursuant to the act of February 10, 1889, can be accepted as a statutory security required in said act.

Section 10 of said act provides for the valuation of policies and the depositing in your office of the necessary reserve to secure such policies. The last clause in said act provides that no reserve need be deposited with you until the cash value of the policies in force exceeds the amount deposited in your office by such companies in the original act of formation.

If the cash value of the policies in force exceeds the original deposit, the clause next to the last in said section controls. This clause provides that, after ascertaining the net cash value of all policies in force, "the auditor of state shall notify said company of the amount thereof, and within ninety days after the date of such notification the officers of such company shall deposit with the auditor of state, for the security and benefit of its policy holders, an amount which, together with the sum already deposited with said officer, shall not be less than the amount of such ascertained value of all policies in force in the securities described in section 22 of this act, or in certificates of deposit in any solvent bank or trust company."

This is the statutory requirement, and section 22 describes the statutory securities which must be accepted by you to cover such net cash value. The securities described in section 22 of this act are as follows, to wit:

"* * * and in loans upon its own policies, provided that the amount so loaned shall not exceed the reserve fund against said policy at the time such loan is made."

Thus, after enumerating a large number of classes of securities which you must accept, it adds loans upon policies of the company not exceeding the reserve.

I have, therefore, to advise that loans upon policies not exceeding the reserve against the policy is a proper security, and must be accepted by you if tendered as such to secure such policies. The amount which can be accepted by you is limited strictly to the amount of the reserve against the policy at the time the loan is made.

I do not pass upon any particular form of note or security that must be accepted by you.

NATIONAL INTERMENT SOCIETY.

January 7, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir:—The blanks of the National Interment Society, with your letter, duly received. You say it is an incorporated company and that you have doubts whether it is not substantially undertaking to do, by indirection at least, an assessment insurance business, and ask for an opinion.

There is no statute in Indiana authorizing the incorporation of this kind of a company; nor is there enough literature to determine exactly the character of business intended to be done. The contract, so-called, states that on the payment of twenty-five cents, and on condition that the applicant is in good health, and that he will pay twenty cents a month during life, then, in that event, the interment society shall, at his death, give him a respectable funeral, according to rules set out on the back of the contract.

Clause 2, on the back of the contract, reads:

The funeral shall be equal to and similar to funerals by the undertakers selected, for which said undertaker charges

$100, but it is expressly stipulated that the word 'funeral' shall not be construed to include a grave or lot in any cemetery."

Clause 5, on the back of the contract, reads as follows:

"Failure to make any monthly payment as the same shall become due to the society, or its duly authorized agent, shall forfeit this contract, all rights thereunder and all sums paid thereon."

An insurance policy is nothing but a contract, and therefore the word "contract," instead of "policy," printed on the back of this instrument, does not indicate the character of the instrument. This forfeiture clause is similar to many insurance company forfeiture clauses. There is no stipulated sum to be paid; the only return guaranteed for these monthly payments is that the member shall have a respectable funeral.

Furthermore, he must be in good health when he goes into the society. It, therefore, is not an investment society, because investment societies do not inquire into the health of the investors.

I am of the opinion,

First. That no company doing the character of business here attempted can be organized under any existing law in Indiana.

Second. There is not enough literature submitted with your letter to determine whether this kind of business would be brought within the insurance laws of the state. It has some insurance company features, as above indicated.

HOLLAR'S HOME CO-OPERATIVE UNION.

February 27, 1901.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have examined the employment contract of the Hollar's Home Co-Operative Union Agency of Lima, Ohio.

It is an attempt of an individual to do practically that which the corporation, namely, the Home Co-Operative Union, of Lima, Ohio, was deprived of doing by the opinion of the supreme court of that state, which rendered a judgment of ouster on the petition of the attorney-general against such association. It is only an indirect way of doing that which the company can not do in this state. The contract, on its face, shows that it is simply a scheme to avoid the building and loan association laws, and has practically all the forfeiture features that were in the Home Co-Operative Association contract, and that association was denied the right to do business in this state.

I advise that no agent of Hollar's Home Co-Operative Union Agency, of Lima, Ohio, be permitted to transact business in this state, and that all be notified that they will be prevented from doing business.

RESERVE ACCUMULATION OF COMPANY REINCORPORATING UNDER ACT OF 1899.

March 19, 1901.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—You ask if a company reincorporating under the act of 1899 will have to deposit with the auditor of state the reserve accumulation on its policies for that part of the business written under the provisions of said law up to the time of its reincorporation.

Section 27 of the act of 1899 provides the method of reincorporation. Section 28 governs the status of the old corporation, including its rights and liabilities. This section provides:

- (1) That the corporate identity of such original company shall not be affected or changed;
- (2) The corporate rights of said original company shall not be affected in any manner;
- (3) That the corporate liabilities of said original company shall not be affected in any manner;
- (4) That all such rights and liabilities of such reincorporation or reorganization shall remain vested in and continue against the said original company as reincorporated, the same as they would if such company had not been reincorporated.

An exception is then made to assessment companies, which is not pertinent to the question here.

Therefore, if the law under which the policies issued by such original company prior to its reincorporation did not provide for depositing with you in cash or securities the reserve value of such policies, then it would not be necessary for the reorganized company to deposit with you in cash the reserve value of such policies so issued by said original company. Of course, all policies issued by such company after its reincorporation would be governed by the rule laid down in the act of February 10, 1899.

The securities required to be deposited with you on such reincorporation, as set forth in section 27, are the incorporating securities required by that law. This is plainly evident from the fact that the section, fixing the rights and liabilities of such reincorporated company, follows the provision defining how such original company may be reincorporated, and binds and controls all that has gone before in the law respecting such reincorporated company.

If such reorganized company takes up the policies of the original company and substitutes therefor new policies, issued pursuant to the law of 1899, then such reincorporated company would be required to deposit with you the reserve value of such policies, the same as if those policies had been originally issued by such reorganized company.

INSURANCE ACT (ACTS 1901, P. 408) UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

March 25, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir: In answer to your request for an opinion with regard to the constitutionality of the first section of Senate Act No. 127, I have to say that the first section of the act named attempts to amend an act of March 6, 1877, amending a previous act regulating foreign insurance companies, approved December 21, 1865.

It is a matter of regret to me that the general assembly overlooked the fact that the first section of the act of 1877, sought to be amended here, had been amended by the general assembly by an act approved March 6, 1899 (Acts 1899, p. 551), and that this amendment had, of course, superseded the law of 1877, so that, at the time of the passage of the senate bill referred to there was no act of 1877 in existence to amend, and, consequently, the act of 1901, to which you refer, is inoperative and void under the decision of the supreme court in Feibleman v. State, 98 Ind. 516.

INSURANCE ACT (ACTS 1901, P. 617) UNCONSTITUTIONAL IN PART.

March 27, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—You ask if the title of an act entitled “An Act entitled an act to amend sections two (2) and thirty-three (33) of an act entitled an act for the incorporation of insurance companies, defining their powers, and prescribing their duties, approved June 17, 1852, and declaring an emergency,” Acts 1901, p. 617, is broad enough to include the amendment to section 33 contained in the act.

The constitutional provision in relation to the subject matter and title of acts is as follows:

“Every act shall embrace but one subject and matters properly connected therewith, which subject shall be expressed in the title. But if any subject shall be embraced in the act which shall not be expressed in the title such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed in the title.”

(Ind. Const., Art. IV, §19.)

The act which is here sought to be amended was originally entitled, “An Act for the incorporation of insurance companies, defining their powers and prescribing their duties.” The subject matter of the act is obviously the incorporation of insurance companies. The “defining their powers and prescribing their duties” are “matters properly connected therewith.”

The regulation of foreign insurance companies is not expressed in the title; nor is it a matter properly connected therewith. In the original act of 1852, section 56 provided for the regulation of foreign insurance companies and their agents doing business in Indiana.

In a prosecution under this section of the law, the supreme court of Indiana, in the case of Igoe v. State, 14 Ind. 239, decided that section 56 was unconstitutional as not within the title of the act, the supreme court saying, after quoting the title:

“The reading of this title at once induces the conclusion that the various provisions of the act relate alone to companies to be incorporated within this state—in other words, to the incorporation, the powers and the duties of domestic insurance companies, and nothing else. It follows that the title of the act does not express the subject of foreign insurance companies, as embraced in section 56, and the result is that that section must be held a nullity, unless it is found to contain matter properly connected with the subject indicated in the title of the act. * * * We are of opinion that the section under consideration, as it stands in the act of 1852, is not within the requirements of the constitution, and, in consequence, the entire amendatory act of 1855, being, in effect, an amendment of section 56, is inoperative and void.”

The same question was before the supreme court again, with regard to the same act, in the case of Grubbs v. State, 24 Ind. 295, where, after a full consideration, the court again held that the title of this act would not include any regulation of foreign insurance companies.

Section 33 of the original act simply provided that “No company organized under the provisions of this act shall issue any note or bill as a circulating medium.” As amended it seeks to empower any life, health or accident, or any life, or accident, or health insurance company of any other state having a capital or assets required of companies organized under the laws of this state, to do business in Indiana upon complying with the other provisions of the laws of Indiana governing foreign insurance companies doing business in this state.

As this amendment relates exclusively to foreign insurance companies which were not in any way included in the title of either the original or amended law, it is absolutely void and of no effect, under the constitution and the two decisions of the supreme court above referred to.

There does not seem to be any section 2 in the act, the first section being a section to amend section 2 of the act of 1852 and the next section being numbered 3. The title is certainly awkward, but under the decisions of the supreme court in Citizens' Street Railroad Company v. Hall, 142 Ind. 254, it is probably sufficient to sustain the first section of the law.

SAVINGS BANKS—UNDER ACTS 1901, P. 155, STOCKHOLDER OF BANK IN WHICH FUNDS OF A SAVINGS BANK ARE DE-POSITED INELIGIBLE TO SERVE AS TRUSTEE OF SAVINGS BANK.

May 13, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—You ask if, under section 6 of the savings bank law, as amended in 1901, and also under section 19 of that law, a stockholder or director in a state or national bank in which the savings bank keeps part of its reserve on deposit is eligible to serve as trustee of the savings bank.

Section 6 as amended reads as follows:

“Whenever any trustee * * * shall borrow, directly or indirectly, for himself or any other person or persons, firm or firms (or corporation or corporations in which he is financially interested), any of the funds of such savings bank, or become surety for any borrower thereof, a vacancy shall thereby be created, and a successor shall be elected by the residue of the board of trustees by ballot,” etc.

The question you suggest is, then, in brief, whether a deposit of savings bank funds in an incorporated bank of which a trustee is stockholder or director constitutes a borrowing which vacates the office of the trustee.

I regret to state that the authorities on this question do not settle it so absolutely as to leave it entirely clear. There are many authorities which indicate that money deposited with a bank, whether or not it draws interest, is not borrowed money. In the case of Leavitt v. Yates, 4 Edws. Ch. (N. Y.) 164, the vice chancellor says:

“There is no express recognition of the power to borrow in the general banking law; nor are there any words of prohibition. If the power exists it is by implication, or as incidental to other powers expressly granted. Receiving deposits as understood in the practice of banking is different from borrowing money in the ordinary acceptance of that term, and the agreeing to allow interest on moneys deposited with a bank and giving notes or certificates or any other evidences of debt therefor does not constitute the act of doing so an act of borrowing. Hence the power of receiving deposits does not necessarily include the power of borrowing."

The reasoning of the vice chancellor in this case is followed in many cases where the courts, recognizing the right of receiving deposits as one of the necessary powers of a banking institution, discuss the question of the right of banks to borrow money. The cases of Curtis v. Leavitt, 15 N. Y. 9, and Fifth Ward Savings Bank v. First National Bank, 48 N. J. L. 513, are interesting as showing that the courts do not recognize this distinction.

In the recent case of Murphy v. Pacific Bank (Cal. 1900) 62 Pac. 1059, it was decided, under a law giving to non-stockholding depositors a preference over stockholders out of the assets of the bank, that a certificate of deposit is not a promissory note, and that a bank stockholder receiving a certificate of deposit does not loan the money to the bank, but is a mere stockholding depositor.

The question was before the supreme court of the United States in a case which went from Indiana to that court. Bank v. Lanier, 11 Wal. 369. It will be remembered that the national banking law forbids loans or discounts by a bank on the security of its own shares of stock. In the case it was argued that this inhibition did not extend to the case of deposits made by one bank with another. The supreme court say as to this contention, on page 375:

"But a deposit is nothing but a loan of money, and is within both the letter and spirit of the provision. It is well known that country banks keep on deposit in New York, with bankers and merchants, a considerable amount of money for their own convenience, for which they receive more or less of interest. But whether interest be obtained or not, these deposits are, equally with paper discounted over the counter of the bank, loans of money, and the reason of the rule is equally applicable to them. The banker is accountable for the deposits he receives as a debtor, and the individual borrower of money from the bank sustains no other relation to it. In both cases money is borrowed to be returned in a greater or less period of time, according to the contract of the parties."

This case has been followed as to this point by the court of appeals of New York in Conklin v. Second National Bank, 45 N. Y., on page 659.

And in view of this decision, while the Indiana statute has not been construed by the courts, I am inclined to believe that the courts would hold that the deposit of the funds of a savings bank in a bank in which a trustee of the savings bank was either a director or stockholder would vacate the office of the trustee.

PUBLIC PRINTING—LEGISLATIVE PRINTING AND DISTRIBUTION OF ACTS PAYABLE OUT OF GENERAL FUND.

July 5, 1901
Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of the 5th, in which you say that the printing of the acts of the legislature of 1901, ordered by the legislature, is an extra item of printing that is not regularly within the province of the printing board to provide for, and asking for an opinion as to whether this extra item of printing made necessary by the legislature of 1901 is to be paid out of the regular appropriations for printing, or out of the general fund.

The constitution of Indiana, section 28, article IV, provides that no act shall take effect until the same shall have been published and circulated in the several counties of this state, by authority, except in case of emergency.

The public printing act of April 13, 1885, as amended by the act of March 11, 1895, and by the act of March 8, 1897, covers generally the subject of public printing. Section 11 of the act of 1885 (being §7604, R. S. 1894) provides that "The reports allowable and published under the provisions of this act shall be 1,600 copies of the state senate journal," etc.

Here follows the number and character of publications that are allowed to be published under direction of the state board of printing. Nothing is said about publishing the acts in this general printing law.

The publication of the acts is provided for by the act of March 7, 1897 (Acts 1897, p. 111). Section 8 of this act, now unamended, provides that the superintending of the printing, indexing, distributing and so forth, is to be paid for out of the general fund in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

The appropriation act of 1899 made no specific provision for publishing the acts either of that year or of 1901. It did provide for the publishing of the supreme court reports.

The appropriation act of 1901 specifically provides for the publication of the supreme and appellate court reports, but fails to make any provision for publishing the acts.

The printing of the acts is not only a constitutional but a statutory mandate. The act of March 5, 1901, amending the act of 1897, increases largely the number of acts that must be printed and distributed and yet makes no specific provision for paying the cost of such printing.

It is not only the imperative, but the immediate, duty of the secretary of state to print and distribute the acts. There is no specific provision for paying the cost thereof out of any designated fund. The entire cost of the distribution of the acts is to be paid out of the general fund, and hence I conclude that the printing and binding of the acts was likewise to be paid for out of the general fund; otherwise some provision would have been made therefor.

It is not only a constitutional mandate that the acts shall be printed, but the very existence of the acts themselves awaits their own publication.

It is therefore my opinion that it is your duty to draw a warrant to pay not only for the printing, but for the distribution of the acts, on the general fund, to be paid out of any funds not otherwise appropriated.

DEED OF STATE NORMAL SCHOOL TO STATE APPROVED.

July 10, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have examined the accompanying deed, executed by the Indiana State Normal School to its president and secretary, conveying to the state of Indiana its real and personal property, pursuant to a provision of the appropriation act of March 9, 1901, and find the same in due form and properly executed.

I return the deed and advise that it be accepted as a compliance with said act.

DEED OF PURDUE UNIVERSITY TO STATE APPROVED.

July 20, 1901.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I return herewith the form of deed of the trustees of Purdue University to the state of Indiana, of the state's property.

I find it to be a proper form, and advise that the same be accepted when executed.

INSURANCE—LEAGUE OF EDUCATORS.

July 22, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—Answering your communication of the 12th inst., respecting the character of the society known as the League of Educators with central offices at Chicago.

This concern seems to be an association with headquarters at Chicago, incorporated pursuant to the laws of the state of Illinois. It issues a certificate of membership and makes assessments upon its members to produce an endowment fund. From its certificate of membership and literature, I find the following conditions surrounding the full "Endowment" of $500:

First. The member must pay all calls for a full five years, subject to the marriage conditions below stated.

Second. If the member fails to pay any call within thirty days of notice, he forfeits everything and the certificate is void.

Third. If the member secures three new members each year, and is unmarried when joining and marries the first year, he is entitled to $100 at the expiration of one year; if during the second year the member secures three new members and is unmarried at the beginning, but marries during the second year, he is entitled to $200 of the endowment fund, and so on during the third, fourth and fifth years, each year being required to furnish three new members, and for each succeeding year he is entitled to receive an additional $100 of the endowment, provided he is single at the beginning of the year and marries during the year. This provision seems to apply to widows and widowers.

Fourth. The death of the member terminates everything, and all that has been paid is lost unless the deceased shall have named in writing a member of his or her family to comply with the various agreements of the certificate of membership, and provided, further, that such delegate shall have complied therewith.

This concern is not an insurance company. No examination is required, either mentally or physically. One must be of good moral character and believe in the Supreme Being, and pay twenty-five cents on each call, and that is all. It is nominally an investment company.

It comes within the language of the act of March 11, 1901, regulating the admission of foreign corporations, associations or societies to do business in this state.

This league ought not to be permitted to do business in Indiana until it shall have been licensed by you pursuant to law.

VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATIONS—HOME REALTY COMPANY.

July 25, 1901.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am this day in receipt of the report of your examination, as heretofore requested by me, of the Home Realty Company, a corporation of Indianapolis, Indiana. I am also in receipt of your inquiry respecting the right of this concern, and kindred concerns, to do the kind of business it is doing in Indiana.

This company is modeled after the original Fraternal Coöperative Association, for which I asked and obtained a receiver, and whose affairs are now being wound up by the superior court of this county; also, the Indiana Real Estate Company, which has also been forced to quit business; also, the Home Co-Operative Company, of Lima, Ohio, and several other kindred concerns which have been forced to quit business in this state.

From the contract and literature of this Home Realty Company, I find the following facts:

One. The member pays thirty cents per month on each $100 of stock, into the benefit fund, twenty per cent. of which is at once taken out by the managers of this concern for their own use. The balance goes to the credit of the member.

Two. The contract of each member is numbered in consecutive order, and the central idea in the contract is that when there have been sufficient funds collected with which to buy a piece of real estate, that then the members, in consecutive order and in the order of their membership, are to have a piece of real estate bought by the company for the member. There is, therefore, no limit of time fixed wherein the member will be entitled to a piece of property short of one hundred and thirty-eight months, or nearly twelve years.

Three. After the member has had a piece of property bought for him, then he pays eighty cents a month on each hundred dollars of investment to be made for him, out of which the concern takes ten per cent. as expense fund and turns the balance over to the so-called benefit fund. Since the concern takes out twenty per cent. before purchasing property and ten per cent. after purchasing property, it is to the advantage of the company to delay buying property for the member as long as possible.

Four. The member agrees that the monthly payments advanced by him can be used by the company for purchasing homes for other members whose contracts are older than such member's contract, so that whenever the company ceases business, no matter when that may be, all members who have not had property purchased for them, of necessity lose everything they have put into the concern, and have no remedies whatever against any fund or anybody. They have taken their chance and have lost.

Five. The company agrees to pay back, on sixty days' notice, in four monthly installments, whatever money is held by the company to the member's credit; but this is qualified by a provision that if the member becomes delinquent at any time before the company reaches the number of his contract, which of necessity is altogether uncertain, then the company will carry the member's contract for as many months as he has already paid, provided that the member, at the end of such time, pays up all back payments. This is before the property is purchased. After the property has been purchased for the member then his delinquency may extend over a period of thirty days, at which time he must pay all back payments in monthly installments.

This concern was organized pursuant to the voluntary association act, which allows the organization of companies to buy and sell real estate. That law never contemplated the operation of any such concern as this. This is a combination of building association and tontine investment company; it is neither wholly one nor the other.

I am, therefore, of the opinion:

(1) That it has no authority whatever to do business in Indiana, under the plan it is attempting to do it, and ought to be stopped at once.

(2) That it has no right to use the mails for exploiting its business; nor has any other concern of like character. This is the only concern that I know of now doing business in this state under the old fraternal coöperative scheme.

(3) It is unauthorized by law, unsafe and contrary to public policy.

(4) It is establishing and maintaining an expense fund under the guise of a retainer fee for the exclusive use and benefit of its officers.

(5) It exacts forfeitures contrary to law and public policy.

(6) It does not sell real estate, but, by a peculiar method of operation, merely distributes it among certain classes of members.

(7) That this concern has forfeited its right to exist as a corporation, and ought to be wound up.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS—MAY NOT BORROW MONEY TO BE RELOANED.

September 2, 1901.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—You ask if there is any authority in the building and loan association statutes of Indiana whereby power is conferred on any association to borrow money for re-lending, or any purpose.

I do not find in any statute of Indiana any express provision authorizing building associations to borrow money for any purpose whatever; but on the contrary that, in the place of the usual broad powers with regard to contracting granted to almost all classes of corporations, the powers of building associations in Indiana are carefully enumerated, with the apparent legislative intention of limiting them to what is expressed in the law.

As to the implied power to borrow, no reported decision has been made in any of our courts. Under similar statutes in Ohio, the right of borrowing money to lend again is absolutely denied.

State v. Oberlin Building Association, 35 Ohio St., p.

The rule in Illinois appears to be the same.

Columbus Building Association v. Kriete, 87 Ill.
App., p. 59.

Stefan v. Brennan, 92 Ill. App. 291.

The result of the decisions as to the implied power to borrow money for any purpose is concisely stated in Thompson on Building Associations in section 279, thus:

“Borrowing is only intended as an expedient. To become a permanent borrower is not a part of the corporate plan of an association, and is not contemplated by the decisions vesting the power to borrow in the association. Under proper limitation it is sanctioned by the courts. The limitation is that the money is to be applied to an authorized purpose; yet, under the decisions, the association can not escape its obligation to repay because it applied the money to an unauthorized purpose, unless it can show that the lender had knowledge of this.”

I am, therefore, of opinion, in the absence of authority from the Indiana courts, that an Indiana building association has no right to borrow money for the purpose of re-lending it.

Your second question is:

"If any association has borrowed money, are not the directors of the association, at the time of making the loan, personally responsible for the repayment of the money, rather than the association?"

If the act of borrowing money is beyond the powers of the association, the directors who so obtain the money are liable for its repayment.

DEED FROM INDIANA UNIVERSITY TO STATE APPROVED.

September 10, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—Returning herewith the deed of conveyance of the Trustees of Indiana University to the state of Indiana of the property of said university, pursuant to the act of 1901, said deed is in proper form, duly executed; and I advise that the same be accepted and approved.

SWAMP LAND ACT—SALE OF CERTAIN LAND.

September 21, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have examined the matter of the title to the north-west quarter of section 17, township 33, range 9 east, in Noble county, Indiana, and find that under the original survey made by the United States government, copies of which are on file in your office, all of said quarter section was shown to be under water, except a few acres on the east side, which were attached to the north half of the northeast quarter of section 17-33-9.

Clearly, therefore, the United States government does not make any claim to this land, and the title of the state of Indiana to said northwest quarter I believe to be good. The only one who could question the title of the state would be the owner of the north half of the northeast quarter of section 17, who, under the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the case of Railroad Company v. Schunmier, 71 U. S. 272, might claim to have some title. Bear lake, which covers a part of this quarter, has been drained, and its meander lines have been receding, so that now some thirty or forty acres of this quarter have been, or shortly will be, reclaimed by such drainage.

The state has never received any benefit whatever from this land, and I advise that you cause such northwest quarter to be sold pursuant to the swamp land act of 1883.

TAXATION—ANNUITIES.

September 27, 1902.

To the Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—You ask for a statement of the law as to the proper method for the taxation of annuities.

Section 4 of the tax law provides that personal property shall include all "annuities and royalties."

Section 50 provides that every person shall set forth in his statement of property owned by him subject to taxation, first, all "annuities and royalties."

In the schedule provided by section 53 of the tax law for the return of taxables the first item stated is all "annuities." By section 48 of the tax law it is provided: "In making the valuation, annuities and royalties shall be valued at their present cash value." An annuity is a yearly sum stipulated to be paid to another in fee or for life, or years, and chargeable only on the person of the grantor. Annuity differs from a rent-charge in that the annuity is chargeable only on the person, while a rent-charge is something reserved out of realty or fixed as a burden upon land. Annuities may be created by contract or by will. Whether an annuity be for life or for a fixed period of years, it must be taxed under section 48 at its present cash value. The present value of an annuity for either life or years is readily calculated by the use of life tables.

In many of the states the legislatures have adopted such tables for the purpose of calculating the present values of annuities, insurance and life estates, but I have been unable to find any such provision in the Indiana statutes. It is, in my opinion, within the authority of the state board of tax commissioners, in the absence of a legislative declaration, to provide what tables shall be used by assessors in calculating such values. In the absence of any legislation on the subject, and of any rules, it has been held by reputable courts throughout the United States, that the Northampton life tables may be properly used in the calculation of the property values of annuities.

MILITIA FUND—APPROPRIATION.

October 7, 1901.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of the 7th, in which you ask what amount should be credited to the Indiana militia fund for the year 1901.

Section 6 of the act of March 5, 1895, provides as follows:

“Sec. 6. That there is and shall be appropriated annually on the first day of January, out of the revenue of the state not otherwise appropriated by law, the sum of forty-five thousand dollars, which shall be set aside and constitute a fund for military purposes. The appropriation for the year 1895 shall be set aside on April 1st of said year.”

(Acts 1895, p. 103.)

That section was amended by the act of March 12, 1901, to read as follows:

“Sec. 6. That there is hereby and shall be appropriated annually on the first day of January, out of the revenue of the state not otherwise appropriated by law, the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000), which shall be set aside and constitute a fund for military purposes. The appropriation for the year 1901 shall be set aside on April 1st of said year."

Construing these two acts together it is very plain that the legislature intended that the forty-five thousand dollars should be the basis of expenditure from the 1st of January, this year, until the 1st of April, and from the 1st of April the basis should be seventy-five thousand dollars per annum.

I therefore advise that from the 1st of January to the 1st of April of this year the military funds should be credited at the rate of forty-five thousand dollars per annum, and from the 1st of April to the 31st of December, the military fund should be credited at the rate of seventy-five thousand dollars per annum.

DOG TAX.

October 25, 1901.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your inquiry of the 22nd, as follows:

"Has the town corporation the power to levy a tax upon dogs, or does the act of 1897, providing for the taxation of dogs, and the collection of said tax by the township officer, limit the amount of tax that can be levied against dogs?"

The dog law of 1897 provides for the general state dog tax, applicable to all dogs in the state whether owned in a city, town or in the country.

The right of cities to tax dogs is independent of the general act of 1897, March 6th (Acts 1899, p. 513). This act permits cities, if so desired, to fix a tax on each dog owned by any resident of such city, of not more than $2.00 and on each female dog owned by any resident of such city, of not more than $5.00. These are maximum amounts and are really in the nature of license fees. The city may or may not exact such maximum amounts, or any amount.

The right of a town to add a tax by way of license is fixed by the act of March 31, 1879. This was an omitted statute from all the revisions since that date, but in the case of Town of Copeland v. Town of Sheridan, 152 Ind. 107, the act is declared to be in force.

It is the general omnibus section, governing all towns in the state. Clause 15 of this section, among other things, allows on each male dog a tax not exceeding $1.00, and on each female dog a tax not exceeding $2.00, to be paid by the owner.

Here a maximum is fixed, and may or may not be charged by the town, and this is in addition to the dog tax exacted under the general statute of 1897.

This, you see, must be so, otherwise the act of 1897 could not apply where the city and town exacted a license fee; if it did, there would have to be deductions made in each case where the city fixed a license fee higher than the general law fixed the same—a condition that would be confusion itself.

INSURANCE—MUTUAL BENEFIT UNION.

October 25, 1901.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of the 22d, with accompanying circular of the Mutual Benefit Union, an Illinois corporation doing business in Indiana; also your inquiry as follows: "Does not the plan and scheme of the business of this association bring it under the provisions of the foreign investment act passed by the legislature of 1901?"

The foreign investment act of 1891 is entitled "An act regulating foreign investment companies." Section 1, among other things, provides:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, joint stock company or corporation, organized under the laws of any state, territory or the district of Columbia, other than the state of Indiana, or any government foreign to the government of the United States, to conduct or engage directly or indirectly in the business of selling its stock, bonds, contracts, shares, memberships or agreements of any kind, receiving therefor payments on the installment plan, without first procuring from the auditor of state a certificate of authority."

The method of examination and the form of certificate, etc., follow, with the penalties for doing business without a license.

The literature of the Mutual Benefit Union very plainly shows that it is an investment company, and that it is selling these investment contracts and receiving payments on the installment plan, and is paying out those contracts in monthly payments.

It does not purport to be, and is not, an insurance company, because its contracts are sold to persons irrespective of age, sex or condition of health.

The literature before me does not positively show the forfeiture of all sums theretofore paid, if the member should at any time cease to make his monthly payment, but it is evident that it is a fact from the language used relative to the profits resulting from lapses.

I am of the opinion, therefore, that this corporation comes strictly within the provisions of the foreign investment act of March 11, 1901, requiring the same, among other things, to procure from you, as auditor of state, a certificate of authority as a pre-requisite to doing business in Indiana.

FOREST RESERVATION LAW OF 1899.

October 26, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—Returning herewith the correspondence respecting the forest reservation law of 1899:

Section 1 of that act provides:

“That upon any tract of land in the state of Indiana there may be selected by the owner or owners, as a permanent forest reservation, a portion not to exceed one-eighth of the total area of said tract, which shall be appraised for taxation at one dollar per acre.”

The statute then provides the number of trees, and the size of such trees, to be located on each acre of such reservation, with the method of preservation, etc.

This first section indicates that the legislature intended that a permanent forest reservation should not exceed one-eighth of the total area of the tract owned by the taxpayer, and not one-eighth of the forest itself. The tract of land may be all forest, in which case one-eighth would be the permanent forest reservation.

The act is not altogether clear, but this is my view of the intention of the legislature as expressed in the act, namely, that such permanent reservation shall not exceed one-eighth of the total area of the land, and not one-eighth of the total area of the forest on the tract of land.

Since there is much dispute on the question throughout the state, I advise that an agreed statement of facts be at once presented before the circuit court at South Bend (a very able court), and thus have a binding construction of the law. Then let the losing party appeal to the supreme court, and I will take care of the case here. It can be done at a trifling expense.

ASSESSMENT INSURANCE.

November 7, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of the 5th inst., respecting insurance companies doing business on the assessment plan in this state, under the act of 1883.

Section 8 (§4904, Burns' R. S. 1901) of that act, as amended in 1891 (Acts 1891, p. 409), provides that every such corporation shall annually submit, on or before the 28th day of February, a verified statement of assets, liabilities, insurance in force and other matters provided for in said clause. The duty, therefore, is mandatory and can be enforced by proper proceeding.

Section 17 (§4913, Burns' R. S. 1901) provides that if any such company shall neglect or refuse to comply with the provisions of the act it shall be held to be doing business unlawfully, and suit in quo warranto would lie for closing up its business.

Section 8 further provides that for the purpose of verifying such statement the auditor of state shall, on petition of a majority of the officers, or of ten members of the society, supported by affidavit, institute an examination of the affairs of the society. This will not be held to prevent your examination at any other time.

Section 2 of the act of March 3, 1877 (Acts 1877, p. 65), is a supplemental section to the foreign insurance company act. (See §4925, Burns R. S. 1901.)

This supplemental section gives the auditor of state authority to examine, or cause to be examined by some competent and disinterested person, every detail of the business of any company transacting business of insurance in this state, whenever in his judgment such examination is required for the interests of the policyholders of such company. This supplemental section seems to apply to all companies doing business in Indiana, both foreign and domestic.

In this connection I desire to call your attention to the act of March 11, 1901 (Acts 1901, p. 486), which, in my judgment, applies to all life insurance companies, either domestic or foreign, doing business in this state on the assessment plan. That act provides that every policy or certificate "hereafter issued by any insurance corporation of this state, doing business on the assessment plan, or any insurance corporation of any other state, authorized to do an assessment insurance business in this state, and providing a payment to be made upon a contingency of death, sickness, disability or accident, shall specify the exact sum of money which it promises to pay upon each contingency insured against, and the number of days after satisfactory proof of the happening of such contingency, at which such payment shall be made."

Section 2 of that act provides that the failure to pay the amount, whether in friendly settlement, or by judgment, within thirty days of its adjudication shall constitute a forfeiture of the right of the delinquent corporation to further continue in business in this state.

These are sections 9303-a and b, R. S. 1901. Both of these sections cover every form of mutual assessment companies doing business in this state, whether foreign or domestic, except companies doing business under the fraternal insurance laws of Indiana.

TAXATION—OMITTED PROPERTY, WHEN DELINQUENT?

December 2, 1901.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—You inquire if omitted property is placed on the tax duplicate after May 1st, do the taxes thereon become delinquent after the November settlement?

The statute provides that the taxes upon omitted property shall be collected the same as taxes upon other property. This being the case, the taxes on omitted property placed on the duplicate after May 1st would not become delinquent after the November settlement. The taxes thereon would become due on January 1st following, just as any other taxes assessed for that year.

The supreme court of this state in the Gallup case reaffirmed the proposition that omitted taxes are not delinquent taxes.

SUPERIOR COURTS—SPECIAL JUDGES, COMPENSATION.

December 19, 1901.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of the 10th inst., in which you ask if the statute authorizes the state to compensate the different counties for the services of special judges appointed in superior courts, the same as it does for special judges in circuit courts.

Section 419, Burns' R. S. 1901, permits changes of venue and authorizes the court to call a judge of any circuit, superior, or other court of general jurisdiction, or any judge of the supreme court, to preside and try a case, or "If it shall be difficult, in the opinion of the court, for any cause, to procure the attendance of such judge, the court, in order to prevent delay, may appoint any competent and disinterested attorney of this state, in good standing, to act as judge in said cause," etc.

Section 420, Burns' R. S. 1901, provides for the pay of such judge to be $5.00 per day for the time actually served in going to and returning. No distinction is made between those who act as special judges in the superior courts and those who act as special judges in the circuit courts. The same rule of settlement applies to both cases.

INSURANCE—HOME CO-OPERATIVE COMPANY.

January 10, 1902.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir:—I have carefully investigated the papers submitted to me respecting the Home Co-Operative Company of Kansas City, Missouri.

This company is organized upon a similar plan to the one adopted by the Home Co-Operative concerns which formerly attempted to do business in this state, and is organized under the laws of the state of Missouri. It is clearly within the foreign building and loan association law of May 18, 1893, and if it attempts to do business in Indiana it should comply with said law.

It proposes:

First. To charge a membership fee of $3.00;

Second. To require $1.35 each month on each $1,000 of benefits, of which sum one dollar is to go to the credit of the member, ten cents to the reserve fund and twenty-five cents to the expense fund.

This is to continue for a certain indefinite period, when a home may be purchased for such member for the sum of $1,000 or less, at which time the member is to pay $5.35 per month, of which five dollars is to go to the credit of the loan, twenty-five cents to the expense fund and ten cents to the reserve fund.

Under the most favorable auspices it will take sixteen and two-thirds years to pay out. In addition to this there must be the time that would elapse before the member's contract would "mature."

This may be one year, or it may be ten years.

Third. A peculiar forfeiture clause is inserted. It is proposed that if one quits paying, the company may cancel his contract and may make another contract with some other person. It is not obligatory, however, and the net result would be that the member would lose all he had paid into the concern.

It is evident, from a study of this contract, that the main purpose is to obtain membership in order that the expense fund may be swelled. On the face of this contract, everything is paid out except the so-called reserve fund as rapidly as it is taken in. The result would be that the first members in the procession might, possibly, not be hurt very seriously, but those who come in at the tail end of the procession would simply be paying for their homes out of their own pockets, and be giving twenty-five cents per month as expense fund to the promoters of the scheme.

It is nothing more nor less than a foreign building association under a disguise; and I advise that you have authority, under the foreign building association act above referred to, to demand that this company comply with such law, or quit business at once.

I further advise you that the contracts proposed to be made by this concern also come within the provisions of the foreign investment company act of March 11, 1901.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—VISTA HERMOSA SUGAR COMPANY.

January 10, 1902.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have examined both the purchase contract and the income trust certificate, issued and sold pursuant to such contract, of the Vista Hermosa Sugar and Mercantile Company of Illinois, submitted to me by you.

The so-called purchase contract is a long, involved contract in and of itself and refers to other contracts made, and on which depends the value of such certificate.

The trust certificate submitted is nothing more than a debenture. Dividends thereon are to be paid out of the company's income.

Before this company has any authority to do business in Indiana it should comply with the provisions of the act of March 11, 1901, regulating foreign investment companies.

INSURANCE—SICK BENEFIT COMPANIES, MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS.

January 11, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—It is my judgment that it is not necessary for companies issuing sick benefit policies only to require the applicant to pass a medical examination.

However, if a death benefit is to be paid, then a different question arises.

INSURANCE—TRUST COMPANIES—RIGHT OF INSURANCE OR TRUST COMPANY TO OWN STOCK IN ANOTHER.

January 11, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor relative to the right of an insurance company organized under the law of Indiana to own two-thirds of the stock of a trust company; also, your further inquiry as to the right of a trust company to own the controlling interest in the stock of any private corporation.

There is no statute authorizing an insurance company to buy the stock of another company, except as a security. Generally speaking, corporations are not authorized to own or control other corporations by buying a majority of the capital stock thereof. They are permitted to invest their surplus funds in the stock of such other company as an asset.

There is now pending in the Vanderburgh superior court a case involving the right of a trust company to own the controlling interest in the stock of another corporation, which case probably will reach the supreme court. In advance of such finding by the supreme court, I do not feel warranted in advising that an insurance company can not own a controlling interest in the stock of any other corporation.

All these questions will doubtless be fully argued and decided in the case referred to in your letter.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—SOUTHERN GUARANTEE LOAN COMPANY.

January 11, 1902.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have examined the papers relative to the Southern Guarantee Loan Company, of Atlanta, Georgia.

It seems to combine some features of a building and loan association, a bond investment association, and an insurance company. It is clearly within the foreign investment company act of March 11, 1901, and can not do business in Indiana.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—HOOSIER MINING COMPANY.
TRUST COMPANY IN EXCHANGE

February 4, 1902.

Hon. William H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have examined the articles of incorporation, by-laws and literature of the Hoosier Mining Company, of Spokane, Washington.

It appears that this company sells stock on the installment plan, which brings it directly within the law regulating foreign investment companies, being the act of March 11, 1901 (Acts of 1901, p. 549), and said company will therefore be subject to such act.

INSURANCE—REINSURANCE.

February 4, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have before me the papers respecting the reinsurance of the American Health and Accident Insurance Company of Muncie, Indiana, with the Columbian Relief Fund Association, of this city.

The form of certificate returned herewith, and signed by the Columbian Relief Fund Association, which is to be attached, I assume, to each policy of the American Health and Accident Insurance Company, of Muncie, Indiana, which is to be reinsured by said Columbian Relief Fund Association, shows upon its face that the Columbian Relief Fund Association proposes to do nothing further than to reinsure the policy to which such certificate is attached, issued by the American Health and Accident Insurance Company, from liability accruing on and after December 18, 1901.

No prior liability on that policy or any other policy is assumed and all liabilities of the American Health and Accident Insurance Company, of Muncie, Indiana, accruing upon all policies other than those reinsured, or accruing prior to December 18, 1901, are still the liabilities of the American Health and Accident Insurance Company and not of the Columbian Association.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—STILLMAN COPPER AND MILLING COMPANY.

February 4, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have your favor respecting the Stillman Copper and Milling Company. The prospectus and literature enclosed respecting this mining company are so meager in facts and so full of self-praise that it is impossible to tell in what state they were organized, or anything about the powers under their articles of incorporation.

It seems to be a mining scheme where stock is to be sold at fifteen cents per share, par value; said stock to be fully paid up and non-assessable. There would have to be a positive statute to make this prospectus good. Unless there is a positive statute of the state under which this company is organized, permitting that to be done, the very statement carries upon its face a fraud, and the holder of the stock could be assessed for the full face value of the stock. I therefore refer this back to you with the advice that this concern be barred out of the state until satisfactory proof can be given showing the method of doing business, the character of the business, where organized, and the statute of the state authorizing the statement that such stock, when sold at fifteen cents on the dollar, will be fully paid up and non-assessable.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—NATIONAL HOME-SEEKERS' ASSOCIATION.

February 24, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have examined the contract of the National Home-Seekers' Association, of Chicago, Illinois, submitted to me by you, and find that this concern is a combination building and loan company and the old form of co-operative benefit company. The contract is substantially as follows:

- (1) Four dollars application fee is paid.
- (2) One dollar and a half per month is paid to the men who run the concern; of this, $1 goes to the home fund; twenty-five cents to the so-called reserve fund, and twenty-five cents into the pockets of the men running the concern.

(3) After payment of $50, the member selects a home. The contracts mature in their order; there is no telling when they will mature, and there is no agreement when they will mature; no time is fixed; but when the men who run the concern want to mature a contract then a home is purchased, and the member pays $5.50 per month up to $1,100, when the home of $1,000 is turned over.

FORFEITURES.

The ever-present forfeiture clause is here, so that if the victim fails for sixty days to make a payment, he loses all he has put in.

There is further provision that one can not assign a contract that he has unless the assignee is in good health, not over fifty years of age, sober and industrious, and able to perform the conditions of this contract, and the victim is to prove these facts to the satisfaction of the men who run the concern.

If the victim shall have been in the concern for five years and fulfilled all the contracts, then the association agrees to pay back the total amount paid in, with interest at six per cent. per annum from the surrender of the contract, provided that notice must be served within thirty days after the same is approved, and, in default of said notice, the victim waives all the provisions of the paragraph.

In short, this contract is a contract practically incapable of being carried out, and the person who puts money in it will very probably lose all he has put in it. There is no security for anybody in Indiana whatever, as the concern is not authorized to do business in the state.

The association pretends to be a co-partnership. The names of the partners are not given, and nobody knows who they are, and nobody would know who to sue.

It ought to be stopped doing business in this state at once, if it is doing business here.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS—CAN NOT EXACT PENALTY FOR WITHDRAWAL.

April 30, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—You ask an opinion upon the following facts:

“A building and loan association in Indianapolis, upon the personal notice of a borrower to pay off his loan, and tendering the money with which to do the same, was required by the association to pay six months’ premium and interest. The mortgage under which the loan was made has a provision in the following language:

“‘It is expressly stipulated and agreed that this mortgage can only be paid in advance of its maturity by the mortgagor giving to the mortgagee written notice of his desire to do so six months in advance of the time of such repayment.’”

You ask:

“Is not this association conducting its business contrary to law, by requiring this excess payment on the part of those who wish to comply with section 7 of the acts regarding the repayment of their mortgages?”

Section 7 of the building association law, which took effect July 18, 1885 (R. S. 1901, §4450), provides that a borrower who is not in arrears may repay his loan at any time and may, at the same time, withdraw from the association.

“And for that purpose he shall pay to the association
* * * the full face amount of the principal of his loan, less the amount by him paid to said association as dues on his stock, with interest on such payments from the time they were made, at not less than the same rate per cent. per annum that he has paid to the association as interest upon his loan, and less so much of the premium or discount paid by him on his loan for the priority thereof, as shall bear the same proportion to the whole premium by him paid, which the unexpired time for which the loan was made bears to the whole time for which the loan was made; the stock held by such person upon which his loan was made shall be surrendered to the association and shall be canceled."

This statute absolutely controls all loans made by building associations in Indiana, after its taking effect, and any provision such as the one you quote from the by-laws of the association named, while good as to mortgage loans made prior to July 18, 1885, is absolutely void as to all subsequent loans.

Neither an association nor a borrower can make any agreement which violates the law, and the by-laws are to be read as is the mortgage and other contract between the borrower and the association, precisely as if the provision quoted had not been set out in the by-laws, contract and mortgage.

If the association insists on enforcing this provision of the mortgage it becomes amenable to the penalties of the law against building associations doing business contrary to law.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—LEAGUE OF EDUCATORS.

May 1, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—As requested, I have examined the circular issued by the so-called League of Educators, and answer your question with regard to that organization.

It does not appear to be incorporated, but seems to be an unincorporated association or company, composed of members under a sort of partnership agreement to accumulate money by assessments, the proceeds to be paid in $500 endowments at five years, to the members, as their claims mature. These assessments are called "calls," and are graduated upon the number of members, ranging from one-fourth of a cent to pay the endowment, to as high as twenty-five cents.

The company is clearly not an insurance company, as there are no examinations and nothing in the circular to show that any payment is based upon the life or health of the member. The only purpose of the organization that can be discovered is the accumulation of money by calls upon the members. While nothing is stated as to how the money in the treasury is to be used, it seems to me there can be no doubt that money is contributed for the purpose of accumulation, to be ultimately repaid, is an investment, and that a company which collects money from its members with the purpose of paying it back to its members is unquestionably an investment company.

The act of March 11, 1901, regulating foreign investment companies, prohibits any person, firm, joint stock company or corporation engaging directly or indirectly in the business of selling its memberships or agreements, or receiving payments on the installment plan, without first procuring from the auditor of state a certificate of authority.

While this company is not incorporated, it is unquestionably within the purview of this statute, which forbids persons and firms engaging in this business. If the concern has not complied with the law of the state of Indiana, contained in this statute (R. S. 1901, §5015-1), any agent or any person acting as agent for the company is liable to prosecution under section 4 of the act referred to, and subject to a penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $500, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding thirty days.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—CHICAGO HOME SYNDICATE.

May 16, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—At your request I have examined the literature submitted of the Chicago Home Syndicate, from which it appears that this concern, incorporated under the laws of Illinois, is doing at once the business of a building association, investment company and insurance company.

It will be noticed from an examination of the literature that of each payment made before maturity, $1 is credited to the home (building association) fund; $1 to the insurance fund, and thirty-five cents to the expense fund; that after maturity, of each payment $4 is credited to the home fund; $1 to the insurance fund, thirty-five cents to the expense fund, and fifteen cents to the reserve fund.

The circular states:

"All moneys paid to us and credited to the home and reserve funds goes to pay for homes.. All moneys paid to us and credited to the insurance fund goes to buy insurance on your life. All moneys paid to us and credited to the expense fund goes to pay the expenses of the corporation."

Further it states:

"From the date of your first payment your life is insured for $3,000. In case you die or become totally disabled, the home is freed of all debt and goes to you or your heirs.

"In case you die or become totally disabled before you get possession of your home, we pay your heirs or you $3,000."

As I understand, this association has not complied with the laws of the state of Indiana with regard to either foreign insurance companies or foreign building associations.

When it complies with these, and also with the act of March 11, 1901, regulating foreign investment companies (Acts 1901, p. 549), it may be authorized to do business in Indiana; but, pending compliance with all three of these laws, it has no authority to do business in the state.

NAVIGATION COMPANIES—ACT OF 1901.

June 5, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—Section 24 of the act of 1901, for the incorporation of navigation companies (Acts 1901, p. 185) provides as follows:

"All ships and other vessels engaged in commerce enrolled or registered under the navigation laws of the United States, at any port in the state of Indiana, shall be taxed as hereinbefore provided, at the rate of three cents per hundred ton of the registered tonnage of the vessel, and all owners of such ships shall make returns, as in this act provided."

It will be noted that this act only provides for the taxation of ships and other vessels registered under the navigation laws of the United States at a port in the state of Indiana.

The navigation laws of the United States provide as follows:

“Sec. 4141. Every vessel, except as hereinafter provided, shall be registered by the collector of that collection district which includes the port to which such vessel shall belong at the time of her registry; which port shall be deemed to be that at or nearest to which the owner, if there be but one, or, if more than one, the husband or acting and managing owner of such vessel, usually resides.”

This act also, in section 4137, recognizes the ownership of vessels by incorporated companies, and provides for the registration in the name of the president or secretary of the company. The domicile of a vessel is the port at which it is registered for taxation, and for all other purposes. The domicile of a corporation, for purposes of taxation and other purposes, is its home office in the state by which it is incorporated.

Ships and other vessels owned by an Indiana corporation, which has had them registered at a port in the state, are taxable under the act of 1901, and pay taxes under that act into the the state treasury, so that whether their place of taxation be that of a corporation or the port at which they are registered, is a matter of indifference, the tax being uniform under this act for the entire state.

A fractional ownership of a vessel is not sufficient to justify the taxation of the vessel, under this act, unless the vessel be registered at some Indiana port.

If, as you state, the owner of one-twentieth of a vessel resides at Michigan City, and the owners of the other nineteen-twentieths reside in Chicago, the proper place of registration of the vessel—unless the Michigan City owner is the managing owner—would be at Chicago, and this vessel can not pay taxes, under this act, to the state of Indiana.

This act does not confer any benefit whatever upon the owner of a fractional part of a vessel unless that vessel is registered at an Indiana port.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—CO-OPERATIVE HOME AND FARM PURCHASING COMPANY.

June 12, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of yours of the 7th inst., with enclosures respecting the Co-Operative Home and Farm Purchasing Company of Chicago.

This concern, from its literature, is of that brood of companies that have a monthly expense fund of twenty-five cents per share before and after maturity of the contract, ten cents going to the reserve fund to meet “unforeseen contingencies,” so-called, and pursuant to which scheme the members are theoretically benefited in the order in which they become members. In other words, “first come, first served.” Each member awaits his turn until every subscriber before him has been served. This literature does not exhibit the proposed contract.

It is safe to say, from this literature, however, that this concern is like all other concerns of similar character that are attempting to reach the gullible. The following facts appear:

First. The circular shows that no definite period can be stated when the contract will mature; it may be one year or ten, or never.

Second. There is no provision to withdraw, except when the contract may be sold to some other victim.

Third. The company is careful to keep thirty-five cents a month on each share and the entrance fee. If a member takes out ten shares, he will forfeit $3.50 a month for the time he is in.

I advise that this concern comes within the provisions of the foreign building association law of Indiana, and would be doing an illegal business if it operated in this state. Neither this nor any similar concern ought to be permitted to do business in this or any other state.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—UNION CO-OPERATIVE LEAGUE.

June 23, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—You ask if the Union Co-Operative League, of Indianapolis, is authorized to do the character of business it proposes to do as shown in the literature submitted to me.

None of the literature contains the name of any person; nor does it show where the league does business. There is a rubber stamp impression on the literature showing that their address is Box 364 at Indianapolis. It is not shown whether it is or is not a corporation, or who, if it is a corporation, are its officers.

There is no law in Indiana authorizing such a concern to do business. It proposes to divide whatever the members pay in during any month, and give to the entering members $55 each, the balance (if any) to go to an "equalization fund," whatever that term signifies. The payment of $2 constitutes a person a member, and then $1 is paid for each of six months. The ever-present forfeiture clause appears, under which the victim loses everything he has paid in if he quits. If he should have been in the concern two years, and fails to pay by the 10th of the month, he forfeits all he has paid in.

The secretary of state informs me that this concern is not incorporated. I therefore advise that you immediately communicate with the postoffice authorities looking to the prosecution of these men for using the mails for fraudulent purposes.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—GUARANTEE HOME PURCHASING COMPANY.

June 26, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor respecting the Guarantee Home Purchasing Company of Chicago.

It is shown by the literature of this concern that it is attempting to do both a building and loan business and an investment business. Its business would come within the purview of the foreign building association law, and it would likewise be denounced under the foreign investment company law of 1901.

I advise that unless it obtains a permit from you to do business within this state, that it be excluded from the state.

It is amazing that anybody will be found in the state to do business with these concerns. A whole school of them seems to have recently been organized to prey upon the public of this state. It is the duty of the prosecuting attorneys throughout the state to prosecute the agents of such companies when they attempt to do business in Indiana; and I recommend that you communicate with the prosecuting attorneys of Indiana, urging the prosecution of the representatives of these concerns. Their victims are generally laboring men who have not time to look into their financial standing, but assume that those who do business in Indiana are authorized so to do, when the contrary is the fact.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANIES—FIDELITY HOME BUYERS' COMPANY.

June 26, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of the 25th inst. respecting the Fidelity Home Buyers' Company of Chicago, Illinois.

This concern comes both within the foreign building association act of Indiana and the foreign investment company act of 1901.

It has no authority to do business in Indiana unless it obtains a license through you. I advise that you so notify it, and that it will be prosecuted if it attempts to do business within this state.

INSURANCE—SICK BENEFIT—NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION REQUIRED.

July 18, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—I have your duplicate letter of December 9, 1901, in which you ask if it is obligatory upon the part of an insurance company to require the applicant for a policy to pass a medical examination unless a death benefit is paid resulting from sickness.

I answered this letter under date of January 11, 1902, and now repeat that it is, in my judgment, not necessary for companies that issue only sick benefit policies to require the applicant to pass a medical examination. If a death benefit is to be paid, then, of course, a different question arises, and it is necessary, in that case, to require a medical examination.

This is covered by the act of March 11, 1901 (Acts 1901, p. 374), which was passed after my opinion was given, but is in exact harmony with the opinion. By that act it is made a misdemeanor for any person or corporation to write any policy of insurance on the life of any individual in Indiana, unless such person shall have first passed a satisfactory medical examination.

Since there is no statute requiring a medical examination where sick benefits only are paid, therefore such requirements can not be enforced.

APPROPRIATIONS—OLD WARRANT.

August 9, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—Answering your letter in which you ask if warrant No. 549, issued by the secretary of the senate of 1883, to E. F. Branch, for $4.25, dated March 6, 1883, can be paid out of the unexpended balance of the appropriation for that year.

Section 1 of the act of January 8, 1883 (Acts 1883, p. 3), in part, reads as follows:

“Provided, That if any part of the amount thus appropriated shall remain after the expenses of the present assembly are paid, the amount so remaining shall at once revert to the general fund.”

You will observe, therefore, that the money does not revert to the general fund until the expenses of that assembly are paid. This warrant represents part of the expenses of that general assembly.

I am of the opinion that it is your duty to draw a warrant against the treasury for this sum.

APPROPRIATIONS—SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

September 4, 1902.

Hon. W. H. Hart, Auditor of State:

Dear Sir—Answering your favor of yesterday, in which you ask if the expenses of the board of control of the State Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument can be paid out of the general fund, provided the regular appropriation for the running expenses of the monument is exhausted.

Section 4 of the act of March 11, 1901, providing for the care and management of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, provides specifically that the necessary hotel and traveling expenses of said board shall be paid by the treasurer of state, upon a warrant drawn by you “whenever presented by said board.”

It is my judgment, therefore, that the said law creating the board of control carries with it a perpetual appropriation for the expenses of said board, and that they must be paid out of the state treasury whether or not any appropriation is made for the maintenance of the monument. This question is indirectly discussed in the cases of Campbell v. Board of Commissioners, 115 Ind. 591, and Henderson v. Board, 129 Ind. 92.

Furthermore, the last two paragraphs of section 2 of the general appropriation act of 1901 would cover the question for these two years at any rate, but, independent of that appropriation act of 1901, the said general law, creating the board, is sufficient to create a continuing appropriation, so far as the expenses of said board are concerned.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE—ELECTION TO FILL VACANCY.

November 19, 1900.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—In my opinion justices of the peace appointed by the county commissioners between the year 1898 and the year 1900 hold for the unexpired term, and persons elected at the election of November, 1900, have no right whatever to the office, inasmuch as the statute provided for no election of justices at the election of 1900 for the purpose of filling vacancies.

At the same time this is a matter with which I do not think the secretary of state has anything to do. The commission is only evidence of election and does not entitle the man to the office. If a justice of the peace is certified to you as elected at the election of 1898, it is your duty to issue to him a commission, simply as the evidence of his election.

If there was no authority for holding an election the commission will not assist him in getting the office. The only way in which it can be obtained is by a quo warranto suit against the present incumbent, in which, in my opinion he would undoubtedly be unsuccessful,

INSURANCE—RED STAR ACCIDENT AND HEALTH INSURANCE COMPANY, ARTICLES.

December 26, 1900.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—I have examined the articles of association of The Red Star Accident and Health Insurance Company of America, of Indianapolis, Indiana, submitted to me by the auditor of state, and find such articles to be in accordance with the act of March 9, 1897, being the act concerning the organization of corporations, associations and societies to do business of life or accident, or life and accident and total and permanent disability insurance on the assessment plan, etc., and that such articles are not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States or of the state of Indiana.

I, therefore, deliver such articles to you herewith.

INSURANCE—LIBERAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, ARTICLES.

January 5, 1901.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Sir—I have examined the articles of association of the Liberal Life Insurance Company of Indiana, of Anderson, Indiana, submitted to me by the auditor of state, and find such articles to be in accordance with the act of March 9, 1897, being the act concerning the organization of corporations, associations and societies to do business of life or accident, or life and accident and total and permanent disability insurance on the assessment plan, etc., and that such articles are not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States or of the state of Indiana.

I therefore deliver such articles to you herewith.

INSURANCE—MONARCH INDEMNITY INSURANCE COMPANY, ARTICLES.

February 4, 1901.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Sir—I have examined the articles of association of The Monarch Indemnity Insurance Company of Indiana, of Anderson, Indiana, submitted to me by the auditor of state, and find such articles to be in accordance with the act of March 9, 1897, being the act concerning the organization of corporations, associations and societies to do business of life or accident, or life and accident and total and permanent disability insurance on the assessment plan, etc., and that such articles are not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States or of the state of Indiana.

I therefore deliver such articles to you herewith.

PUBLIC PRINTING—ITEMIZED STATEMENT OF RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES IN SESSION LAWS.

March 24, 1901.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—In answer to your question as to the necessity of printing the statement of receipts and expenditures of public moneys which appears in the acts of 1899 from page 583 to page 626 inclusive, I have to say:

There is no statute of the state requiring this statement to be printed with the acts. The constitution of this state, however, by article X, section 4, requires that “An accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public money shall be published with the laws of each regular session of the general assembly.”

This clearly does not require any statement of the estimated disbursements, found at page 604 of the acts of 1899, or of the public debt, found at page 623. The constitution does not require an itemized statement, but only an accurate statement.

I think the brief statement contained on pages 583, 584 and 586 of the acts of 1899 complies not only with the letter, but with the spirit of the constitution in this respect; and that the additional statements which it has been customary to print with the acts are not required by any statute, or by the letter or spirit of the constitution.

INSURANCE—AMERICAN HEALTH AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY, ARTICLES.

April 19, 1901.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Sir—I have examined the articles of association of The American Health and Accident Insurance Company, Muncie, Indiana, submitted to me by the auditor of state, and find such articles to be in accordance with the act of March 9, 1897, being the act concerning the organization of corporations, associations and societies to do business of life or accident, or life and accident and total and permanent disability insurance on the assessment plan, etc., and that such articles are not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States or of the state of Indiana.

I therefore deliver such articles to you herewith.

VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATIONS—HOME REAL ESTATE COMPANY, ARTICLES]

May 3, 1901.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—I have examined the so-called constitution of the Home Real Estate Company, sent to you to be filed as articles of association of a proposed incorporation.

I draw your attention to article 3. If this association can be incorporated at all it is under the provision of section 11 of the voluntary association act of 1901, which provides for the organization of associations "for the purpose of buying, holding and selling real estate, and soliciting and writing insurance in the manner to be fully stated in such articles."

I suppose this provision is satisfied by the first section of article 3, which is to purchase real estate by coöperation, and to sell the same to members on long time and easy monthly payments, without interest and without profit, providing only for actual expenses, which shall be limited to a stated amount.

The second section of that article says that the object of the company is "to encourage better financial standing among the working classes and promote the general welfare. This corporation is not to be mutual in character, but coöperative."

There is no statute authorizing the incorporation of concerns to encourage better financial standing among the working classes, and with that provision in the articles they are probably void, under the ruling of the appellate court in the case of Williams v. Citizens' Enterprise Company, 57 N. E. 581.

The articles do not fix the number of directors and this the law requires. A statement to the effect that the officers shall consist of not less than three nor more than five directors does not fix the number of directors, but leaves it indefinite, and you should not accept articles which do not comply with the law.

The provision for the election of officers, contained in article 5, has nothing to do with the articles of association, and should be stricken out and made a part of the by-laws. The rest of article 5, which seems to discuss the plan of operation, if it has any place in the articles at all, should be included in the article stating the object of the company. It has nothing to do with the officers.

Articles 6, 7 and 9 are properly by-laws and should be stricken out when the articles are rewritten and made a part of the by-laws. They have no more to do with the organization of the concern than do the matters enumerated in article 8.

The law requires that the manner of election, or manner of appointment of directors and officers shall be set out in the articles. Article 5 says that the officers shall be elected. It would be well to specify as to whether the votes at the election of officers shall be based upon the number of shares held, or upon mere membership in the concern.

The law requires that the names and places of residence of the incorporating members shall be set out, and also that the articles be acknowledged.

The law absolutely requires the term of existence to be named in the articles. I do not find any provision as to the term.

As to the by-laws, I have simply to suggest that the plan seems to come very close to the plan of building associations, and that the building association law probably will cover this corporation when it is organized.

I draw your attention to the fact that by-law 3, providing for the forfeiture of membership, and the by-laws which provide for an expense fund, will probably not be approved by the auditor, as expense funds have been abolished in building associations. It is clear to my mind that the auditor would be justified in refusing to approve the by-laws of an association whose plan was so similar to that of a building association as this, which provides for an expense fund.

SURETY COMPANIES—UNION SURETY COMPANY, ARTICLES.

July 8, 1901.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Sir—I have examined the articles of association of The Union Surety Company of Indianapolis, Indiana, submitted to me by the auditor of state, and find such articles to be in accordance with the provisions of the act of March 2, 1901, being an act for the incorporation of bonding or surety companies, defining their powers, etc.; and I further find that such articles are not inconsistent with the constitution of this state or of the United States; and the same are hereby approved.

I therefore deliver such articles herewith to you.

INSURANCE—PROVIDENT HEALTH AND CASUALTY COMPANY, ARTICLES.

July 9, 1901.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Sir—I have examined the articles of association of The Provident Health and Casualty Company of Indiana, with its principal office at Indianapolis, as submitted to me by the auditor of state, and find such articles to be in accordance with the act of March 9, 1897, being the act concerning the organization of corporations, associations and societies, to do the business of life or accident, or life and accident and total and permanent disability insurance, on the assessment plan, etc., and find that such articles are not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States, or of the state of Indiana.

I therefore deliver such articles to you herewith.

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION—AMENDMENTS, FEE FOR FILING.

September 15, 1902.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—You state that the Lincoln Cotton Mill Company filed articles of incorporation with you as secretary of state, dated July 31, 1902, and filed August 31, 1902, and that the company has tendered on this day articles purporting to amend such original articles, setting out the articles as amended in full, and you ask what fee you are to charge, under the law, for filing these amended articles.

By the law of 1901 (R. S. 1901, §7631), it is provided that the secretary of state shall charge and collect for the benefit of the state for filing the articles of incorporation, or a certified copy or duplicate, of any corporation whose capital stock is over $10,000, one-tenth of one per cent. upon the authorized capital stock of such association. The law further provides by clause 9 for filing with such secretary an amendment of the articles of incorporation, twenty cents a hundred words, to be in no case less than $5.00.

While the amended articles, as filed, set out the articles of association in full, they purport to be and are upon examination shown to be nothing more than amended articles. They do not create a new corporation, but simply modify the articles originally adopted. Substantially no change is made except in article 3.

It would probably be sufficient if an amendment of article 3 alone had been filed. It seems to me, however, that the better practice, in amending articles of incorporation, is to pursue the course followed in this case, which is similar to that prescribed by the constitution of the state for the amendment of a statute (Indiana Constitution, art. IV, §21).

As these new articles, notwithstanding their form, are simply an amendment, it is my opinion that the fee to be charged and collected by you for the benefit of the state is that fixed by clause 9, namely: twenty cents a hundred words, to be in no case less than $5.00.

INSURANCE—INDIANAPOLIS MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION, ARTICLES.

October 11, 1902.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Sir—The auditor of state has submitted to me for examination the articles of incorporation of the Indianapolis Mutual Benefit Association, which I have examined and find to be in accordance with chapter 195 of the acts of 1897, and not inconsistent with the constitution of the laws of the United States or of the state of Indiana.

VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATIONS—STANDARD CONSTRUCTION COMPANY, ARTICLES.

November 23, 1901.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—You have submitted to me the articles of incorporation of the Standard Construction Company of Indiana.

The articles should be rejected. Our courts have decided that an association can not be organized for more than one separate object. The articles submitted cover almost every enterprise known to the commercial world. They authorize the owning and operating of all kinds of railways, which can not be done under the voluntary association act. It authorizes the erection of dams, which can not be done under the voluntary association act; the boring and operating of gas and oil wells; the construction and operation of mills and factories, telephones, to do a guarantee business, none of which are authorized under the voluntary association act. In fact, only one or two of the objects named are authorized by the act under which it seeks to be incorporated.

VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATIONS—INCREASE OF CAPITAL STOCK—FEES.

November 25, 1901.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of November 23 in which you ask if, under the laws governing the incorporation of loan and trust and safety deposit companies in this state, articles of association may be filed naming the minimum amount of capital stock, and if afterwards the capital stock may be increased to the maximum amount without the filing with the secretary of state of a resolution to that effect or the paying of an additional fee therefor.

Construing together all the statutes affecting the above question I am of the opinion that not only this corporation, but every corporation organized under any law of Indiana, must file in your office a certificate of increase of capital stock of such corporation and pay the fees required therefor under the act of March 4, 1891.

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS—ACTS 1901, P. 621.

March 3, 1902.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—Answering yours of the 28th ult., in which you ask if the act of March 15, 1901, governing foreign corporations doing business in Indiana, repeals by implication the older law requiring foreign corporations desiring to do business in this state to deposit in the clerk's office of the county the agent's authority therefor.

Repeals by implication are not favored in law. These two laws can stand together. It is my judgment that the old law is not repealed and is still in force, as there is no irreconcilable conflict between the two. The 1901 law is supplementary to the old law rather than in conflict therewith.

This is the safe view to take of the case until some court of final jurisdiction shall have otherwise decided.

INSURANCE—LINCOLN ACCIDENT AND HEALTH INSURANCE COMPANY, ARTICLES.

March 7, 1902.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Sir—I have examined the articles of association of The Lincoln Accident and Health Insurance Company, with its principal office at Indianapolis, as submitted to me by the auditor of state, and find such articles to be in accordance with the act of March 9, 1897, being the act concerning the organization of corporations, associations and societies to do the business of life or accident, or life and accident and total and permanent disability insurance, on the assessment plan, etc., and find that such articles are not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States or of the state of Indiana.

I therefore deliver such articles to you.

VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATIONS—UNITED COFFEE COMPANY, ARTICLES.

September 11, 1902.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—Returning herewith the blank form of certificate of incorporation of the proposed United Coffee Company.

The certificate is not in proper form, as the directors are not named. Furthermore, I suggest that you return the form to Mr. Sedgwick, suggesting to him that he consult a lawyer carefully upon the matter. It would be well for him to examine the Whitehead case in 149 Ind. 560, and the cases therein cited, and which thereafter cite the Whitehead case.

The attempt seems to be to raise several different kinds of products, and do many other things. The question is raised by the above decision, and those that follow it, whether by doing more business than can be done under one head, the whole charter would not fall.

Further, suggest to him to have his attorneys consult the new voluntary association act, to see if an agricultural association wouldn't answer the purpose he desires to cover.

It is not so much a question of what you would permit to be filed, as it is what effect it would have upon the Coffee Company if its object should fail and it should be determined that there is no corporation at all, but a mere partnership. This is a proposition that the supreme court of this state has recently declared to be a fact, where more articles are covered than the law permits.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE—ELECTION.

November 22, 1902.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, Secretary of State:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor enclosing letter of Messrs. Holman & Stephenson, of Rochester, in which the following inquiry is made:

“If a justice of the peace was elected in the general election in 1900 to serve for four years, would his successor be elected at this general election, or at the general election for 1904?”

Under the law governing the elections of township officers any justice of the peace could have been elected at the general election in 1900 to serve for four years. The only possible election of justice of the peace at that time would have been to serve out the unexpired term of a justice elected in 1898, for the term of four years.

All the justices in the state, whether elected in 1898 or 1900, go out of office under the general law, in 1904, upon the election and qualification of their successors.

TAXATION—PIPE LINE COMPANIES.

May 20, 1901.

Hon. Frank Martin, Secretary State Board of Tax Commissioners:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of the 17th inst., containing this inquiry:

“What property, if any, under the act of March 4, 1901, providing for the assessment of pipe line companies, is to be assessed by local authorities?”

The latter part of section 7 of said act described the character of property that is to be assessed by the local assessors, and, construing that clause with the fifth item in sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 4½, together with the eighth item of section 4½, I conclude that the local assessors will assess:

- (1) All the real estate.
- (2) The buildings on such real estate.
- (3) The machinery and appliances, which include power houses, engines and pumping stations and the machinery therein.

All wells, both gas and oil, including the derricks thereat, as well as all pipe lines and tanks, should be assessed by the state board of tax commissioners and not by the local assessors. All of these provisions apply only to companies whose lines extend into more than one county.

TAXATION—MORTGAGE EXEMPTION.

May 21, 1901.

Hon. Frank Martin, Secretary State Board Tax Commissioners:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your communication of the 17th inst., containing the following inquiry:

“Where a husband and wife have each obtained a $700 mortgage exemption upon separate properties, are they entitled to an exemption jointly upon the property owned jointly?”

I answer "no." No taxpayer is entitled to more than one exemption, as all exemption laws are construed strictly against those claiming the privilege.

TAXATION—STREET RAILWAYS.

May 28, 1901.

Hon. Frank Martin, Secretary State Board of Tax Commissioners:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your recent letter containing the inquiry:

"What, if any, property of street and interurban railways of this state, under the act of 1901, should be assessed by the local authorities?"

The act of February 27, 1901, amended several sections of the state law, including section 83. This amended section relieves railroad companies from filing with county auditors a mass of information respecting rolling stock. It also makes other changes in the return to the county auditor.

Section 81 of the general tax law and said amended section 83 of said tax law provide that the local assessors are to assess tools, materials for repairs, machinery, fixtures and stationary engines, and personal property not covered by the clause "rolling stock." They are also to assess any real estate, if there is any, that does not come within the designation "railroad track."

The supreme court of Indiana, in the case of Pfaff v. T. H. & I. R. R. Co., 108 Ind. 144, define what "right of way" includes, and all rights of way are assessed by the state board and not by the local assessor. These rights of way include side tracks, turn-outs, all improvements thereon, coal sheds, freight houses, water tanks, repair shops, round houses and the like. None of these are assessed locally.

The act of March 5, 1901, provides that all street railroads in the state shall, for the purpose of taxation, be deemed railroads, and that the law regulating the assessment of railroads shall apply to all street railroads.

Hereafter, therefore, the former statute providing for the method of return to be made by street railroad companies will no longer be adopted, but street railroad companies must make to the state board of tax commissioners the same character of return exactly as is made by steam railroads. Street railroad companies will return to the county auditor for classification and separation by him to the township assessor, to be assessed by the township assessor, the classes of property defined by sections 83 and 84 of the general tax law. Such list must set out all the personal property not covered under the general designation "rolling stock;" also tools, materials for repairs, machinery, fixtures and stationary engines, and real estate not used for railroad purposes. With electric railroads this will cover dynamos and machinery in power stations. It will not cover any of the poles, wires or superstructures along the railroad tracks, all of which will be assessed by the state board of tax commissioners. All power houses, as well as all stations, depots, car barns, machine shops or other buildings upon any of the right of way or property used for railroad purposes, will be assessed by the state board of tax commissioners, the same as in the case of steam railroads.

The words "machinery for repairs," in said amended section 83, is an error in enrollment, and should be "materials for repairs."

No materials for repairs should be assessed by the local assessors where such materials are scattered along the right of way, such as rails, ties, etc., to be used in taking the place of other rails or ties.

To sum up: Street railroads will return for taxation, to be assessed by the local assessors—

- (1) Personal property not covered by the term "rolling stock."
- (2) Tools.
- (3) Materials for repairs.
- (4) Machinery, fixtures and stationary engines. (This will include dynamos and machinery in power houses.)
- (5) Also real estate, if there is any, that is not used for railroad purposes proper.

TAXATION—SECRET SOCIETY PROPERTY—MASONIC.

August 3, 1901.

State Board of Tax Commissioners of Indiana:

Gentlemen—Answering your inquiry respecting the taxation of the funds of the masonic lodge at Crawfordsville:

The supreme court of Indiana has decided that a masonic lodge is established for charitable purposes, and if the funds of this masonic lodge are used exclusively for lodge purposes, whether for maintaining the lodge itself or as a widow and orphans' fund, the lodge being the means through which such funds are distributed, it seems to me that these funds would be covered by the fifth clause of section 5 of the tax law, which defines the properties that shall be exempt from taxation, and that such funds would be exempt from taxation.

P. S. These funds should not be confounded with funds that are used as benefit or insurance funds. They are upon a different footing. They amount to an investment. These funds above referred to in the opinion are a gift, a gratuity to the sick or needy.

TAXATION—SECRET SOCIETIES—KNIGHTS AND LADIES OF HONOR.

August 15, 1902.

To the State Board of Tax Commissioners:

Gentlemen—In answer to your inquiry of the 13th inst., respecting the matter of the assessment of the property of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, whether the board has a right to tax the property of this order:

Upon a careful examination of the constitution and by-laws of this order, I find two principal classes of members: First, the social members, and, second, the relief fund members. All relief fund members are social members, but the social members need not be relief fund members.

It is a secret, fraternal, ritualistic order, organized pursuant to the laws of the state of Indiana.

There are two principal funds, the general fund and the relief fund. The general fund is used for the general expenses of the order; the relief fund is used to pay death benefits only.

From the record it appears that on the first day of April last this order had in the hands of the supreme treasurer the sum of $25,500. The record further shows that on that day they had death claims matured, but unadjusted and unrejected, for sums in excess of said amount of money then on hand. The record further shows that all of this sum then on hand on the first day of April was paid out on such matured claims to the beneficiaries thereof by the 15th of last April.

It is clear, therefore, that such claims were property and were assessable to the claimants or beneficiaries on said first day of April, for such claims had matured ; that being the case, they come within section 11 of the tax law of 1891, as amended by the act of March 8, 1897, which, in part, reads as follows:

“All personal property shall be assessed to the owner in the township, town or city of which he is an inhabitant on the first day of April of the year for which the assessment is made.”

Then follow certain exceptions to that rule. Neither of the exceptions cover the class referred to in your inquiry.

Therefore, it is my judgment that the owners of these claims are the ones by whom the returns for taxation should be made, and that the property thus in the hands of the treasurer of the Knights and Ladies of Honor on the first day of April is not assessable by the taxing authorities of Marion county. All for the reasons above stated.

COSTS—FRAUDULENT MARRIAGE ACT.

April 26, 1901.

Hon. Robert A. Brown, Clerk of the Supreme Court:

Dear Sir—Replying to your communication of the 26th in relation to the liability for costs of the relatrix in a prosecution under the fraudulent marriage act:

Section 2 of said act (Acts of 1895, p. 167) being section 7298b, Burns Supp. of 1897, is as follows:

“Such action shall be instituted in the name of the state of Indiana on the relation of the wife, but such wife shall not be liable for costs of the action, as are relators in other cases, except that she have property of a value exceeding $600.00.”

Under this section the relatrix is not liable for costs if she has not property exceeding in value $600.00.

This fact, however, is one that can only be ascertained in one way, and that is for you to issue your fee bill as in other cases, place it in the hands of the proper sheriff, let him make his demand for its payment or discharge, and the relatrix must then either file a schedule with the sheriff as in cases of exemptions under our exemption statutes or pay.

If this schedule shows that she has not property to exceed $600.00, then the sheriff should return the execution showing this fact.

PRISONS—GOOD TIME LAW.

February 1, 1901.

Hon. George A. H. Shideler, Warden Indiana State Prison, Michigan City, Ind.:

Dear Sir—You ask an official opinion as to the legal time for the discharge of William Sourwine, No. 277. You state that Sourwine was sentenced to the state prison from Vigo county May 13, 1895, for a ten years' term. During the time of sentence punishments have been reported against him and good time lost as follows:

July 19, 1895, reported and lost two days.

July 28, 1897, reported and lost no days.

March 11, 1898, reported and lost eight days.

March 18, 1898, reported and lost eight days.

March 25, 1898, reported and lost five months, twenty-four days.

Total good time taken, six months, twelve days.

Good time earned as follows:

May 13, 1895, sentenced.

May 13, 1896, good time earned, one month.

May 13, 1897, good time earned, two months.

May 25, 1898, good time earned, two months, eighteen days.

Total good time earned, five months, eighteen days.

The surplus good time taken, twenty-four days.

The good time law has been repealed in so far as it applies to indeterminate sentences. It, however, is in force as to sentences given prior to the passage of the indeterminate sentence law.

Davis v. State, 152 Ind. 37.

The good time law (R. S. 1894, §8239) provides that—

“For more than four offenses the warden shall have the power at his discretion to deprive him of any portion or all the good time gained.”

It appears that, by a mistake in computation, the books show that more good time was taken from Sourwine for the offense of March 25, 1898, than he had earned. Of course, under the law, the warden could not deprive him of more time than he had earned, and, consequently, the punishment should have been for five months and eighteen days, instead of six months and twelve days.

There is nothing in the law to prevent the books being corrected to show that the warden complied with the law, instead of exceeding it. The deduction is good for five months and eighteen days, and that good time should be taken off so as to make Sourwine start even on March 25, 1898. That, of course, would give him a credit of twenty-four days.

You also ask with regard to James Gray, alias Joseph St. Clair, alias Mack Kearney, whether the institution has a right to hold him on an unexpired sentence occasioned by his escaping from this institution in 1895.

From your statement it appears that October 19, 1893, he was sentenced to this institution for five years for burglary. May 15, 1895, he escaped, having served one year, six months and twenty-six days, leaving a balance due on said five years' sentence of two years, two months and four days.

It appears that afterward, February 14, 1898, Kearney was sent to the reformatory for from one to three years for petit larceny, and was afterward transferred to the state prison to serve out the remainder of his one to three years' sentence, which will expire February 14, 1901. You ask if you can legally hold him on the unexpired sentence of the first term.

The law provides (R. S. 1894, §1769):

“If any convict confined in the state prison shall escape therefrom, he may be retaken and imprisoned again, notwithstanding the time for which he was sentenced to be imprisoned may have expired when he shall be retaken; and he shall remain so imprisoned until tried for such escape, or until he be discharged on a failure to prosecute therefor."

In Ex parte Clifford, 29 Ind. 106, the supreme court held that where a prisoner escapes, after conviction, and is not retaken until after the expiration of the time for which he was sentenced, he may be held until he has completed the full term for which he was sentenced.

It has been held in this state that, under R. S. 1894, §8214, which says "the term of service and imprisonment of every convict shall commence from the day of his conviction and sentence," where a prisoner is at the same time convicted of two offenses, the punishment for the second can not be made to commence at the expiration of the first sentence, but that the two punishments run concurrently.

Miller v. Allen, 11 Ind. 389;

Kennedy v. Howard, 74 Ind. 87.

In Henderson v. James, 52 Ohio St. 242, it was decided by the supreme court of Ohio that an escaped convict, who is convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for another crime, may, at the expiration of the latter sentence, be held to serve out the remainder of his first sentence.

In that case David Henderson was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary September 18, 1879, for five years. October 12, 1881, he escaped and was at large until March 16, 1891, when he was received at the penitentiary under the name of Carrol Scott, on a five years' sentence. After he had been there some time a deputy warden recognized him, but no action was taken, and he served out his sentence and was discharged July 14, 1894. The warden, having discovered that Scott was Henderson, detained him as the escaped Henderson, and registered him as the returned convict and put him to work out his unexpired sentence. He brought a writ of habeas corpus and asked to be discharged, and the supreme court of Ohio held that this could be done, and that he must serve out the portion of his first sentence.

In the case of Kearney, I advise that it is your duty to release him at the expiration of his second sentence and immediately re-arrest him and detain him in the penitentiary for the unexpired portion of his first sentence.

PRISONS—EXECUTIONS.

February 27, 1901.

Hon. George A. H. Shideler, Warden Indiana State Prison, Michigan City, Ind.:

Dear Sir—Answering your letter of the 25th, in which you ask who, under the law, may witness the execution of a criminal within the walls of the state prison:

Section 6 of the act of March 6, 1889, which provides for the execution of criminals in Indiana, reads as follows:

“Section 6. The following persons may be present at the execution, and none other: The warden and such persons as may be necessary to assist him in conducting the execution, the directors of the prison, two physicians including the prison physician, the spiritual advisers of the condemned, the chaplain of the prison, and any of the relatives or friends of the condemned person, not exceeding ten in number, whom he may request shall be admitted.”

This section is clear and specific and absolutely limits the number of persons who may witness an execution at the prison. You have no right or authority to permit any others than those named by the law to witness the execution.

PRISONS—RETURN OF PRISONER ON REVERSAL OF CONVICTION —EXPENSES.

October 6, 1902.

Hon. Alvin T. Hert, General Superintendent, Jeffersonville, Indiana:

Dear Sir—There is no specific provision in the statute determining who shall pay the expenses of the return of a prisoner to his county, where his case has been reversed by the supreme court.

The statute does say that the person in charge of the prison shall return the prisoner to the county from whence he came, and the necessary inference is that the warden or superintendent of the institution must return such prisoner and charge the same to the maintenance fund of the prison.

This is the opinion I have given to all of the institutions inquiring on the subject.

PRISONS—ERRONEOUS SENTENCE.

Hon. James D. Reid, Warden, Michigan City, Indiana:

Dear Sir—In re the case of Samuel K. Mitchell, submitted to me, it appears from the commitment that said Mitchell was tried, found guilty of grand larceny, and that his age was twenty-seven years. It was adjudged by the court that he be confined by the board of managers of the Indiana reformatory for a term not less than five nor more than ten years, and be disfranchised for a term of ten years. This sentence is an erroneous one.

Section 2006, Burns' R. S. 1901, defining grand larceny and prescribing the punishment therefor, provides that a person convicted of grand larceny shall be imprisoned in the state prison not more than fourteen nor less than one year, and, therefore, under the indeterminate sentence law, his sentence should have been from one to fourteen years.

But the judgment, as rendered in Mitchell's case, is not a void judgment, but an erroneous one. The finding of the court, which is the same as the verdict of the jury, was that he was guilty of grand larceny, and that his age was twenty-seven years. This was a valid finding. The sentence and judgment of the court upon this finding was erroneous, but not void, since the court had jurisdiction of the person and of the subject matter.

Mitchell made no objections to the form of the verdict, and, hence, it must be construed that he waived the same. The judgment being purely an erroneous one, and not a void one, it is good as against a collateral attack, and a habeas corpus proceeding being a collateral attack, your return of the commitment to any writ of habeas corpus would be a sufficient return. Mitchell is legally in your custody, and the papers in your possession are a sufficient defense to a writ of habeas corpus.

PRISONS—ELIGIBILITY OF CONTRACTOR TO OFFICE ON PRISON BOARD.

October 24, 1901.

Hon. Uriah Culbert, Michigan City, Indiana:

Dear Sir—I have received your letter of the 22d inst., in which you ask an opinion respecting your eligibility to hold the office as a member of the board of control of the state prison at Michigan City.

It seems that at the time of your appointment, and for some time thereafter, you owned preferred stock in the J. S. Ford Johnson Company; that this stock had a voting power the same as common stock. It further appears that the J. S. Ford Johnson Company have, and at the time of your appointment had, a contract with the state at the state's prison, made by your predecessors.

That being the case, technically it brings you within the provisions of section 2 of the act of March 8, 1897 (Acts of 1897, p. 241). Under the provisions of this act and the facts stated by you in your request for an opinion, I am of the opinion that you was ineligible to appointment on the board of control of the state's prison at Michigan City.

Permit me to say that your ineligibility arises wholly from the technical construction of the statute, and not from the slightest intentional wrong committed by you as a member of such board.

PRISONS—TERM OF IMPRISONMENT.

March 13, 1902.

Hon. James D. Reid, Warden, Michigan City, Indiana:

Dear Sir—In the case of William Taylor, referred to me by you, in which the judge, in rendering sentence committing him to the Indiana reformatory for burglary, sentenced him for from three to five years, you ask when does his term expire?

Under the statute of this state one convicted of burglary is subjected to a penalty of imprisonment from two to fourteen years. By the reformatory act of 1897 it is provided that in case of conviction of a felony other than treason or murder, the court shall find him guilty of the crime found in such finding or verdict, and that he be confined in prison for a term not less than the minimum time prescribed by the statutes of the state for such offense, and not more than the maximum time prescribed by such statute therefor.

Under these statutes, it is my opinion that where a court enters a judgment of guilty of a felony except treason and murder, the maximum and minimum term prescribed as punishment for such crime must be affixed. If the court fails to do this, the statute nevertheless steps in and becomes a part of such judgment.

Therefore, in the case of William Taylor, his term is from two to fourteen years, notwithstanding the erroneous judgment pronounced by the court affixing the maximum term for a less time.

PRISONS—RETURN OF CONVICTS.

August 22, 1902.

Hon. James D. Reid, Warden Indiana State Prison, Michigan City, Indiana:

Dear Sir—The only statute governing the return of convicts to the county from whence they came, when the case has been reversed by the supreme court, is the one directing you as warden to return them to the county from whence they came, and deliver them to the jailer. There is a statute providing for the payment of costs when convicts are returned to testify in cases; but there is no statute providing for the payment of costs when they are returned pursuant to order of the supreme court on the reversal of a case. Therefore—

First. It is your duty to return a prisoner when the supreme court so orders.

Second. There is no statute requiring the county to compensate you for the expense of such return.

PRISONS—RECAPTURE OF ESCAPED PRISONER.

September 13, 1902.

Hon. James D. Reid, Warden Indiana State Prison, Michigan City, Indiana:

Dear Sir—In your communication of the 9th you state that, on December 4, 1894, one Charles Rivers, alias George West, alias W. W. Williams, was convicted in the Greene circuit court of grand larceny and sentenced to the Indiana reformatory for a period of two years; that on April 12, 1897, he was transferred to the Indiana State prison; that on October 19, 1897, he was taken from said prison to St. Joseph county upon a warrant approved by the governor, for trial on a charge of grand larceny in that county, and was there convicted and sentenced, May 25, 1898, to confinement in the state prison for from one to fourteen years; that on the night of May 25, 1898, he escaped from the St. Joseph county jail; that he was afterward arrested and convicted of a crime in the state of Minnesota, and sentenced to the Stillwater prison; that upon the expiration of his term there on September 6, 1902, he was rearrested by officials from this state and returned to your prison.

Upon this statement of facts, you ask what length of time and under what convictions he should be held in your institution.

Section 1764, Burns R. S. 1901, provides that where a convict in any one of the prisons is under indictment or information for felony, he may be removed to the county where such indictment or information is pending, for trial, upon the warrant of the court of such county. Sections 1765 and 1766 provide how this warrant shall be executed.

Section 1768 provides that if such convict shall be sentenced to imprisonment in the state prison, he shall forthwith be returned thereto by the sheriff, and his term of imprisonment shall begin to run from the expiration of the term for which he was imprisoned at his removal.

Under these sections of the statute, said convict, after his sentence by the St. Joseph circuit court, would have been compelled to serve his term under the sentence of the Greene circuit court before entering upon his term of sentence from the St. Joseph circuit court.

But he escaped before being returned to prison. And, under the authorities, when he was recaptured and returned to the prison, he should begin just where he left off, and should serve his unexpired term under the sentence from the Greene circuit court before entering upon his term of sentence from the St. Joseph circuit court.

This question is clearly settled in the case of Ex parte Clifford, 29 Ind. 106.

It is true that section 1769 provides that when a convict escapes from the state prison he may be returned, notwithstanding the time for which he was sentenced to be imprisoned may have expired when he is retaken, and he shall remain so imprisoned until tried for such escape, or until he be discharged upon a failure to prosecute therefor.

Section 2122, Burns R. S. 1901, provides that whoever, being a convict confined in the state prison, escapes therefrom, upon conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned in the state prison not exceeding double the length of time for which such escaping convict was originally sentenced, to commence from the expiration of the original term of his or her imprisonment.

But in the case of Ex parte Clifford, supra, the supreme court has held that these two latter sections merely define another crime, and provide for its punishment, and that it in no way alters the common law rule that escaping prisoners shall not profit in any way by their escape, and that when such a prisoner is recaptured he must serve out his unexpired term, whether he is tried and convicted for his crime of escape or not.

In this case convict Rivers could be indicted, tried and sentenced for a term of years for the crime of escape, and this term would begin to run after he has served his term under the sentence from the Greene circuit court and the term under the sentence of the St. Joseph circuit court.

PRISONS—WOMAN'S PRISON—DISCHARGE OF CONVICT.

May 1, 1901.

Miss Sarah F. Keeley, Superintendent Indiana Industrial School for Girls and Woman's Prison, Indianapolis, Indiana:

Dear Madam—You state that an inmate who has been confined in the woman's prison for two years under a fixed sentence of three years for larceny is about to be discharged under the act of March 9, 1901, extending the provisions of the act of 1899 to convict women who are serving a fixed term of imprisonment; and you ask whether this convict is entitled to an absolute discharge or to be simply paroled.

If this convict had been sentenced under the indeterminate sentence law, her term would have been from one to three years, and she has served a year longer than her minimum sentence. The general assembly of 1897 passed an indeterminate sentence law which applied to all persons who might be sentenced to the state prison of the age of thirty years or over (Acts 1897, p. 219). The same general assembly passed a similar act with regard to persons under the age of thirty years who were sentenced to the Indiana reformatory (Acts 1897, p. 69). The reformatory act provided that the board of managers might discharge any paroled convict who had been at large for one year and properly conducted himself (Acts 1897, p. 75, §13).

The indeterminate sentence law, however, provided by section 9 (Acts 1897, p. 222) that after the prisoner had been paroled:

“If it shall appear to said board of commissioners that there is a reasonable probability that any prisoner so on parole will live and remain at liberty without violating the law, and that his absolute discharge from imprisonment is not incompatible with the welfare of society, then such board of commissioners shall issue to said prisoner an absolute discharge from imprisonment upon such sentence, and which shall be effective therefor.”

This provision does not require the lapse of a year, but is effective at any time after a prisoner has been paroled, upon application and proper showing.

The act of 1899 does not apply the reformatory law to the woman's prison (Acts 1899, p. 511), but does apply to the indeterminate sentence law, with the proviso that it shall extend to the case of every girl or woman fifteen years of age and over, and the privileges of this act are, by the act of 1901, extended to girls and women serving fixed sentences (Acts 1901, p. 320).

The law, therefore, as applied to your institution is that the board may parole any convict serving a fixed sentence at any time after the expiration of the minimum term for which she would have been sentenced under the indeterminate sentence law, if it had been in effect at the time of her sentence; and that if it appears that there is reasonable probability that any person under such parole will live and remain at liberty without violating the law, and that her absolute discharge from imprisonment is not incompatible with the welfare of society, then the board may issue to her an absolute discharge. The woman of whom you write is entitled to a parole, but not to a discharge. If she properly conducts herself during her parole, she may at any time after it is granted be given an absolute discharge by the board.

WOMEN'S REFORMATORY—TEACHERS.

May 21, 1901.

Mrs. John B. Elam, City:

Dear Madam—Section 38 of the original reformatory act provides that it shall be the duty of your board of managers to provide teachers, and, as far as practicable, instruct the inmates of your institution in reading, writing and arithmetic. There is no provision requiring the teachers to live either inside or outside of the institution. The whole matter is left to your discretion.

I take it, therefore, that you would have full authority to employ teachers from the outside, including teachers in the public schools of this city, making such arrangements with the board and the teachers as shall be satisfactory to your board and economical to the state.

WOMAN'S PRISON—PAROLE OF PRISONERS.

January 9, 1902.

Miss Cora Wilson, Indiana Woman's Prison, Indianapolis, Indiana:

Dear Madam—The general assembly of 1899 passed an act providing that the law with relation to the parole of prisoners at the Indiana reformatory and the Indiana state prison—

“shall apply in the case of every girl or woman fifteen years of age and over hereafter tried for felony in the state of Indiana.”

The law providing for the parole of prisoners, as amended in February, 1899 (Acts 1899, p. 16), provides that, on the discharge of any prisoner from the Indiana reformatory or state prison, the superintendent or warden shall procure for him and deliver to the railroad conductor a railroad ticket to any point to which such prisoner may desire to go, not farther from such prison than the point from which he was sentenced, give him $10.00 in money and a durable suit of clothes, and from the 1st day of November to the 1st day of April an overcoat.

The next section of this law provides as follows:

“It shall be the duty of the superintendent or warden of the respective prisons to furnish to all paroled prisoners the clothing and transportation provided for in section 1 of this act: Provided, however, That when any such paroled prisoner receives his final discharge from such prison, or is away from such Indiana reformatory or Indiana state prison, the provisions of this act shall not apply to such prisoner at the time of final discharge.”

As an act was passed at the same session applying the law of parole to women, the two acts must be construed together; and, as applied to the Indiana woman's prison, it is the duty of the superintendent, at the final discharge of any convict, to purchase her a railroad ticket and provide a durable suit of clothes and give her $10.00 in money, and also, upon the parole of any prisoner, the clothes and the railroad ticket must be provided for the woman paroled. If, however, a paroled prisoner receives a final discharge while away from the woman's prison, no railroad ticket or discharge money or suit of clothes is to be provided, and in the case of a paroled prisoner who is discharged while away from the prison at the expiration of her term of parole, she receives nothing from the prison excepting the clothing and transportation furnished at the time of her parole.

INDIANA STATE NORMAL SCHOOL—FILIPINOS—TUITION.

December 6, 1900.

William H. Armstrong, President Board Trustees Indiana State Normal School:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of the 4th inst., accompanied by copy of the letter of Hon. Fred W. Atkinson, superintendent of public instruction for the Philippine Islands, in which Mr. Atkinson declares it to be the intention of the department of education to send certain Filipinos to the United States for education, special attention being given to the normal school training afforded by the schools of this country.

While the purpose is exceedingly laudable and to be commended, yet, in view of the existing statute of this state, governing the state normal school, I do not see how the tuition can be furnished free to such Filipinos.

Section 1 of the act of December 20, 1865, establishing the state normal school, provides that the object of such establishment was the preparation of teachers for teaching in the common schools of Indiana.

Section 10 of that act (being §6043, R. S. 1894) provides as a requisite to admission to the institution, among other things, a written pledge on the part of the applicant to teach in the common schools of Indiana a period equal to twice the time spent in the normal school as a pupil.

Section 11 provides that tuition in a normal school shall be free to all residents of Indiana, who fulfill the four conditions set forth in the preceding section, and such other conditions as the board may require.

Under the provisions in these three sections, non-residents of Indiana would not be allowed to attend school free of tuition, and therefore, in order that such Filipinos may obtain free tuition in your school the present statute would have to be amended.

FEEBLE-MINDED YOUTH—CUSTODIAL DEPARTMENT FOR GIRLS.

May 29, 1901.

Hon. Alexander Johnson, Superintendent Indiana School for Feeble-Minded Youth, Ft. Wayne, Indiana:

Dear Sir—You ask for the proper construction of House Act 126 of the acts of 1901, relative to your school.

Section 9 of the original act governing your institution, as amended by the act of March 8, 1901, provides that it is the duty of the trustees of said institution to set apart a portion thereof to be known as the "custodial department for adult females." This amended section further requires you to receive such women between the ages of sixteen and forty-five years.

The last section of the act appropriates $40,000 to carry into effect the provisions of the act.

This act was passed on March 8, and on the next day, March 9, the general appropriation act was approved. In the latter act a specific appropriation of $45,000 is made for a custodial cottage.

The custodial cottage referred to in the appropriation bill is the one provided for in the act of March 8 above referred to.

It is evident, therefore, that the legislature did not intend to appropriate $40,000 for carrying into effect the new custodial law and at the same time to appropriate $45,000 for building the cottage two years hence. This, of course, is conditioned on your using the $40,000 in building a custodial cottage.

The custodial department is to be operated and conducted in connection with the present institution. It is not necessary that the building be adjacent or annexed to the present building.

It is my opinion that you can use the $40,000 for adding to one of your present buildings, or constructing a new building in connection with your present institution, any place on the same grounds, and the $40,000 provided for in the act of March 8, supra, shall become immediately available; such $40,000 to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

CLERKS OF TOWNS—INSANITY PROCEEDINGS.

April 26, 1901.

Dr. George F. Edenharter, Superintendent Central Hospital for the Insane, City:

Dear Sir—In your communication of the 25th you ask:

“Have clerks of incorporated towns the power and authority to hear insanity proceedings and commit persons to the insane hospital, and does the filing of an affidavit, as required by section 3210, Burns R. S. 1894, before a town clerk, meet with the requirements of said section?”

Section 3209, Burns R. S. 1894, is as follows:

“All insane persons residing in the state of Indiana, and having a legal settlement in any county therein, shall be entitled to be maintained and to receive medical treatment in the Indiana hospital for the insane, at the expense of the state, subject to the restrictions and limitations hereinafter mentioned: Provided, That before any person alleged to be insane, and not so adjudged, shall be committed to or admitted into any hospital or asylum for the insane in the state of Indiana, the following proceedings shall be had, to wit:

And this provision follows in section 3210:

“A respectable citizen of the proper county shall, upon oath in writing, make a statement before one of the justices of the peace of said county, as fully as possible answering the following interrogatories.”

The act of which said sections 3209 and 3210 are a part was an act of the legislature which went into force September 19, 1881. Sections 3, 4, 6, 7, 8 and 9 were amended by the legislature of 1901. (See acts 1901, p. 529). This act was approved March 11, 1901. In all of these amendments the officer designated to perform the duties therein specified is a justice of the peace.

By the provisions of the act of 1901 concerning town officers (Acts 1901, p. 57), it was provided that the clerk of an incorporated town shall possess all of the powers of a justice of the peace as defined by law.

An insanity proceeding is one of the highest character, as it directly and immediately affects the liberty of the person charged. Statutes of this character must be strictly construed, and the proceeding as defined by law must be strictly followed.

Construing the two acts of the legislature of 1901 together, as we must, it seems clear to me that it was the intention of the legislature that, while town clerks should have the general jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, yet in insanity proceedings, which are neither civil or criminal in a technical sense, the jurisdiction to hear and determine the same should be and remain in the justice of the peace exclusively.

It is, therefore, my opinion that insanity proceedings should be had and held by a justice of the peace exclusively under the provisions of the different insanity acts, and that the town clerk has not the authority and jurisdiction to hear and determine such cases.

INSANITY PROCEEDINGS—MEDICAL ATTENDANT.

February 22, 1902.

Dr. George F. Edenharter, Medical Superintendent, Central Indiana Hospital for the Insane, Indianapolis, Indiana:

Sir—In your communication of the 21st, you ask:

In insanity investigations shall the "medical attendant" appear and make and sign the statement provided for by law as medical attendant, and also appear and make and sign the statement provided for by law as medical examiner?

The acts of 1901 (Acts 1901, p. 529) provides that the justice of the peace, together with two reputable practicing physicians, to be selected by said justice of the peace or judge of the circuit or superior court, shall visit and examine the person alleged to be insane.

It is also provided in said act that the justice shall require the medical attendant, if any, to make on oath a written statement of the medical history and treatment of the given case.

It is then further provided that said justice of the peace shall require the medical examiners, pursuant to the aforesaid examination of the person alleged to be insane, to make on oath a written statement, which statement is set out, and which, among other things, alleges that they have heard all the testimony given in said inquest, and, in their opinion, said person is sane or insane.

In other words, the statement of the medical examiner is in the feature of a verdict rendered by such medical examiners upon the testimony adduced at the hearing before the justice, and is necessarily based, to some extent, upon the statements of the medical attendant, where one appears.

There is no law to prevent a medical attendant—provided he possesses the proper qualifications—from acting as medical examiner, but, in my opinion, it is not the intention of the law that the medical attendant shall appear and make and sign a statement as to the sanity or insanity of the person inquired into, as such medical attendant, and also pass upon such statement and make and render the verdict required of the medical examiner. In other words, the same physician ought not to act in both capacities.

Such a proceeding would be inconsistent with our theory of jurisprudence, and might be fruitful of ill-considered action, as, in such a case, the medical examiner, or judge, would be passing upon his own testimony as a witness. The law throws around every citizen charged with being insane the protection of innocence, and the question of the sanity of a citizen is not a matter to be judged of too lightly, as it not only affects him, but his children and his children's children thereafter.

INSANITY PROCEEDINGS—MEDICAL ATTENDANT.

May 29, 1901.

Dr. S. E. Smith, Medical Superintendent, Richmond, Indiana:

Dear Sir—The purpose of the statute of last winter was to do away with one justice of the peace in all insanity inquests. The old section 3 provided that there should be a respectable physician "other than the medical attendant." The new section simply provides for two examining physicians. The purpose of the law is that the medical attendant, if there is any—and frequently there is not—with the examining physician, shall constitute the examiners, so that the court, or justice of the peace, must name two medical examiners, one of whom may be the medical attendant. By "medical attendant" is not meant the nurse, but a regularly licensed practicing physician.

Therefore answering your questions categorically:

(1) A medical attendant is competent to act as a medical examiner.

(2) The medical attendant should not make the preliminary statement alleging insanity. There is nothing in the statute that prevents him from so doing, but it is bad public policy and ought not to be permitted. and the blanks should state that the preliminary statement should be made by somebody other than the medical attendant.

INSANE SOLDIER—HOSPITAL ATTENDANCE.

June 5, 1902.

J. G. Rogers, Superintendent Northern Hospital, Logansport, Indiana:

Dear Sir—The statute does not provide for exacting pay from patients in the hospitals. It is entirely proper, however, for you to accept compensation in the case to which you refer, such compensation to be a part of the general receipts of the institution, the same as the results of the labor of the patients, if there be such, who could work on the farm of the institution.

The federal government pays to insane soldiers a pension reasonably commensurate with the disability, the purpose being that the soldier may pay for his attendance and keep. It is entirely proper for you to receive from the guardian of such soldier the value of such attendance and keep; in fact, this necessarily results from the United States government regulations.

I advise, therefore, that you accept such compensation as you deem reasonably adequate for the care, attention and keep of the insane soldier, to which you refer.

SHILOH NATIONAL PARK—MONUMENTS.

October 24, 1901.

The Indiana Shiloh Park Commission, State House:

Gentlemen—You ask for a construction of the various provisions of the act of March 11, 1901, relative to the erection of monuments, etc., at the Shiloh National Military Park.

The act provides for proper recognition of nineteen regiments of infantry and two batteries of artillery, and that your commission shall, in an enduring way, locate the places of interest and fitly and permanently commemorate the valor of Indiana soldiery at the battle of Shiloh.

I find the following points in the statute:

First. Twenty-five thousand dollars were appropriated.

Of this sum $4,000, and no more, may be expended for expenses of the commission, as traveling expenses, and for expenses of the governor and of the dedicatory ceremonies, also clerk hire, labor employed, office rent and other necessary expenses.

It is proper to say, first of all, the expenses of your commission, including clerk hire, labor, office rent and other necessary expenses, are to be first paid out of the $4,000. This, of course, includes the expenses of the governor when acting with your commission, and second, the expenses of the dedication.

Second. Twenty-one thousand dollars, and no more, may be expended in monuments and markers. If $21,000 is expended for monuments, nothing can be expended for markers; if $20,000 is expended for monuments, $1,000 may be expended for markers; if $19,000 is expended for monuments, $2,000 may be expended for markers, and so on until $4,000, and no more, may be expended for markers.

This $4,000 may be expended in erecting any kind of markers the board may determine, that shall assist in telling the story of the Indiana regiments on the Shiloh battlefield. This may not only include the nineteen regiments and two batteries above referred to, but any other regiments that may have been on the field immediately before or immediately after the battle, and who assisted in bringing about the result of the battle.

Third. Fifteen thousand dollars of this total appropriation may be expended for the year ending October 1, 1901, and the balance of it for the year ending October 31, at which date all unexpended balance should be turned into the treasury.

Fourth. The limit of life of the commission is determined by order of the governor.

Fifth. All contracts for designs and the erection of monuments should be signed by your president and approved by the governor before the same are effective.

INDIANA STATE SOLDIERS' HOME—EMPLOYES.

November 11, 1901.

General James R. Carnahan, I. S. S. H., City:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of the 8th inst., in which you request an opinion respecting an order for the regulation and management of the medical department of the Indiana State Soldiers' Home; copy of which order you enclose, and which I herewith return.

I suggest three changes therein:

(1) Strike out the words "the exclusive control" in clause 3, and substitute the words "immediate charge."

(2) Strike out the words "the employment of" in line nine, clause 3.

(3) Strike out the words "the appointment or discharge of all nurses shall be made by the surgeon-in-chief, subject to the approval of the commandant and the board of trustees," and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Before any appointment or discharge of any physician, attendant or nurse, made by the commandant, will be approved by the board, the recommendation of the surgeon-in-chief concerning the same shall be submitted to the said board: Provided, That such recommendation shall not be binding upon the board."

These changes will bring the order within the strict letter of the law. The law provides:

(1) That the commandant shall employ these people.

(2) That such employment shall be made only upon the approval of the board.

(3) That the board may adopt rules and regulations for the government of the home.

This rule, as proposed, will be within the statute in all its parts.

INDIANA STATE SOLDIERS' HOME—POWER OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES TO CONTRACT.

June 2, 1902.

General James R. Carnahan, President Board of Trustees I.
S. S. H., City:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of yours of the 28th ult., in which you ask five questions respecting the Soldiers' Home.

I can not answer your questions definitely without more knowledge of the history of the home.

It seems that the land on which the home is situated belonged originally to the Grand Army of the Republic and to Colonel Richard P. DeHart, and that these tracts were deeded to the state.

This opinion is based upon the supposition that none of the franchises referred to in your letter were granted until after the land was deeded to the state.

Now, the lands upon which the various public institutions are located are held in the state and not in the trustees of the institutions. The state alone can convey the same. The trustees have no authority whatever to convey any part of the land so deeded to the state. This has always been my view of the law, although there is no decision upon the question. In other words, it will take an act of the legislature to convey property, and any franchise which amounts to a conveyance of land would have to be granted by the legislature.

On the contrary, a mere naked license to lay tracks and operate a line within the grounds, subject to removal at any time, would be within the authority of the board of trustees. Of course the right to operate omnibus and hack lines would be within the discretion of the board of trustees, because that would not necessitate a taking of any of the lands of the state.

Therefore I answer your questions as follows:

First. The board of trustees has a right to grant a privilege to an individual or corporation to run an electric car, omnibus or automobile line for the conveyance of passengers to and from the grounds of the State Soldiers' Home.

This franchise, of course, is terminable at any time by the state, and it should be so expressed in every franchise granted.

Second. The board of trustees has authority to adopt rules and regulations for any person entering the grounds of the institution, whether as common carrier or otherwise, and to exclude any common carrier therefrom.

Third. The board of trustees, if it has a contract with any carrier or persons, may enforce such contract; if it has no contract, then it has no right to compel an electric car company which has abandoned a line to rebuild or replace the abandoned portion of the line. It all depends upon the contract you have with such carrying line or company.

Fourth. If an electric railroad has constructed a line upon the grounds of the Soldiers' Home without permission, the fault is with the board of trustees. Of course, if there is no permission the line can be taken up by the state and ejected from the grounds. The state, of course, has absolute control of its grounds; they are not public grounds, nor can they be taken by condemnation proceedings.

I can not conceive how a street railway company can lay its tracks on the state's grounds in the presence of the board of trustees without any authority whatever and continue to operate the same if the board of trustees have been doing their duty. Certainly no electric company or other public carrier should be permitted upon the grounds without a distinct contract in writing, one of the conditions of which should be the right at any time to eject the carrying line from the grounds whenever the state desires it.

The state has as much interest as the company in having transportation facilities. Nevertheless, a contract carefully drawn ought to be made with every such carrying company.

The above answers will answer your fifth question. If the company entered upon the grounds and was permitted to operate, and no contract is made for damages, when they leave the grounds or are rejected from the grounds I do not know how you could proceed to collect damages. All of these things should be covered by the contract.

TEN-DOLLAR APPLICATION FEE.

January 15, 1901.

Dr. William F. Curryer, Secretary State Board of Medical Registration and Examination, City:

Dear Sir—I do not find in the statute any authority to return to applicants for license the $10.00 which the statute says shall be paid to your board at the time the applicant files his application. The law seems to contemplate that this is necessary to authorize the board to take jurisdiction of the matter, and to pay for the examination and expense incident thereto. The expense would be just the same to the state to cause the examination of an applicant and reject him that it would to examine him and approve his application.

If it is the best policy to return the money of the applicant, either when his application is rejected or he withdraws the same, then the statute ought to be amended at once.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLAR EXAMINATION FEE.

September 24, 1901.

Dr. W. F. Curryer, Secretary State Board of Medical Registration and Examination:

Dear Sir—You ask if an applicant has paid the $25.00 required by law for an examination, prior to the examination, and then declines to be examined, if he is entitled to have the fees paid in advance refunded.

I find no provision in the law authorizing a refunder of any fees paid by an applicant for examination, and I am of opinion that after the fee for an examination has been paid it belongs to the state, and can not be repaid by the board.

JURISDICTION OF TOWNS AND CITIES IN HEALTH MATTERS.

August 20, 1901.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, Secretary State Board of Health:

Sir—In answer to your question as to how far beyond the corporation lines cities and towns have jurisdiction in health matters, I have to say that in the case of the cities under special charters, namely, Indianapolis, Evansville, Ft. Wayne, Terre Haute and South Bend, the same provision is made. These cities have an extra territorial jurisdiction of ten miles from the corporate limits

“to authorize the cleaning and purification of water and water courses by the board of public works, to prevent encroachment or injury to the bank thereof, or the casting into the same of offal, dead animals, logs, rubbish, dirt or impure liquids of any kind whatever.”

For other purposes of the board of health extra territorial jurisdiction of these cities is four miles. For all other cities in the state the extra territorial jurisdiction for health is two miles. I can find no provision in the statutes giving towns any extra territorial jurisdiction whatsoever.

QUARANTINE ON ISLAND IN WABASH RIVER.

July 29, 1901.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, Secretary State Board of Health:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your inquiry respecting the payment of the expenses of establishing a quarantine and suppressing smallpox in a camp on an island in the Wabash river, between Parke and Vermillion counties.

Section 2 of the act of February 7, 1899, amending section 8 of the act of 1891, defines the powers and duties of the county boards of health. It makes it the duty of such boards to “protect the public health by the removal of causes of diseases when known, and in all cases to take prompt action to arrest the spread of contagious and infectious diseases,” etc.

Their jurisdiction is not strictly limited to the county. It is entirely proper for the county commissioners of both Parke and Vermillion counties to stamp out smallpox even though it be on an island in the Wabash, that is “no man’s land.” Smallpox will kill just the same on “no man’s land” as in somebody’s palace.

I advise that you recommend to the county commissioners of Parke and Vermillion counties that they divide the expense occasioned by establishing a quarantine and suppressing smallpox. If Parke county then refuses to pay her share, it is then the duty of Vermillion county to pay the entire expense, as her health officers had authority to contract the indebtedness.

QUARANTINE—LIABILITY FOR EXPENSES.

December 17, 1901.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, Secretary State Board of Health:

Dear Sir—You state that the health law of 1899 requires that all health boards “shall take prompt action to arrest the spread of infectious and contagious diseases,” and that it also empowers the state board of health to pass rules for the enforcement of the act. You say that the present rules require that infectious diseases, like smallpox, shall be quarantined by health officers, and that the quarantine is obviously for the benefit of the people, not for the afflicted persons, and you ask: “When a person is quarantined on account of smallpox or other dangerous transmissible diseases, is not respectively the town, if in a town, the city, if in a city, the county, if without city and town boundaries, liable for all reasonable expenses necessary for maintaining the quarantine?”

As a general proposition, wherever a municipal officer is required by law to discharge a particular duty on behalf of the municipality he represents, that corporation is liable for the expense necessarily incurred in the performance of the act.

It would be idle to empower a county, city or town board of health to establish quarantine for the purpose of the protection of the public health, were not some provision made for bearing the necessary expense of the quarantine.

It is undoubtedly the duty of the public to provide for the indigent, as well as to protect itself from contagious diseases, and the fact that a person who is not a pauper is afflicted with a contagious disease, does not cast upon the public the entire charge and expense of the treatment of the disease. Only so much of this expense is cast upon the public as is necessary for its own protection. Beyond this, whatever is required for the patient should be borne by himself, if his circumstances justify it.

Generally, only the expenses necessary for the protection of the public, where a quarantine is enforced, should be borne by the public, and inasmuch as it is extremely difficult to establish any general rule as to what expenses are required solely for the protection of the public, and what are solely for the protection and benefit of the patient, it would be, in all cases, wise for the health officers in establishing and enforcing quarantine to arrange, in the case of counties, with the board of county commissioners, and, in the case of other municipalities, with the proper fiscal officers, in advance of the expenditures as to what funds might be required for the protection of the public.

I refer you to the case of Board of Commissioners of Jay County v. Fertich, 18 Ind. App. 1, which discusses this proposition at some length.

RULES OF STATE BOARD OF HEALTH—PUBLICATION OF IN COUNTIES.

April 29, 1902.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, Secretary State Board of Health:

Dear Sir—I have to answer the questions contained in your letter of March 27th, as follows:

(1) The health law passed in 1899 makes it obligatory upon county commissioners to promulgate the rules of the state board of health by publishing them in local papers. In Grant county the commissioners are anxious to conform to the law, but the county council will not appropriate the money necessary to fulfill the law. What steps should be taken under such conditions?

The act of 1899, amendatory of the board of health law, provides that the state board of health shall promulgate its rules by sending copy of the same to the secretary of the county board of health, "and the commissioners of said county shall cause such rules to be published for two consecutive issues of two weekly newspapers, representing the two dominant political parties of said county, if such papers be published." (R. S. 1901, §6715.)

It thus appears that there is a plain statutory duty imposed upon the county commissioners by the act of 1899, to publish the rules of the state board of health. It appears that the county council has not appropriated the money necessary to fulfill the law. Unless such appropriation be made, the county commissioners, of course, have no power to make the publication required by law.

Section 25 of the county reform law provides that no board of county commissioners shall have power to bind the county by any contract or agreement, or in any other way to any extent, beyond the amount of money at the time already appropriated by ordinance for the purpose of the obligation attempted to be incurred, and all contracts and agreements, express or implied, and all obligations of any and every sort, beyond such existing appropriations, are declared to be absolutely void. (R. S. 1901, §5594-c-l.)

The county reform law also provides that estimates shall be filed with the county council at its annual meeting of all county expenses for which appropriations must be made, but that by a three-fourths vote of the council, and not otherwise, an appropriation may be made for an item not contained in any estimate. (R. S. 1901, §5594-z.)

It is quite probable that in the case of which you speak no estimate was filed for the expense of promulgating the rules of the state board of health, with the Grant county council, and it is certain that no appropriation was made. Where no appropriation has been made the law provides that “If at any time after the adjournment of the regular annual meeting in September, an emergency should arise for further appropriations, for any purpose for which the council is authorized to appropriate by this act, such further appropriations may be made at a special meeting of the council, on estimates prepared and presented as hereinabove provided by an ordinance passed by at least a two-thirds vote of all the members of the council and not otherwise.”

An appropriation can therefore be made at this time only as provided in the section last quoted, and it would probably be expedient to have estimates prepared and submitted at a special meeting, although it would be possible, by a three-fourths vote, to make an appropriation without estimates.

Whether the county council could be compelled to appropriate is a question which the supreme court has not yet decided. In four different cases which have been before the supreme court, attempts have been made to mandate county councils to make appropriations, and in every instance these attempts have been unsuccessful, although the court has not gone so far as to say that an appropriation, in the discharge of a plain statutory duty, could not be compelled by mandamus.

The question is one which is very doubtful, and without the authority of the supreme court I could not say that mandamus would lie; however, I can think of no other possible remedy, and am inclined to think that rather than see the law fail, the courts would grant this very extraordinary remedy.

I do not believe, however, that where a plain case of duty is presented to a board of responsible citizens, such as make up the county councils of the state, they would be so blind to their oaths as to make it necessary to proceed against them in the courts.

(2) Smallpox is now epidemic in Grant county and the health officer announces himself as helpless to stop the spread of infection because the county council refuses to appropriate the money which is necessary to accomplish the work. The county board of health composed, as you know ex-officio of the county commissioners, is willing on its part, to fulfill the demands of the law. What steps are to be taken to enable the health authorities to enforce the statute, which seems in this instance to be entirely nullified by the county council?

In this case I would suggest that a special meeting of the county council be called, and that, in view of the emergency, estimates be prepared and submitted to them, and that if no appropriation is made, proceedings be instituted against them by the county commissioners through the county attorney to compel an appropriation, by mandamus.

(3) Will it be illegal for the county board of health to proceed to enforce the law which says: "It shall be their duty to take prompt action to arrest the spread of infectious and contagious diseases." Or will it be necessary for the board to first procure an appropriation from the county council before the commands of the law can be fulfilled?

In this case the same procedure should be followed as in the previous one.

SALARY OF CUSTODIAN OF STATE MUSEUM.

April 17, 1901.

Hon. W. S. Blatchley, State Geologist:

Dear Sir—You ask whether the auditor of state is authorized to pay the salary of the custodian of the state museum, appointed by you under the act of the general assembly of 1901, known as the general appropriation act.

The provision of the last named act which directly affects this question is item 10, and is as follows:

“The state geologist to appoint a messenger and custodian of the museum, at a salary not to exceed six hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the funds for assistants appropriated to the custodian of public buildings, payable monthly at the rate of fifty dollars per month, the provisions for this appointment and for such salary to take effect on and after April 1st, 1901.”

Section 7785, Burns R. S. 1894, provides the maximum number of janitors and assistants the custodian may employ, and the maximum compensation they shall receive, and is as follows:

“The regular force in and about the buildings and grounds to be employed by said custodian shall consist of not more than fifteen janitors or laborers, two day watchmen and one night watchman. The compensation shall not exceed, viz.: The janitors or laborers shall not receive more than fifty dollars per month, day watchmen shall not receive more than fifty dollars per month, night watchmen shall not receive more than fifty-five dollars per month, and for any extra labor required at the lowest cost attainable for such service as is required.”

In the appropriation act of 1899, the appropriations for the custodian are found under item 12 on page 521 of the acts of 1899, which is as follows:

“For the salary of the custodian of public buildings and property, the sum of fifteen hundred dollars; for the salary of the state house engineer, fifteen hundred dollars; for the salary of the assistants to the custodian, eleven thousand dollars.”

The provision for the pay of assistants to the custodian in the act of 1901 is as follows:

“For the salary of the custodian of public buildings and property, fifteen hundred dollars; for the salary of assistants to the custodian, twelve thousand and three hundred dollars.”

It will be observed that under the provisions of section 7785, Burns R. S. 1894, the number of janitors may be less than fifteen but can not exceed that number; the number of day watchmen may be less than two but can not exceed that number; the pay of such janitors and day watchmen may be less than but can not exceed $50.00 per month. The number and compensation fixed are the maximum figures. It will also be observed that under the appropriation act of 1899 the amount appropriated is a lump sum, and does not designate the number to which it shall be applied or the amount to each. The same is true of the appropriation act of 1901.

The act of 1901 providing for the appointment by the state geologist of a messenger and custodian is a valid and binding law, and is the last expression of the legislature upon this question. It must, therefore, be observed.

Therefore, it is my opinion that, on April 1, 1901, you had authority to appoint a messenger and custodian of the state museum, and that he should be paid a compensation not exceeding $600.00 per annum out of the appropriation made for the pay of assistants to the custodian of public buildings by the act of 1899 up to November 1, 1901, and that on and after that date such compensation shall be paid out of the fund appropriated for pay of assistants to the custodian by the act of the general assembly of 1901.

USE OF COMPRESSORS OR PUMPS TO INCREASE FLOW OF NATURAL GAS.

July 13, 1901.

Hon. W. S. Blatchley, State Geologist:

Dear Sir—Answering yours of yesterday with reference to the affidavit of Fremont Wilson, civil engineer, and accompanied by the letter of Paul Brown, president of the Chicago, Indiana & Eastern Railway Company and the letter of J. C. Leach, natural gas inspector, which contains this inquiry:

“Is it unlawful to use compressors or pumps, so-called, that have the effect to increase the flow of natural gas in the mains?”

The act of 1891 clearly and distinctly answers this question in the affirmative.

The supreme court of Indiana, in the case of the Manufacturers' Gas and Oil Company v. The Indiana Natural Gas and Oil Company, 58 N. E. 851, construes so much of the act of 1891 as relates to the pressure exceeding three hundred pounds per square inch in the pipes and mains transporting natural gas.

And the supreme court of Indiana, on January 9th of this year, in the case of Manufacturers' Gas and Oil Company v. the Indiana Natural Gas Company, 59 N. E., p. 169, construes so much of the act of 1891 as prohibits the transportation of natural gas through pipes at a pressure in excess of the natural rock pressure, or by devices for pumping or other artificial means or appliances that shall have the effect of increasing the natural flow of natural gas from the well.

Both of these cases sustain the law.

NATURAL GAS AS POWER TO PROPEL STEAM ENGINES.

October 24, 1901.

Hon. W. S. Blatchley, State Geologist:

Dear Sir—You ask:

“First. Is it unlawful to use natural gas as a power with which to propel steam engines instead of using steam? Heaters or gas is used to heat the gas before it is used; in many cases it is simply a large open fireplace.”

“Second. Can we control the size of those heaters or fires?”

Your inquiry goes to the question of using gas as a power, and not as a fuel, and after passing through the cylinder, then to escape into the open air unburned.

The act of March 4, 1893, was intended to prohibit the escape of natural gas into the open air. Section 1 of that act makes it unlawful for any one having possession or control of any natural gas or oil well, either as contractor, owner, lessee, agent or manager, to allow or permit the flow of gas or oil from any such well to escape into the open air for a longer period than two days after gas or oil has been struck without confining such gas in some proper pipe or safe receptacle. The statute then provides:

“And thereafter all such gas or oil shall be safely and securely confined in such wells, pipes or other safe and proper receptacles.”

Section 1 of the act of March 2, 1891, prohibits the use of flambeau lights.

If the gas is burned after it gets through the cylinder of the engine, it is a flambeau, and comes under the act of March 2, 1891; and if it is not burned it would be a waste of gas under the act of March 4, 1893, and would fail to comply with the statute which requires the gas to be safely and securely confined in the wells, pipes or other safe and proper receptacles. The gas is entirely wasted, except what use there is made of it to run the engine. Many times as much gas might go through the cylinder of an engine as is necessary to run the engine. In fact, a whole pipe-line of gas could be wasted through the cylinder of an old engine, ostensibly for the purpose of running the engine, but in reality as a convenient way of getting rid of the gas.

I do not hold that it would be a waste of gas if the gas was used to make steam to run the engine. Your inspector reports that it requires much more gas to run a steam engine in this manner than it would to convert water into steam to run the same engine, and that the amount required depends upon the condition of the engine.

This is conclusive to my mind that the use of gas through the cylinder of an engine, as a power, is within the condemnation of the statute.

ESCAPE OF NATURAL GAS OR OIL.

December 17, 1901.

Hon. W. S. Blatchley, State Geologist:

Dear Sir—You ask a construction of the act of March 4, 1893 (R. S. 1894, §7510), which provides that—

“It shall be unlawful for any person * * * to allow or permit the flow of gas or oil from any such well to escape into the open air * * * for a longer period than two days next after gas or oil shall have been struck in such well.”

You ask—

First. “Is the two days spoken of in the law the time allowed to close a well after the drilling has been completed, or is it to govern the depth of the well after the first gas is struck?”

In construing a law, the first object is to so construe it that it may effectuate, if possible, the intention of the legislature in its passage. The supreme court, in construing this section, in State v. Ohio Oil Company, 150 Ind., on page 33, say:

“We have no doubt from the language of the act and the circumstances surrounding its enactment, that the chief object in the passage thereof was to prevent the waste of natural gas.”

It appears from the statement of the natural gas inspector that in places in the gas district “a very little gas is found at from fifteen to thirty feet in the sand. At one hundred feet a second gas sand is found in some places.”

If the gas coming from this gas sand is so limited in quantity or poor in quality as to be unprofitable and practically useless, I do not think that the act contemplates that it should be protected.

The purpose of the act was the preservation of gas for use, and not purely as a matter of sentiment; but, the purpose of the act being, as the supreme court has said, "to preserve the gas," it makes no difference, in my opinion, whether the well in process of drilling is intended as a gas or an oil well. If gas is struck in profitable quantities—that is to say, in such quantities as to be worth saving—it must be confined within two days after the gas has been struck in the well. This is the exact language of the statute.

The statute does not say that the gas must be confined within two days after drilling has ceased, but after the gas has been struck, and this means not after the first faint odor of gas shall have escaped from the well, but after the first flow of gas appears in sufficient quantities to be of service.

If the construction were to be placed upon the law that the well need not be closed until after the drilling was completed, it would be possible, under color of the law, to waste all the gas in the gas reservoirs of the state by continuing a slow process of drilling in search of oil reservoirs supposed to be beneath the gas.

It is, therefore, my opinion that the well must be closed and the gas confined within two days after the first forcible flow of gas has been struck.

Second. "When shall the supervisor begin to count the two days?"

I answer: At the time the first profitable flow of gas appears from the well.

Third. "Does the law apply to gas and oil wells alike?"

The law itself expressly provides that it applies to both gas and oil wells.

DUTIES OF NATURAL GAS SUPERVISOR.

November 8, 1900.

Hon. J. C. Leach, Natural Gas Supervisor, Kokomo, Indiana:

Dear Sir—Answering your letter of the 27th ult., respecting your duties as natural gas supervisor.

You do not have the power to appoint deputies, but you may hire a person or persons to assist you in the discharge of your duties, simply reporting to you their observations, without authority to act in your stead or for you, just as I understand you have been doing in the gas field where the compensation is paid by persons interested in the preservation of gas, provided those interested in the preservation of the gas will pay for the employment of these men, there being no fund available for you to pay same.

It is your duty to see to the enforcement of laws respecting the drilling of natural gas wells and the piping and pumping of natural gas, and you have authority to use all reasonable means necessary to see that such laws are enforced. It is your duty, as the statute provides, to see that the penalties are imposed on those who fail to obey these laws.

I can not tell what kind of force is needed or will be needed by you to enforce the laws; that is a matter for you to determine; but it is your duty and you have the power to see to it that the police regulations for the protection and preservation of natural gas are enforced. The law distinctly provides the penalties for its violation.

The question whether pumping stations do increase the flow of natural gas is now being fought out in the courts, and that question you are not called upon to determine.

You have the undoubted right to go, at any time, without warning, into any pumping station and examine the method of pumping, to see the plan of construction of the building, and see if in the pipe lines conveying natural gas the pressure is greater than provided by law.

The state of Indiana is not taking sides in any law suit pending between parties; it is simply enforcing the laws which it finds on the statute, and you are charged with the duty of ascertaining if such laws are enforced, and you have the right to use any reasonable means to ascertain that fact. What such reasonable means are is to be determined by you, under the circumstances of each case as it is presented, using, of course, such means as would interfere least with the operations of the company, but at the same time would result in clearly ascertaining, without question, whether all of such laws are being complied with.

PLUGGING OF ABANDONED GAS OR OIL WELLS.

July 13, 1901.

Hon. J. C. Leach, Natural Gas Inspector, Kokomo, Indiana:

Dear Sir—Answering your favor relative to the plugging of abandoned gas and oil wells, in which you ask if the land owner is required to plug abandoned wells drilled on his farm.

Section 2 of the act of March 18, 1893, answers this question clearly, in the affirmative. It says:

“It shall be the duty of any person, firm or corporation having the custody or control of such well, at the time of such abandonment or cessation of use, and also of the owner or owners of the land wherein such well is situated, to properly and securely stop and plug the same as follows”—(Here it describes the method of plugging abandoned wells.)

PLUGGING OF ABANDONED GAS OR OIL WELLS.

May 16, 1902.

Hon. J. C. Leach, Kokomo, Indiana:

Dear Sir—In answer to your two letters of May 15, 1902, I have to say that where a well was leased many years ago to the Natural Gas and Oil Company, and was operated for a time for natural gas, and finally ceased to produce gas and the land owner demanded cancellation of the lease, and the lease was cancelled and the well plugged, and many years after, when the property had descended to the grandchildren of the then owner, gas began to leak from the well in such quantities as to be a nuisance, the present owner or owners of the land in which the well was originally bored (being in this case the grandchildren of the then owner), are responsible under the law (R. S. 1901, §7511), and may be compelled properly and securely to stop and plug the well, under that provision of the law.

You will notice that this section requires this of the “owner or owners of the land wherein such well is situated,” and that this requirement is continuous whenever the well shall prove to be insufficiently plugged.

It would be useless to proceed against the gas company, as it has ceased to use the well for nine years, which is beyond the statute of limitations, and, therefore, the sole duty of keeping the well plugged devolves upon the owners of the land, under the terms of the statute, and if they refuse to plug the well, they can be prosecuted under the law, R. S. 1901, §7512; or the expense of plugging by the proper officer can be recovered under section 7514.

COMPENSATION AND DEPUTIES OF FISH COMMISSIONER.

January 2, 1901.

Hon. Z. T. Sweeney, Fish Commissioner, Columbus, Indiana:

Dear Sir—Answering yours of the 29th ult. and the 1st inst.

The fish commissioner law of February 13, 1899, is very plain and specific. Section 7 allows you $1,200.00 salary, to be paid out of the state treasury, and $1,200.00 per annum for traveling and office expenses, and that this shall be all the compensation you are to receive from the state.

Section 2 provides that you may appoint a deputy or deputies in any county in the state, and that such deputy shall receive no other compensation than that provided in section 7 of said law. Section 7 of said law provides that upon a plea of guilty or a conviction of the defendant, a fee of $10.00 shall be taxed for the commissioner in addition to the fees allowed the prosecuting attorney, and this $10.00 fee shall be a part of the costs, and that it shall be used in paying your deputies. In other words, you are to pay this $10.00 fee to the deputy and this shall be in full of his services.

The theory of the law is that the diligent deputy shall be paid the $10.00 fee for the conviction of violators of the law, and not that that $10.00 is to be divided up with other deputies who are not so diligent.

compensation than that provided in section 7 of said law. Section

All of the license fees for seines are to be paid to you and by you into the state treasury.

DEPUTIES OF FISH COMMISSIONER.

April 6, 1901.

Hon. Z. T. Sweeney, Commissioner of Fisheries and Game, Columbus, Indiana:

Dear Sir—I have examined your blank forms, and can see nothing objectionable in them and know of nothing to add to strengthen them.

It is my opinion that the new law repeals the act of 1899 in so far as it relates to the appointment of deputies. The new law gives you full power to appoint deputies as you need them, subject to the restrictions as to compensation in section 15 of the game law, which restrictions you have inserted in your blank contract submitted to me. Under the law your deputies were not appointed for any definite time. By the passage of this law it is my opinion their tenure of office would cease. I would suggest that it would be better to reappoint all of those you desire, and notify the others that, by reason of the change in the law, their positions as deputies have terminated.

$20 FEE IN CASES FILED BY FISH COMMISSIONER.

June 26, 1901.

Hon. Z. T. Sweeney, Columbus, Indiana:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letters respecting the fish law.

Section 11 of the new fish law is as plain as language can make it, and provides exactly what sums shall be paid by the county treasurers throughout the state, and it is impossible to give any opinion that will clear the language of the law.

That section provides that the fee of $20.00 shall be paid as a part of the costs "in all cases filed by, or that have been caused to be filed by, the commissioner of fisheries and game." The purpose of that section was that the $20.00 fee should not be added where the convictions resulted from cases brought by other persons than yourself, or under your direction; in other words, that neither you nor your deputy could get the benefit of any $20.00 fee unless you produced such fee by some work of your own.

You are authorized by statute to appoint deputies under certain contingencies provided by law. If cases are filed by you or if you have caused them to be filed (and by this is meant you have personally directed the filing thereof), then the $20.00 fee may be added.

PROSECUTION OF HUNTERS WHO GO UPON ENCLOSED LANDS.

November 12, 1901.

Hon. Z. T. Sweeney, Columbus, Indiana:

Dear Sir—Respecting the prosecution of hunters who go upon enclosed lands:

The game law of 1901 has two primary objects: First, the protection of farmers, and, second, the preservation of game. The game is preserved by defining a hunting season, and by prohibiting non-residents to hunt in the state without a license, and in other ways. The farmer is protected by requiring written permission for hunters to hunt upon enclosed lands.

The only matter intended to be covered by my letter to you of the 9th inst. is prosecutions for hunting upon enclosed lands; and I desire that this letter shall take the place of that letter, for that letter seems to have been misunderstood in some parts of the state, and that my letter of the 9th inst. shall be cancelled.

Section 2220, Burns R. S. 1894, contains the following proviso:

“Provided, That no prosecutions shall be instituted under the provisions of this section, except upon the consent of the owner of the land.”

That clause of the hunting law is not specifically repealed by the game law of March 11, 1901, and it is a question, therefore, if that proviso is repealed.

It would seem, therefore, that it is with the farmer to determine whether one who hunts on his land without a written permit shall be prosecuted. Primarily, one who hunts upon the enclosed land of another without a written permit is a trespasser and can be prosecuted; but the law was passed for the protection of the farmer, and if he does not desire such prosecution to be had, the state should not insist upon such prosecution.

The penalties in the law are severe, and the farmer and land owner are very properly and very justly protected against indiscriminate and wanton hunting.

MEANING OF WORD "TRACT" IN FOREST RESERVATION LAW, ETC.

July 7, 1902.

W. H. Freeman, Esq., Secretary State Board of Forestry:

Dear Sir—I shall answer your questions categorically:

(1) Does the word "tract" in the forest reservation law refer to and mean the owner's land area in contiguity, or does it mean the amount of land area specified in a single deed?

Answer. There is nothing whatever in the act which shows any intention to limit the word "tract" to the amount of land conveyed in one deed. Supposing, for instance, that a man owns a section of land which has been conveyed to him in separate parcels by different grantors; his six hundred and forty acres would unquestionably be a tract of land, and just as fully a tract of land, according to the common definition of that word, as would any portion of it which might have been conveyed to him at a different time from the rest. The fact that the statute says any tract, would indicate that the legislature had in mind granting permission to the owner to select any part of his land for the purpose of a forest reservation, and that the part selected by him would be a tract, within the meaning of the legislature.

I do not think the legislature had in mind anything further than the ownership of the land at the time the reservation was selected. It would certainly be a forced construction to require the auditor and owner in the matter of forest reservations to go into the previous history of the title to the land.

It is my opinion that in selecting one-eighth of certain land as a forest reservation, the owner may take one-eighth out of any part of a farm whose parts are so contiguous to each other as to constitute a tract, within the common meaning of that term.

(2) How shall the land be separated to form an acre of area?

Answer. I do not think the act requires the land to be separated into separate acres. It permits a portion not to exceed one-eighth of the total area to be selected by the owner.

In my opinion this portion may be in such shape as the owner selects, so long as it is composed of contiguous land, and so long as the number of acres in the portion selected shall not exceed one-eighth of the whole amount of the acreage of the tract.

I do not think the law contemplates a division of the land into strips, because the owner is only allowed to select one portion of the land, and that portion clearly must be of territory that is contiguous. In other words, the owner of the land can run the boundary of his reservation wherever he likes, so long as the boundary line takes in all the land that he reserves, and no portion within the boundary is excluded from the reservation.

As the owner is to select the portion, he, of course, is to say what is selected. On each acre of land selected, however, there must be at least one hundred and seventy trees of the varieties named in the law.

(3) Will stock accidentally breaking in bar the exemption in section 5?

Answer. No.

(4) Shall natural forest trees not mentioned in the law be taken into account in making up the requisite number?

Answer. No.

(5) Could the term "tract" refer to timber land only and not to agricultural land as well?

Answer. The term "tract" refers to the entire land, whether clear or wooded, from which the reservation is taken.

RIGHT OF STATE LIBRARIAN TO VOTE AS MEMBER OF COMMISSION, ETC.

September 20, 1902.

Hon. W. E. Henry, Librarian, State House:

Dear Sir—In your communication of the 18th you ask:

"First. Under the library act of 1899 (Acts of 1899, page 134) is the state librarian a voting member of the commission, or merely a recording and executive clerk, to record and execute the commands of the commission?"

By section 1 of said act it is provided that "The state librarian shall be ex-officio secretary of such commission."

Under this provision he is not a member of the commission, but the secretary or recording officer of the same.

"Second. Is there a conflict between section 2, which provides as follows: 'Said public library commission shall have control and management of the traveling libraries,' etc., and section 3, which provides as follows: 'The books so purchased shall be in the care of the state librarian,' etc.?"

By section 2 of said act it is provided that

"Said public library commission shall have the control and management of the traveling libraries hereinafter provided for; shall purchase the books and collection of books therefor, and equipment for the same; shall adopt rules and regulations for loaning such books and collection of books to library associations and to persons entitled to borrow the same," etc.

From this section it clearly appears that the library commission has full control of the library. By section 3 it is provided, among other things, that "Books so purchased shall be in the care of the state librarian, but shall be kept separate from the other books of the said library."

By this provision the custody and keeping of the books is placed in the state librarian. There is no conflict between the two sections. The commission has the control and management of the books, and the librarian the care and custody. In other words, the librarian is the custodian under the supervision and direction of the library commission.

"Third. In section 2, a biennial report is provided for, which shall set forth the workings of the traveling library.

Is it not apparent that this report is to be included in and supplementary to the state librarian's biennial report, or is it to be a separate report, made by the commission, as such?"

Section 2 of said act provides, among other things:

"The public library commission shall keep a complete record of library associations and other organizations and persons entitled to borrow books of such traveling library, of all transactions therewith, and he shall include in his biennial report a summary of the facts of public interest and value in relation thereto."

There is no provision anywhere directing the library commission to make a biennial report. There is a statute providing that the librarian shall make a biennial report to the legislature.

Construing the whole statute together it is my opinion that it was the intention of the legislature to provide that this report should be included in the biennial report of the state librarian.

CUSTODIAN OF MUSEUM NOT INCLUDED IN "FIFTEEN" JANITORS APPOINTED BY CUSTODIAN.

August 8, 1901.

Maj. George W. Krietenstein, Custodian State House:

Dear Sir—You ask if the messenger and custodian of the museum, provided for in item 10 of the appropriation act of 1901 (Acts 1901, p. 381) is to be counted in the "fifteen" janitors which the statute permits you to appoint to take care of the state house and grounds.

Clearly the act of 1901 makes this messenger and custodian of the museum an appointee of the state geologist and not your appointee at all. The statute fixing the number of your appointees at fifteen embraces only those whom you appoint. This messenger and custodian, to be appointed by the state geologist, therefore, is outside of the fifteen whom you are authorized to appoint.
